“Extending the knowledge of the glory of God in Christ until that knowledge covers the earth as the waters cover the sea”

from Westminster’s Mission Statement
From the President

I am delighted to introduce you to Westminster Theological Seminary! I trust that the following pages will provide the information you need to consider thoughtfully and prayerfully if God would have you study here at Westminster.

We are a thriving community of professors and students seeking to understand the meaning of Scripture and to apply it to all areas of life. That’s why we have three emphases. First, we believe that Reformed theology, as defined by the Westminster Standards, most accurately represents the teachings of Scripture; therefore, we are unashamedly committed to historic, Reformed Christianity. Second, proper interpretation of Scripture requires careful scholarship; therefore, we are solidly committed to academic excellence. Third, genuine and effective gospel service requires a heart of love and devotion to Christ; therefore, we are deeply committed to spiritual formation.

With these emphases at the core, we offer a variety of degree programs to train men for ordained ministry and men and women for gospel service. Our graduates serve all over the world as pastors, professors, missionaries, counselors, doctors, translators, writers, church planters, and in many other capacities. As a community we are grateful for the privilege of being used by God in the training of these men and women who are now “extending the knowledge of the glory of God in Christ until that knowledge covers the earth as the waters cover the sea.”

I invite you to join our more than 750 current students from around the globe, as well as our alumni who are serving in over 60 countries. We would love to help prepare you for a life of Christian service!

Sincerely in His grace,

Peter A. Lillback
President

About Westminster

Our Mission

Westminster Theological Seminary exists to “extend the knowledge of the glory of God in Christ until that knowledge covers the earth as the waters cover the sea” (see Habakkuk 2:14). We offer graduate-level theological education at our Philadelphia and Texas campuses and through programs of study in New York City and London.

Our specific mission is to support the church in its mandate to equip the saints for ministry. We pursue this mission in three ways. First, we seek to form men for ordained gospel ministry as pastors, teachers, evangelists, missionaries, and other tasks specified by the church. Second, we seek to train men and women to serve Christ in kingdom ministries other than those that require ordination. Third, we seek to serve as a center for Christian research and scholarship and to communicate the fruits of our labors to the church and the world.

Core Values

In the pursuit of our mission, we hold to the following core values:

- The triune God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, is worthy of the worship of all people in all places of his dominion, and this fact must be the fundamental motive for every human activity.
- Scripture, as the “very Word of God written,” is absolutely authoritative and without error.
- Reformed orthodoxy, as informed by the system of doctrine contained in the Westminster Standards, represents faithfully and accurately what Scripture teaches.
- Biblical theology (in the tradition of Geerhardus Vos) and presuppositional apologetics (in the tradition of Cornelius Van Til) are among the crucial methods to be used in interpreting and applying the teaching of Scripture and in developing a biblical worldview.
- A learned ministry set in the lifestyle of humble and “holy affection” for Jesus Christ is essential in today’s church and world and must be modeled by the board, administration, faculty, and students.
- A fundamental mandate of the church, discipling the nations for the glory of Christ, requires culturally sensitive, theologically competent ministers who have both the ability and the passion to apply “the eternal word” of Scripture to “the changing world” in which God has placed us.
- Because there is “one body and one Spirit,” all who would “build up the whole body of Christ” must “make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.”

Westminster is committed to Scripture and to the systematic exposition of biblical truth known as the Reformed faith. Copies of the Westminster Confession of Faith are available from the Admissions Office. In addition to the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms, the Seminary treasures the rich and harmonious diversity of creeds and confessions within the historic Reformed tradition. In particular, it recognizes that the system of doctrine contained in Scripture is also confessed in the Three Forms of Unity (the Belgic Confession, the Heidelberg Catechism, and the Canons of Dort). Westminster desires to be used in training ministers of the gospel and others for service in those churches committed to the Three Forms of Unity as subordinate standards.

Our Curriculum

Based on our core values, the curriculum of the Seminary includes:

- Theism and philosophical apologetics, which establish the presuppositions of the gospel;
- The languages of the Bible, biblical introduction, biblical exegesis, biblical history, and biblical theology, which defend and expound the Scriptures;
- Systematic theology, which is the logical setting-forth of the system of doctrine the Scriptures contain;
- Church history, which records the history of God’s dealings with his people after the close of the apostolic age;
- Homiletics, church government, liturgics, pastoral theology, missions, urban ministry, biblical counseling, and Christian education, which concern the presentation and application of the gospel to the modern world.
History and Government

Theological education in the United States was originally available only to students who were tutored and mentored by able ministers. In the eighteenth century, a number of pastors were widely known for their willingness to take students under their oversight and guide their reading. Often a single minister mentored many students at a time.

When formal theological seminaries were organized, one of the first was the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church at Princeton, New Jersey, where instruction began in 1812. Founded by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the seminary held to the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms as its doctrinal standards.

Princeton excelled under the leadership of distinguished teachers who devoted themselves vigorously and effectively to the development, propagation, and maintenance of the Reformed faith. Among those best known as teachers of the great scriptural system of theology set forth by Princeton’s first professor Archibald Alexander were Charles Hodge, J. A. Alexander, B. B. Warfield, and J. Gresham Machen. But eventually a movement surfaced to end Princeton’s adherence to scriptural theology, and in 1929 Princeton Theological Seminary was reorganized under modernist influences.

Among the Princeton faculty who loved the Reformed faith were Robert Dick Wilson, J. Gresham Machen, Oswald T. Allis, and Cornelius Van Til. Almost immediately after Princeton’s reorganization, these four men founded Westminster Theological Seminary, and, with others who were invited to join the teaching staff, continued the exposition and defense of the Reformed faith. Over the years, Westminster has prospered as we have maintained the infallible Scriptures as our foundation.

The Seminary is governed by a self-perpetuating board consisting of at least fifteen but not more than thirty trustees, of whom at least one-half but not more than three-fifths must be ministers of the gospel. Each member of the board is required by the charter to subscribe to a pledge of a character similar to that required of the Faculty (see page 22), and is required to be a ruling or teaching elder in a church that shares the Seminary’s commitments and Presbyterian and Reformed heritage. The President of the Seminary is charged with administrative responsibility and serves as moderator of the Administrative Council. Academic policies are established by the Faculty, subject to review by the board; three members of the Faculty, chosen by the Faculty, sit with the board in an advisory capacity.

Growing in Grace at Westminster

A central aspect of Westminster’s mission is to “form men for the gospel ministry.” And it is our intention to contribute to the spiritual formation of all of our students, male and female, in the various degree programs. While theological education is a significant part of this “forming,” we believe that theological education alone will not adequately fulfill that mission goal. Formation is more than education; it also involves what B. B. Warfield called the “religious life” of theological students. Westminster is committed to a first-rate academic training, but we are also committed to the equally high standard of helping our students “grow in grace” as they study for ministry.

In theological education, we believe there should be no separation between learning and godliness as the goal of learning. The New Testament speaks of truth that is in accord with godliness (Titus 1:1) and of godliness that is produced through the knowledge of Christ (1 Peter 1:3). Our concern about the intellectual preparation of students for gospel ministry, and for service in the kingdom of Christ, must never be divorced from a concern for character traits that are necessary for Christian ministry.

A minister must be learned, on pain of being utterly incompetent for his work. But before and above being learned, a minister must be godly. You are students of theology; and, just because you are students of theology, it is understood that you are religious men—especially religious men, to whom the cultivation of your religious life is a matter of the profoundest concern. In your case there can be no ‘either-or’ here—either a student or a man of God. You must be both.

Benjamin B. Warfield

As Warfield reminds us, there is something wrong with a student of theology who does not study. But there may be something equally wrong with a theological student who only studies. The mastering of Greek paradigms, Hebrew syntax, exegesis, systematic theology, apologetics, and church history takes significant effort. But as rich as those things are in their capacity to point us to the Christ of Scripture and to his church, it is possible to study those subjects in all their richness and yet be spiritually bankrupt in the end.

Just as we design our academic curriculum for intellectual growth, we also have sought to design it for growth in godliness and holiness. In order to achieve this goal we have put a number of practices and policies in place.

Cooperation with Churches

Growth in grace is not something that can happen within a theological seminary alone. Christ gave the church to his people as the place where they receive the means of grace. Christian growth in godliness is to be a process that takes place in the context of the church. Westminster’s goal can only be fulfilled when the Seminary, the students, and the church work in cooperation. Therefore we seek to foster good relationships with local churches where seminarians may worship, serve, and be mentored during their days of theological study. We value the input and advice of these churches and their leaders as we work with students.

Student Affairs

The primary responsibility of the Dean of Students and the Associate Dean of Students is to provide pastoral care, counsel, and encouragement for the students. They are available for consultation throughout the academic year and are eager to provide, in cooperation with local churches, mentoring support for students during the entire period of their theological education.

Ministry Preparation Contract

As part of the first course in practical theology, all Pastoral and General Master of Divinity students are required to complete a Ministry Preparation Contract in which they commit themselves to involvement in a local church, the completion of mentored ministry assignments, and the pursuit of personal growth in grace. This contract unites the Seminary and the local church in providing opportunities, support, and encouragement for students as they prepare for ministry. Progress in the completion of the commitments made in the Ministry Preparation Contract is monitored through an annual interview with the Dean of Students.

Chapel

The Seminary provides daily opportunities for worship through chapel services conducted by members of the Faculty and visiting speakers, who are often local pastors. One morning each week students meet in small prayer groups that are led by Faculty members. There are also weeks when the chapel times are entirely devoted to prayer.

Conferences

Each year the Seminary sponsors an Institute on Biblical Preaching and a missions conference. On these occasions notable international speakers are invited to the campus, along with many visitors. These conferences have been significant times of spiritual growth and the development of a global vision as students prepare for Christian service. In all these ways, Westminster seeks to discharge its commitment to forming men for the pastoral ministry and to encouraging all students in their devotion and service to Christ.

The Honor System

A cherished aspect of community life at Westminster is the honor system. The responsibility for maintaining all aspects of this system lies directly with each member of the community.

The honor system is, of course, based upon the entirety of Scripture, but it finds its roots particularly in the eighth and ninth commandments (Exodus 20:15-16) as those commandments are expounded and applied in the Westminster Larger Catechism, Questions 140-145 (copies of the Westminster Standards are available from the Admissions Office).

Students are required to sign the “Response to the Honor System” at every fall and spring semester registration. In this statement, the student affirms that he or she has read the materials describing Westminster’s honor system, understands what the responsibilities are, and affirms his or her willingness to abide by the policies indicated.

Two specific expressions of this honor system are the pledges required on all examinations, papers, and projects at the Seminary.

Students are asked to affirm the following statement for all examinations and tests and may be asked to sign this pledge on the cover or first page of examinations:

I pledge my honor that I have neither given nor received any assistance—verbal, written, or electronic—on this examination beyond that specifically permitted by the instructor in charge.

Students are asked to write out and to sign this pledge at the end of every paper:

I understand and have not violated the Seminary’s position on plagiarism.

For projects, theses, and dissertations, students are asked to sign the statement regarding plagiarism found on a separate sheet in the “Westminster Thesis and Dissertation Format Guidelines,” available from the Librarian.

All members of the community are asked and expected to uphold and protect this honor system that “we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness,” which “is good and pleases God our Savior” (1 Timothy 2:2-3). Any confirmed or proven violation of the honor system will normally result in suspension for one year from the Seminary. Students may not transfer to Westminster credit hours for courses taken at another school during the period of suspension.

For a lengthy example of what plagiarism is and is not, please refer to the Seminary’s website at www.wts.edu.

Accreditation

Westminster is a school of theology at the graduate level. Under a charter from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania granted in 1930 and as subsequently amended, the Seminary has the power to grant the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Arts in Religion, Master of Divinity, Master of Theology, Doctor of Ministry, and Doctor of Philosophy. Degrees are granted upon recommendation of the Faculty and by the authority of the Board of Trustees.

The Seminary is accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, and has held this accreditation since 1954, the year in which the Middle States Association first began accrediting theological seminaries. The Seminary is accredited by the Association of Theological Schools, which is the national accrediting agency for theological schools in the United States and Canada. The following degree programs of the Seminary have been officially approved by the Association of Theological Schools: M.A., M.A.R., M.Div., Th.M., D.Min., Ph.D. Middle States Commission on Higher Education can be contacted at 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104, telephone: (267) 284-5000. The Association of Theological Schools can be contacted at 10 Summit Park Drive, Pittsburgh, PA 15275-1103, telephone: (412) 788-6505.

Westminster admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally made available to students at the Seminary. The Seminary does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, or scholarship and loan programs. The Seminary believes that the Scriptures restrict the ordained ruling and teaching offices of the church to men. Therefore, the M.Div. - Pastoral Ministry and D.Min. degree programs are structured specifically to

Seminary Information

Prepare men called to the ordained ministry. We also believe that the Lord has given a variety of gifts to women and men not called to the ordained offices of the church and we are committed to training those students for positions of service in the church which do not require ordination. Those men and women students in the non-pastoral track degree programs are considered eligible for financial aid and for other services provided by the Seminary for its students.

Approximately 90 ecclesiastical denominations and 60 countries are represented in the student body.

Location and Facilities

Philadelphia Campus

The Seminary is located on a suburban campus of 15 acres at the intersection of Church Road (Route 73) and Willow Grove Avenue in Glenside (Cheltenham Township, Montgomery County), approximately three miles from the Fort Washington exit of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and within a half hour of Center City Philadelphia. All the many advantages of a large metropolitan area for study, ministry, employment opportunities, recreation, and cultural interests are thus readily available. In addition to the colleges and seminaries, the libraries and museums, and the famous symphony orchestra of Philadelphia, the cities of New York and Washington, D.C., are also easily accessible.

There are five buildings on the main suburban campus. Van Til Hall was dedicated in 1975 in honor of Cornelius Van Til, former professor of apologetics. It contains air-conditioned classrooms equipped with smart technology, both audio and video instructional aids, a student mail room, a large lobby for receptions or exhibits, and the 350-seat Rust Auditorium, named in honor of Adolf H. Rust, a longtime friend and supporter of the Seminary.

The Montgomery Library, dedicated in memory of James H. Montgomery of Rochester, New York, and of his sister, Marguerite Montgomery, is a three-story stone building, air-conditioned, containing quiet areas for research. With the addition of the Andreas Academic Center, seating is available for 215 users.

The Andreas Academic Center is a four-story addition to the library, named for honorary trustee Lowell W. Andreas. Here the faculty offices are arranged by departmental floor. This building also houses a 16-user student computer lab, the J. Alan Groves Center for Advanced Biblical Research, the SaRang Korean Missions Center, the Craig Center for the Study of the Westminster Standards (equipped with smart technology), the Edward J. Young Seminar Room and the Westminster Center for Theological Writing.

The J. Gresham Machen Memorial Hall houses the administrative offices. It also provides dormitory and kitchen facilities for 14 unmarried students, or those at seminary without their spouses.

The Westminster Bookstore provides textbooks for courses, as well as a complete line of books relating to theology, church history, apologetics, New Testament and Old Testament studies, and commentaries at a significant discount. The bookstore also carries a variety of CD series and biblical and academic computer software. For more information or to purchase books and software, please visit www.wtsbooks.com.

Visiting the Philadelphia Campus

Visitors are welcome at any time of the year. Students wishing to meet with an Admissions representative should write or phone to arrange an appointment. For directions, see page 156.

The Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) provides rail transportation from Philadelphia International Airport into the suburbs. Passengers should take the R1 Airport Line to the Glenside station and take a taxi approximately one mile to campus.

The most rapid public transportation from the center of Philadelphia is provided by the suburban trains leaving Market East Terminal at 11th and Market Streets, Suburban Station at 17th and JFK Boulevard, or the 30th Street Station. Passengers should get off the train at the Glenside station and use a taxi service to get to campus.

Communication with the Philadelphia Campus

Although the campus is located outside the limits of the city of Philadelphia, the postal address is: Westminster Theological Seminary, P.O. Box 27009, Philadelphia, PA 19118. All communications and packages sent through the postal system for members of the administration, staff, faculty, and student body should bear this address.
Shipments sent by United Parcel Service and freight should be addressed to: Westminster Theological Seminary, 2960 West Church Road, Glenside, PA 19038.

The telephone number of the Seminary for administrative, faculty, and library offices is (215) 887-5511 or (800) 373-0119. The fax number for the Seminary is (215) 887-5404.

Texas Campus

Academic Program

Westminster’s Texas Campus offers the M.Div. - General and M.A.R. - General programs, as well as a Certificate in Christian Studies.

Instruction is provided by full-time resident faculty, faculty from the Philadelphia Campus, or by adjunct faculty resident in the Dallas area.

Facilities

The Texas Campus occupies facilities in a commercial high rise office building. The 6,000-square-foot suite offers two classrooms, a library, administrative and faculty offices, a student computer lab, videoconferencing capabilities, and a kitchen. The Seminary’s facilities also contain the office of the Southwest Church Planting Network, a ministry of five PCA presbyteries in the Southwest.

Computer Facilities

The student computer lab offers PC and MacIntosh computers, each loaded with software for biblical and theological studies, word processing, and Internet access. Software programs for biblical and theological studies include: BibleWorks, BibleWindows, Accordance, Greek Tutor, Hebrew Tutor, Master Christian Library, Theological Journal Library, Van Til CDROM, John Calvin Collection CDROM, and E. J. Brill’s Dead Sea Scrolls database of texts and images.

Library

The Texas Campus library contains over 14,000 volumes and subscriptions to over 50 periodicals. Students may also use the extensive resources of several major theological libraries nearby.

Housing

The Seminary does not provide student housing at the Texas Campus but will assist students in locating housing in the area.

Communication with the Texas Campus

The Seminary address in Texas is: 3838 Oak Lawn Avenue, Suite 200, Dallas, TX 75219. The general phone number is (214) 528-8600. The fax number is (214) 373-0907. Email to: dallas@wts.edu. For more information, please contact the Vice President and Dean of the Texas Campus or see the Westminster website at www.wts.edu.

New York Program

Westminster offers M.A.-level courses in New York City, New York, in conjunction with City Seminary of New York, a training center for urban ministry in the global context. These courses are offered in the evenings and on Saturdays. Students interested in participating in these courses should contact the Admissions Office in Philadelphia for application materials. Courses may be applied toward the M.A. - Urban Mission for Ministry in New York, or towards the Certificate in Christian Studies. For more information, please see the Westminster website (www.wts.edu) or www.cityseminaryny.org.

London Program

Academic Program

Westminster offers a Th.M.-level degree program in association with the John Owen Centre for Theological Studies (JOCTS) of London Theological Seminary.

JOCTS has been established to promote evangelical scholarship of excellence for the good of the church and the advance of God’s kingdom. The purpose of this program is to increase the student’s knowledge of the Reformed and Puritan periods, particularly through training and practice in the use of the methods and tools of theological research, and thus to further the student’s preparation for pastoral or teaching ministry, or for more advanced graduate study. It is aimed especially at theology graduates, ministers, and missionaries.

Credentials for admission to the program include a degree in theology or its educational equivalent, and evidence of knowledge of both Hebrew and New Testament Greek, as well as one other language relevant to theological study (e.g., Dutch, French, German, or Latin). An examination in this chosen language must be passed before the program’s thesis can be submitted.
Instruction
The program consists of six modules taught by visiting full-time and adjunct faculty members of Westminster. Five modules are normally offered in each calendar year. The modules normally meet for four or five consecutive days in January, March/April, June/July, August, and September.

Facilities
Courses are conducted at the John Owen Centre for Theological Study (JOCTS) at London Theological Seminary. JOCTS meets on the premises of the Kensit Memorial College in Finchley, North London. The college consists of a number of single study bedrooms, a launderette, facilities for making light refreshments, a dining room, lounge, recreation room, chapel, lecture rooms, and library rooms.

Computer Facilities
The information and communications technology room offers PC computers for word processing and Internet access. Software programs for biblical and theological studies are available.

Library
There are three libraries on site, including Dr. Martyn Lloyd-Jones’s personal library. They are well stocked with books covering Reformation, Puritan, and Nonconformist subjects. The vast resources of the Evangelical Library and Dr. Williams’s library are also available to students for research and borrowing.

Housing
Residential accommodations, if required, are available (single study bedrooms) during the teaching weeks. Residence at the Centre at other times is also possible, subject to availability.

Communication with the London Program
For further information, write directly to the London program at: The Director, John Owen Centre for Theological Study, LTS, 104 Hendon Lane, London N3 3SQ, UK. Telephone: 020-8346 7587.

Email to: johnowen@ltslondon.org, noting “Master of Theology (Westminster Theological Seminary, USA) at JOCTS” in the subject line.

Distinctive Academic Resources

The Westminster Theological Journal
The Seminary publishes a theological review dedicated to the advancement of Christian theological scholarship under the title The Westminster Theological Journal. Original contributions of a scholarly character and reviews of current literature of importance to the church and to theological study are included. The Journal is edited for the Faculty by two of its members and is indexed or abstracted in a number of international indexes and periodicals. Publication is semi-annual. Inquiries concerning subscription should be sent to the Circulation Manager at the Seminary address or via the Westminster website (www.wts.edu).

The Montgomery Library
The Montgomery Library is a well-balanced and high-quality library covering all branches of biblical and theological study, as well as related disciplines, with particular strengths in Reformed theology and in biblical interpretation and exegesis. The collection contains over 140,000 volumes and regularly receives approximately 700 periodicals.
The library holds the major collected works of great theological writers including the entire Migne edition of the fathers, the Corpus Christianorum, the Weimar edition of Luther, and the Corpus Reformatorum edition of Calvin, Zwingli, and Melanchthon. In addition, the library has extensive holdings on microfilm and microfiche of early documents and books of the Reformation period, as well as many scholarly periodicals.

The library’s rare book room houses a strong collection of early works on Reformed theology and biblical exegesis. Also located in the rare book room is an extensive collection of Latin, Greek, and English Bibles. Dating from the invention of printing to the present day, this collection is the gift of Mr. L. Paul Dilg.

The library has received valuable portions of the libraries of Professors Robert Dick Wilson, J. Gresham Machen, Caspar Wistar Hodge, Gerhardus Vos, Oswald T. Allis, Edward J. Young, Ned B. Stonehouse, Robert D. Knudsen, and Harvie M. Conn. The late Principal John Macleod of Edinburgh presented 1300 Presbyterian and Reformed classics. There are special collections in memory of the Reverend Frank H. Stevenson, Miss Marguerite Montgomery, the Reverend John H. Thompson, Mrs. Catherine MacLeod Ruby, the Reverend William E. Korn, and the Reverend Professor Paul Woolley.

The library provides access to several electronic databases which supplement the print resources found in the collection. The most important of these are:

- The First Search database, which gives users access to over 45 popular and unique databases spanning the Arts & Humanities, Business & Economics, Education, Social Sciences, News & Current Events, and more. Included as part of the First Search Service is the ATLA Religion Database.

- Early English Books Online, which provides access to the largest full-text collection of books published in English or in the British Isles prior to 1700. Available digitally in PDF, the collection covers a wide range of topics and is particularly useful for students of church history and theology in understanding the origins and development of Reformed theology in seventeenth-century Britain.

- Early American Imprints, which provides access to books, pamphlets, broadsides, government documents, and ephemera printed in America between 1639 and 1819.

The library is an institutional member of the Pennsylvania Library Network (providing access to the services of the Online Computer Library Center), the Southeastern Pennsylvania Theological Library Association, and the American Theological Library Association. Membership in these cooperatives provides library users with access to the resources of Philadelphia area libraries and many other libraries throughout the country. Full mutual-borrowing privileges are enjoyed with Lutheran Theological Seminary, just four miles away, and with other Philadelphia area theological seminaries.

J. Alan Groves Center for Advanced Biblical Research

The J. Alan Groves Center for Advanced Biblical Research applies computing and related technology to the study and teaching of the Bible and its original languages. It was formed in 1986 as an outgrowth of ongoing research in the area of the Hebrew Bible and computing at Westminster under the executive direction of Professor J. Alan Groves. Currently the Groves Center is directed by Dr. Kirk Lowery, a Hebraicist with skills in both linguistics and computing, and Assistant Director Stephen Salisbury, a software developer with skills in computer science and Hebrew. Part-time support is supplied by graduate student assistants, who are involved in the various aspects of ongoing research. Additionally, scholars from around the world contribute to this research.

In the area of teaching, the Groves Center sponsors (bi-annually) a seminar in Hebrew Text-Linguistics. (Usually this is offered in the spring semester, but occasionally it is offered as a special seminar during January. See Hebrew Text-Linguistic Seminar in the Old Testament section of the Ph.D. course descriptions—OT 742 or 743, depending on the semester offered.) The Groves Center also serves as a resource center for the academic research needs of faculty and students in Hebrew and related study. It is noteworthy that the Groves Center participated in some of the earliest attempts at computer-aided instruction for the Hebrew language.

Concerning research in Hebrew and computing, the Groves Center authors, contributes to, or consults on these ongoing projects:

- The electronic Westminster Leningrad Codex (WLC). This text began as an electronic transcription by Richard Whitaker (Princeton Seminary, New Jersey) and H. van Parunak (University of Michigan, Ann Arbor) of the 1983 printed edition. of Biblia Hebraica Stuttgartensia (BHS). Work continued with the cooperation of Robert Kraft (University of Pennsylvania) and Emmanuel Tov (Hebrew University, Jerusalem), and was completed by Professor J. Alan Groves. The transcription was called the Michigan-Claremont-Westminster Electronic Hebrew Bible and was archived at the Oxford Text Archive (OTA) in 1987, but has been variously known as the “CCAT” or “eBHS” text. Since that time, the text has been modified in many hundreds of places to conform to the photo-facsimile of the Leningrad Codex, Firkovich B19A, which resides at the Russian National Library in St. Petersburg; hence the change of name to Westminster Leningrad Codex. The Groves Center continues to scrutinize and correct this electronic text as a part of its continuing work of building morphology and syntax databases of the Hebrew Bible, since correct linguistic analysis requires an accurate text.

- The Groves-Wheeler Westminster Hebrew Morphology (senior editor: Dr. Lowery; editor: Steve Salisbury). With seed funding from the Packard Humanities Institute (PHI), a team of Westminster scholars under the direction of Professor Groves began in 1987 to perfect a computerized version of the morphological analysis of the Hebrew text. We say perfect, because the basis for the text was a machine-produced analysis done by Richard Whitaker (Claremont, Princeton Seminary), who used the IBYCUS system to develop a parser that provided a trial parsing for about 95 percent of the words of the Hebrew Bible. While much editing was required, this initial analysis provided an excellent beginning database from which to build the database that exists today. The first version of the morphology was released in the summer of 1991. The second version, with significant corrections supplied by users, was released in 1994. The third version, which added homonyms and normalized the lemmatization to Kohler Baumgartner III, came out in 1998. The combination of the machine-readable version of the text and analysis provides a significant tool for Hebrew study for students at every level of interest and ability in Hebrew. The database is now referred to as the Groves-Wheeler Westminster Hebrew Morphology.

Significant contributions have been made by Professor Todd Beall (Capital Bible Seminary), Professor Eep Talstra (the Werkgroep Informatica, the Free University, Amsterdam), and Ferdinand Poswick (the Centre Informatique et Bible, Maredsous, Belgium). Under the direction of Dr. Lowery, enhancements and corrections are ongoing.
The Westminster Hebrew Morphology has been incorporated into many Bible software products. Among them are: Accordance by Oak Tree Software (Mac); BART by SIL/Wycliffe (Win); BibleWorks by Hermeneutika (Win); Logos by Logos Research Systems (Win); and WordSearch by iExalt Electronic Publishing (Win). Many of these products are available at a discount from Westminster Bookstore.

For information about licensing the Westminster Hebrew Morphology for use in software pages or products, contact Dr. Lowery.

- The Chinese Standard Bible (CSB), a fresh translation of the Bible into Mandarin Chinese produced by the Asia Bible Society. Dr. Lowery is collaborating with this project in two areas: developing a syntactically tagged and “richly annotated” Hebrew text for use in the Society’s next generation translation software and additionally serving as Old Testament Translation Consultant for the CSB. Inquiries for further information about this project should be directed to Dr. Lowery.

Craig Center for the Study of the Westminster Standards
The Craig Center for the Study of the Westminster Standards at Westminster Theological Seminary was founded in 2002. The Center is involved in identifying and indexing the thousands of names that appear in the three volumes of the minutes of the Westminster Assembly, opening a window into the Assembly’s practices in licensing and, on occasion, disciplining ministers. A major resource provided by the Center is Early English Books Online, which allows readers to access in PDF almost every book published in English between 1450 and 1700, making the Center a place for serious study of British and early American Reformed life and thought. Pending future funding, the Center intends to provide for visiting scholars to use the resources and facilities of the Center, and develop an interactive web site dealing with the Westminster Assembly and the Westminster Standards. For further information, please contact the Director of the Craig Center for the Study of the Westminster Standards or visit the Westminster website (www.wts.edu).

SaRang Korean Missions Center
The SaRang Korean Missions Center is an outgrowth of Westminster’s relatively long history with the Korean church in training a significant number of Korean pastors, ministry leaders, and theologians. Created in 2001 through the generous support of SaRang Community Church in Seoul, the Center exists to advance research and academic discussion on the past, present, and future of the Korean church, via visiting scholars and workshops. Under the direction of Steve Park, the Center has recently digitized the Bruce Hunt Archives, a collection of thousands of photographs and Korean and English manuscripts documenting two generations of Korean missions. For further information, please contact the Director of the SaRang Korean Missions Center or visit the Westminster website (www.wts.edu).

The Westminster Center for Theological Writing
The Westminster Center for Theological Writing exists to foster excellence in formal academic writing by Westminster students. Housed on the second floor of the Montgomery Library, the Center provides individual consultations as well as small group tutorials and workshops. Students come to the Center to fill in gaps in their academic preparation in rhetoric, logic, grammar, and writing style and to receive help with mastering citation. Specialized instruction is available for ESL students, returning students, and students from non-liberal arts backgrounds. In addition, the center offers a support program for students working on Ph.D. dissertations, Th.M. theses or D.Min. projects. Faculty members may also require students whom they identify as needing work on specific aspects of writing to receive tutoring at the Writing Center.

The Christian Counseling & Educational Foundation
Since 1968, the Christian Counseling & Educational Foundation (CCEF) led a biblical counseling movement teaching people how to explore the rich wisdom of Scripture and apply it to the complexities of human life. CCEF continues to strive to fulfill its mission “to restore Christ to counseling and counseling to the Church.” It accomplishes its mission through classes, curriculum, The Journal of Biblical Counseling and other resources (available at Westminster Bookstore), counseling services, and an annual conference.

The School of Biblical Counseling offers certificate programs that train pastors and lay leaders to counsel those who need help in their lives and relationships. These certificates are intended for believers who have a heart for people, who know that God’s Word and God’s Spirit change lives, and who see the church as the community God uses to support his work of change.

CCEF is closely affiliated with Westminster, and the Seminary’s biblical counseling courses are taught by CCEF faculty, which include two of Westminster’s full-time professors. For information on how coursework taken for CCEF certificates can be transferred to Westminster’s degree programs, see the Transfer of Credit section on page 47. More information on the Christian Counseling & Education Foundation may be found at www.ccef.org.

City Seminary of New York
Westminster offers Master’s level courses at an extension in New York City, New York, in cooperation with City Seminary of New York. In accomplishing its mission, City Seminary of New York provides an intercultural learning community for the study of Scripture, applied theology, pastoral work, and mission in the globalizing city. This coordinates well with the goals of Westminster in preparing leaders for the church in the urbanizing world. These courses are offered in the evenings and on Saturdays. Students interested in participating in these courses should contact the Admissions Office in Philadelphia for application materials. Courses may be applied toward the Master of Arts program offered on the Philadelphia Campus.

Student Life

Residence

Single Students
Westminster has twelve rooms on the main campus, housing nine men and five women students. These rooms are only open to full-time first-year students; however, the rooms will be made available to new and returning students enrolled in summer modular courses. All rooms are furnished, but residents must supply bed linens, blankets, pillow, and towels.

Dorm residents may prepare meals in their dormitory’s kitchen. Meals may not be prepared or eaten in dormitory rooms. Students who vacate their rooms at the end of the fall semester because they are not enrolling for winter term can return in the spring semester to the room occupied during the fall semester. However, if a room is vacant during the winter term, it may be rented to another student for that term. Students beginning course work in the winter term or spring semester should be prepared to locate a room off-campus.

Single students can also make arrangements to rent rooms from local families or apartments through housing resources in the Student Affairs and Admissions Offices. New single students should allow at least one month to find suitable off-campus housing. Please see the Westminster website (www.wts.edu) for more information.

Married Students
The Student Affairs and Admissions Offices have online resources on housing and jobs in the area, which admitted and current students may find at the Westminster website (www.wts.edu). New married students seeking housing should plan to secure housing no less than one month prior to the beginning of a semester, allowing time to settle into their new home. Students with children or special housing requirements should plan to secure housing and settle into the area even earlier.

Modular Program Students
Students in the D.Min. program who plan to come to Westminster for modular courses during the summer should contact the Student Affairs Office at their earliest possible convenience but at least two months in advance of their arrival to inquire about space in the dorm. New York students attending summer intensive classes will have their housing arranged by the Branch Campus Coordinator.

International Students on J-1 or F-1 Visa Status
International students on J-1 visas are advised to arrive at least one month in advance of the beginning of their classes to allow sufficient time to settle into a new culture, including locating housing, obtaining a driver’s license, and opening a bank account. Due to immigration requirements, students on F-1 visas may not arrive earlier than one month prior to the beginning of classes, but they are advised to arrive as soon as they are legally permitted to do so. For dorm housing, early arrival must be pre-arranged with the Student Affairs Office.

Cost
Rental costs for housing vary greatly, depending on the size of the rental and its location. Generally, real estate within the city limits is cheaper than in the suburbs, excluding the Center City district; however, car insurance and taxes are higher in the city. Costs range anywhere from $300+ per month to rent a room in a person’s home to $1000+ per month to rent a house. See the Westminster website (www.wts.edu) for more information and page 140 for the Seminary’s dormitory housing costs.

Dining
Students who are not dorm residents are encouraged to bring their lunches, eat at nearby Arcadia University, or at a local restaurant.

Devotional Life
The devotional life of the Seminary is nurtured by regular chapel services under the charge of the faculty, and by weekly prayer groups of students and faculty. The root conviction governing all these devotional exercises is that the true guide in Christian worship and Christian prayer, as well as in all other activities of the Christian life, is the Word of God.

The Seminary does not assume to itself the church’s responsibility for the nurture of the spiritual life of the student. Each student, therefore, is urged to associate with the life and work of a particular congregation.
Conduct
Student conduct is under the supervision of the Dean of Students. The institution reserves the right to dismiss from the institution a student whose conduct is found to be unsatisfactory.

Unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees on school property, or as part of any activity of Westminster, is forbidden and will result in dismissal. Smoking is not permitted in any Seminary building. The use of alcoholic beverages on campus is not permitted. Firearms are prohibited on campus. For other specific questions regarding conduct, the Seminary refers to the Westminster Standards, as based on Scripture, as a standard for behavior.

Grievance Policy
The Student Affairs Office should be regarded as the umbrella for addressing all complaints. For information regarding the process of filing a grievance or to file a grievance, please contact the Student Affairs Office.

The Student Association is also available to hear students’ concerns. Representatives of the Student Association can be contacted to formally present such concerns to the Dean of Students.

For a full description of the grievance policy, please refer to the Seminary’s website (www.wts.edu).

Counseling
Counseling is provided by the deans, faculty members, and, when deemed necessary, by professional practitioners. For further details, students should contact either the Dean of Students or the Associate Dean of Students.

Health Insurance
All full-time students and their dependents are required to have health care coverage. International students on a J-1 or F-1 visa, in addition to the medical benefits required for all students, are also required to have Medical Evacuation and Repatriation of Remains (MERR) coverage. If a student chooses not to use the Westminster-sponsored plan, he or she must submit a waiver form with alternative health insurance coverage details. All insurance waiver and sign-up forms, which can be downloaded from the website (www.wts.edu), should be submitted to the Student Affairs Office. However, for specific information about insurance coverage, premium payments, billing, etc., students should contact an insurance broker.

Student Organizations
The Student Association
The Student Association is student-led and exists for the benefit of Westminster students. The purpose of the Student Association is threefold: 1) to promote Christian growth; 2) to offer Christian fellowship; and 3) to engender a sense of responsibility towards fellow students, faculty, the church, and the world. The Student Association seeks to be a ministry of Christ to the future ministers of Christ who are training at Westminster. Activities of the Association are supported through a student activities fee. Representatives of the Association meet regularly with the Dean of Students to promote the goals of the Association throughout the Westminster community.

Fellowship Groups
Consistent with the purposes of the Student Association, the Seminary offers various student fellowship groups that meet regularly during the academic year for fellowship, prayer, and campus events.
Currently, these groups include the African/African-American Student Fellowship, Chinese Student Fellowship, Korean Student Fellowship, and the Missions Fellowship. More information can be found on the Seminary’s website (www.wts.edu).

Women of Westminster

Women of Westminster is a fellowship organization composed of women students, wives of students, faculty wives, and staff women. The objectives of the organization are to nurture and encourage biblical thinking and a Christian worldview, and to provide fellowship and ministry opportunities.

Westminster Bookstore

The Seminary maintains a bookstore for the convenience of faculty and students, where books may be purchased at significant discounts. The bookstore also sells a select number of Westminster gift items. In addition to textbooks for courses, the bookstore carries a complete line of books relating to theology, church history, apologetics, New Testament and Old Testament studies, and commentaries. The bookstore also carries a variety of CD series and biblical and academic computer software.

For customers who have access to the Internet, the bookstore offers an extensive online store with listings of faculty publications, featured titles, and special announcements. The bookstore may be accessed through the Westminster home page, or at www.wtsbooks.com.

Purchases from the Westminster Bookstore support the work of the Seminary.

“We chose Westminster because the curriculum combines the biblical and practical material essential to lifelong ministry and it allows us to learn and study together for God’s Kingdom.” — Diana (M.A. - Biblical Counseling, 2008) and Don (M.Div. - Pastoral, 2010) Lee
Westminster is committed to Scripture and to the systematic exposition of biblical truth known as the Reformed faith. Our constitution prescribes the following pledge for every voting member of the faculty:

I do solemnly declare, in the presence of God, and of the Trustees and Faculty of this Seminary, that (1) I believe the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice; and (2) I do solemnly and ex animo adopt, receive, and subscribe to the Westminster Confession of Faith and Catechisms in the form in which they were adopted by this Seminary in the year of our Lord 1936, as the confession of my faith, or as a summary and just exhibition of that system of doctrine and religious belief, which is contained in Holy Scripture, and therein revealed by God to man for his salvation; and I do solemnly, ex animo, profess to receive the fundamental principles of the Presbyterian form of church government, as agreeable to the inspired oracles. And I do solemnly promise and engage not to inculcate, teach, or insinuate anything which shall appear to me to contradict or contravene, either directly or impliedly, any element in that system of doctrine, nor to oppose any of the fundamental principles of that form of church government, while I continue a member of the Faculty in this Seminary. I do further solemnly declare that, being convinced of my sin and misery and of my inability to rescue myself from my lost condition, not only have I assented to the truth of the promises of the Gospel, but also I have received and rest upon Christ and His righteousness for pardon of my sin and for my acceptance as righteous in the sight of God and I do further promise that if at any time I find myself out of accord with any of the fundamentals of this system of doctrine, I will on my own initiative, make known to the Faculty of this institution and, where applicable, my judicatory, the change which has taken place in my views since the assumption of the vow.

Academic Information

General Requirements for Admission to All Programs

Credentials

In order to be admitted to registration as a regular student in the Seminary (for all locations and programs), the applicant must present ordinarily the following credentials to the Director of Admissions, Westminster Theological Seminary, P.O. Box 27009, Philadelphia, PA 19118:

1. A completed application on a form supplied by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) including personal statements and a spouse statement, if applicable.

2. A non-refundable application fee (see page 139). A late fee is added for applications received after the deadlines indicated. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)

3. A church reference on a form supplied by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) from the minister or session of the church of which the applicant is a member, or from another source approved by the Director of Admissions.

4. An academic reference on a form supplied by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) from a college professor under whose guidance the applicant has pursued studies, or from another source approved by the Director of Admissions.

5. A full official transcript(s) of the applicant’s undergraduate and graduate level work. If more than one institution was attended, there should be a transcript from each. (An official transcript is one that is sent directly from the institution in a sealed envelope. If it is opened before it reaches the Office of Admissions, it then becomes unofficial.) If the transcript does not show the completion of a baccalaureate degree at the time of application, a final transcript must be submitted before final admission can be granted. An applicant previously registered at Westminster may use the official transcripts provided in his or her previous application, as long as the applicant graduated within the last five years.

The transcript must show the attainment of a baccalaureate degree. The grades attained shall give promise that the applicant can pursue courses in the Seminary satisfactorily. The transcript should show the broad and comprehensive education essential to theological studies. While it is not possible to prescribe one pattern as normative for all pre-seminary education, a degree of mastery is recommended in the following areas: English; history; philosophy; natural sciences; social sciences; ancient, classical, and modern foreign languages; and Bible.

6. All applicants whose native language is not English, or for whom English was not the language of instruction from the primary grades (regardless of U.S. citizenship or residency), must take the TOEFL and TWE. See the TOEFL and TWE section on pages 38-39. International applicants should also see the International Students section on page 39. International students who wish to obtain an I-20 or DS-2019 visa eligibility form or an I-20 transfer form from Westminster must indicate sufficient personal financial resources for themselves and their dependents.

7. Th.M. and Ph.D. applicants should see pages 73-76 and 86-92, respectively, for additional requirements.

8. Additional requirements
   The Seminary will examine the credentials with a view to ascertain whether the applicant is of good moral character and is of serious purpose.

   The Seminary may grant admission on the basis of the credentials submitted or the Director of Admissions may make one or more of the following requests of the applicant:
   1. To meet with a representative of the Seminary for a personal interview.
   2. To take one or more of the parts of the Graduate Record Examination administered six times a year at various centers throughout the country.

   Unless otherwise requested, applications uncompleted by the date stated by the applicant as the date of enrollment in the Seminary will not be retained. No materials will be returned.

Application Deadlines

International/Canadian applications (from applicants who require a student visa) are accepted as stated below. Late applications will be considered for the following year.

- Master of Theology and Doctor of Philosophy January 15
- Doctor of Ministry February 15
- Master’s-level programs February 15
- U.S. applications are accepted as stated below. Late Th.M., Ph.D., and D.Min. applications will be considered for the following year. Late applications to all other programs will be considered only if accompanied by the late fee (see page 139); however, late applications will NOT be considered for U.S. financial aid.

- Master of Theology and Doctor of Philosophy January 15
- Doctor of Ministry March 31
- Master’s-level programs
  - Summer or Fall entrance March 1
  - Winter or Spring entrance September 30

   Any applications received after these deadlines will not be processed without a late fee.

Special Needs

If an applicant has any disability requiring special attention, he or she must submit to the Director of Admissions documentation of his or her disability, along with details on specific needs to be accommodated, 60 days (two months) prior to matriculation.

Non-Native English Speakers (TOEFL and TWE)

An applicant whose native language is other than English, or for whom English was not the language of instruction from the primary grades (regardless of U.S. citizenship or residency) must demonstrate proficiency in English. The minimum score for applicants on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) is indicated on the chart below. An official record of the test must be sent to the Seminary by the Educational Testing Center. Photocopies of test results will not be accepted.
All applicants who are admitted to the Seminary with the minimum required score of 570 or 600 (230 or 250 computer-based [CBT] or 88-89 or 100 internet-based [iBT] respectively), but less than 640 (273 CBT or 111 iBT respectively), on the TOEFL must register for a course in Advanced Theological Writing (PT 031P) during their first semester on campus and during each subsequent semester until the course is passed. The course must be passed in order for the student to graduate. There is a tuition fee for this course (see course description for PT 031P). Only those students who submit a TOEFL score of 630 (267 computer) or higher and a TWE score of 5.5 (111 iBT) or higher will be exempt from PT 031P.

Those applicants whose native language is not English but who have, with an academic average of B or better, completed a liberal arts degree program or its equivalent at an accredited postsecondary school in the U.S. or at a recognized postsecondary school in Canada, the U.K., Australia, New Zealand, or South Africa, may be considered for exemption from all TOEFL, TWE, and TSE requirements. Such exemption will be considered by the Director of Admissions only after 1) receiving a letter from one of the student’s university or seminary professors testifying to the student’s English-language ability and 2) after interviewing and testing the student in person. Under no circumstances will the TOEFL and TWE requirement be waived for non-native English speaking applicants.

Applicants who pass the TOEFL exemption test and are admitted to Westminster must register for Advanced Theological Writing (PT 031P) (see above).

International Students

Students of high academic standing from other countries are encouraged to apply to the Seminary. However, applicants should note that, while some limited financial assistance for tuition may be awarded by the Seminary (see page 142), complete financial support is not granted to any student. International students must seek additional means of support elsewhere.

International students (on F1 or J1 visa status) need to be enrolled full-time in the fall and spring semesters, according to the Seminary and the United States government policies. For full details, contact the Director of International Students.

Applicants should note that because of United States banking restrictions, checks must be payable in U.S. dollars, drawn on a U.S. bank, with the bank’s computer code located in the lower left-hand corner of the check. Checks not meeting these requirements will be returned, which may delay admission.

In addition to the following, applicants from other countries should follow the application procedure outlined under the “General Requirements for Admission to Programs” section beginning on page 37. Applicants whose native language is other than English should also see the Non-Native English Speakers (TOEFL and TWE) section on page 38.
Academic Information

Admission Requirements

In order for the applicant to receive from the Director of International Students the Certificate of Eligibility (Form DS-2019 for J visas or Form I-20 for F visas) necessary to obtain the visa for nonimmigrant students, the applicant must have final approval of admission as a full-time student and financial documentation showing sufficient resources for his or her length of study in the United States.

All students on either a J visa or an F visa are required to study full time. The maximum number of semesters allowed to complete each degree program on a full-time basis is as follows: M.A., 4 semesters; M.A.R., 6 semesters; M.Div., 8 semesters; Th.M., 4 semesters; Ph.D., 12 semesters; and D.Min., 6 semesters. International students should always allow three years to complete an M.A.R. and four years to complete an M.Div., due to Greek and Hebrew requirements.

An applicant may be requested to attend an interview with a designated Seminary representative in the applicant’s home country where practicable. A confidential report from the interviewer becomes part of the required credentials for application.

Students coming to the United States for the first time are encouraged to arrange, while still in their home countries, health insurance coverage that will adequately cover them and any family members who will be accompanying them until they can determine what coverage they need and be enrolled in a plan here (see page 20 regarding health insurance requirements).

Sponsors documented on affidavit of support forms must be legitimate and committed to giving the amount indicated. If they fail to support the student, his or her tuition scholarship (if applicable) will be revoked, which may result in withdrawal from Westminster.

Notification of Admission

After reviewing the credentials submitted, the Seminary will notify the applicant of the decision about admission. Registration for course work is contingent upon receipt of a transcript showing completion of any prerequisite degree.

Deferment

An admitted student may defer matriculation for up to one year by notifying the Office of Admissions in writing.

Advance Deposit

In order to confirm their intention to enroll in the Seminary, applicants who have been notified of their admission are required to submit an advance deposit (see page 139) no later than June 1 for those who plan to matriculate in the summer or fall semester and no later than November 1 for those who plan to matriculate in the winter or spring semester. If the applicant is admitted after this due date, the deposit is due immediately upon receipt of the admission letter. This deposit is applicable to tuition when the student registers for classes. It is not refundable if the student does not enroll. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)
Registrar’s Office

Registration Information

Registration is contingent upon receipt of a transcript showing completion of any prerequisite degree. Registration dates are stated in the academic calendar. No student is permitted to register for any course after the first ten days of the semester. Those on tuition scholarship must also document proof of housing.

A late registration fee will be charged in the event that a student fails to register at the time designated for that purpose (see page 139).

Each student is responsible for meeting his or her degree requirements, though the Registrar and faculty advisers will provide information and help.

The student is required to inform the Registrar of any changes in course registration, at the earliest possible opportunity. Students are to inform the Student Affairs Office of any change of address.

The privilege of adding or dropping courses is granted within a grace period each term. This period is between the third and tenth day after the beginning of each semester, and between the third and fifth day of the summer and winter terms. If a course is less than one month in length, an appropriate comparable time for dropping the course will be set.

After the grace period a student is not permitted to register for any course and may drop a course only with the written permission of the instructor and the Registrar, provided that it is no later than the tenth week of the fall or spring semester or the second week of the summer or winter term. The effective date for the dropping of a course is the date on which approval is gained from the Registrar. Withdrawal under any other circumstances will result in a failing grade in the course.

A fee is charged for each course change made after registration (see page 139).

It is expected that each student will attend every class session for which he or she is registered. Absences caused by illness, or other justifiable causes, will be permitted to a limited extent. If, in the judgment of the instructor, these permitted absences, or other (unauthorized) absences, endanger the standing of the student in the course, the instructor shall counsel the student concerning the situation. Further absences will normally result in a failing grade in the course.

A student enrolled in an M.Div., M.A.R., M.A., or Certificate program who is interested in changing from one program to another should speak to the Director of Admissions.

An emphasis within an M.Div., M.A.R. or M.A. program may be changed by arrangement with the Registrar. Changes become effective at the beginning of the following semester (September 1 or February 1). Please see page 139 for the processing fee.

Academic Standing

A, B, C, and D are passing grades; F is a failing grade. The general standing for the year of every regular student is ascertained by the use of a grade point system. Grade points are assigned to grades as noted on the chart below. A student’s general standing is the result of the total number of grade points earned, divided by the total number of semester hours taken.

The faculty has adopted a four-point grading system with 12 levels as follows:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>4.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A-</td>
<td>3.67</td>

<tr>
<td>B+</td>
<td>3.33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>3.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>

<td>2.33</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>1.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D-</td>
<td>.67</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>0</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In addition to the student meeting due dates and using correct English, the following table will serve as general criteria for grade levels for the M.Div., M.A.R., and M.A. programs. Final grades for each course are awarded at the discretion of the member of faculty responsible for that course.
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>An outstanding and thoughtful piece of work which shows evidence of reading and research beyond that which was assigned. The student has shown mastery of the subject and offers new insights which are well-supported by cogent and profound arguments.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>B</td>
<td>A standard, good piece of work which fulfills the assignment and shows a good grasp of the basic principles. There is substantial evidence of ability to analyze and utilize course content.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>C</td>
<td>This work is satisfactory but is lacking in a significant area and does not show a grasp of some basic principles.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>D</td>
<td>There are serious problems with this work, though it is still passable. It represents a poor performance in comprehending the course content and only meets the minimal standard of the professor.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>F</td>
<td>This work is unacceptable and fails to meet the requirements of the assignment.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

Students whose cumulative academic average at the completion of 24 semester hours in the M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. program is 1.75 or lower are not permitted to continue in the institution. However, if the faculty considers it probable that, in the future, the student will be able to make satisfactory progress, it may readmit him or her to the institution, upon petition, and grant whatever credit for work completed it deems appropriate. To be eligible to graduate, students in these programs must have a cumulative academic average of 1.80 or higher.

Students in the Th.M. and Ph.D. programs are required to maintain an academic average of 3.00 during the program. Students whose cumulative academic average at the completion of three courses in the Th.M. or Ph.D. program is 3.00 or lower are not permitted to continue in the institution.

Students in the D.Min. program are required to have an academic average of 3.00 in order to graduate.

Requests for a transcript should be in writing from the student to the Registrar’s Office, accompanied by the appropriate fee (see page 139). Transcript Request Forms are available from the Machen receptionist or on the Westminster website (www.wts.edu). Altering a record is an act of fraud.

Academic Probation

The following provisions describe academic probation for the M.Div., M.A.R., M.A., and Certificate programs:

1. A student with a GPA of 1.75 or lower, after completion of his or her first semester (including at least two courses taken and with less than 24 hours completed), will be on academic probation. A student placed on probation must raise his or her GPA by the semester that he or she meets or exceeds 24 hours of course work in an official program or be withdrawn from his or her program.

2. A student whose cumulative GPA is between 1.76 and 1.80 after the completion of 24 credit hours will be on academic probation. The student is required to raise his or her GPA to 1.80 or above to be approved to graduate.

3. A student on academic probation will be required to meet with the Dean of Students before the beginning of the following semester or withdrawal will result.
4. A student on academic probation will be required to take a reduced course load.

Final Examinations

Final examinations are given during an announced period at the conclusion of each academic term. In all M.Div., M.A.R., and M.A. courses in which theses, reports on assigned readings, or other special assignments are required, either in place of or in addition to a final examination, these theses and reports must be handed in on or before the date set by the professor in charge, which date shall not be later than the last day of classes for the term. In Th.M. and Ph.D. courses, this date is indicated in the academic calendar.

Any student who requests to take a final examination at a time different from the published schedule, but within the examination period, must complete a request form ten days prior to the beginning of the examination period. Request forms are available from the Machen receptionist and require the approval of both the professor and the Dean of Students. The Academic Affairs Office will process the requests. The student must take the examination at the time approved; the time limit stated on the examination paper must be observed.

An Incomplete must be requested for an examination to be taken after the end of the examination period.

Incomplete Requests (Extension for Completion of Course Requirements)

If extenuating circumstances (unusual and unavoidable circumstances which hinder completion of assigned work) prohibit the student from completing a course on time, a grade of Incomplete may be given. To receive a grade of Incomplete, a student must 1) obtain an Incomplete form from the Registrar’s Office, 2) secure written approval on the form from the professor, and 3) return the form to the Registrar who will seek the appropriate faculty committee approval. Petition for the Incomplete must be made by November 30 for the fall semester and by April 30 for the spring semester. At the professor’s discretion the grade will or will not be reduced. If approval is granted, the work must be completed within four weeks from the close of examinations; otherwise a grade of Inc/F will be received. No Incompletes will be granted for graduating students for classes taken in the spring semester of their last year.
Leave of Absence
Any student who encounters unusual career or family circumstances that cause interruption in participation in his or her program may write to request one leave of absence, for a period up to three years. The letter should specify the reasons for the request and the amount of extra time desired. This letter should reach the Registrar two months before the student’s next registration. If the leave of absence is approved, the student does not pay fees or use faculty, staff, or Westminster facilities during the leave.

A student who is a member of a military reserve unit and whose studies are interrupted by a call to active duty must inform the Registrar of his or her call to active duty and the duration of the call. The student shall then be granted a leave of absence from his or her academic program. A student who returns to his or her academic program within one year of his or her release from active duty shall be reinstated and allowed to repeat, without charge, those courses in which he or she was enrolled when called to active duty, provided he or she enrolls in those courses the first time the courses are offered after his or her return. A student who fails to return within one year of his or her release from active duty shall be administratively withdrawn.

The student will notify the Registrar of any change of address while on leave and will confirm by letter to the Registrar, one month before the expiration date of the leave, that he or she will resume the program.

Students receiving Title IV financial aid assistance who wish to take a leave of absence should contact the Financial Aid Office for potential restrictions. Please see page 147 for more information.

Adding and/or Dropping Courses
Once a student has registered for a semester or term, if he or she wants to add or drop a course(s), he or she should complete and file an Add/Drop form with the Registrar’s Office. There is a charge per course (see page 139). The Last Day to Add and the Last Day to Drop are listed in the Academic Calendar (see page 152).

Students who drop a course(s) after the last day to add will be assigned a W (Withdrawn from course) grade on their transcript record.

Students who drop a course(s) after the last day to drop will be assigned an F grade for the course(s).

If a student drops all of his or her courses for any semester, he or she will be withdrawn from the Seminary. Exceptions will apply if approved by the Registrar’s Office. A student may apply for reinstatement if he or she desires to return to the Seminary at a later time.

Refunds for dropped courses (or withdrawal from the Seminary) on or after the first day of the semester will result in a partial tuition refund to the student (see page 141). The refund amount will correspond to the percentage of the enrollment period that remains in the semester or term in which the course(s) is being dropped. See page 141 for full refund information.

Course Prerequisites
Certain courses have prerequisites that are required to be completed in order for a student to register for those courses. Other courses require that the prerequisites be taken concurrently. All prerequisites are listed in the Course Description section under the individual courses. With compelling reason, students may request a waiver of these prerequisites. All requests must be approved by the faculty member who teaches the course. Forms are available through the Registrar’s Office. Waiver approvals should be acquired prior to a student’s registration.

Withdrawal/Reinstatement
A student planning to withdraw from the Seminary, whether during the academic term or at its close, should report that fact to the Registrar in writing. A student is withdrawn if he or she does not enroll in any semester of the academic year or if he or she drops all of his or her classes during the progress of any semester. A student will be withdrawn administratively if he or she has a grade point average too low to continue, has a bill outstanding, or has violated the honor system.

A student who withdraws from the Seminary following the final date to drop a course (see the Academic Calendar, pages 152-155), will receive a grade of F for each course not completed.

Should such a student desire to return to the Seminary, he or she should submit a written request to the Registrar, stating desired date of entrance and program and enclosing the fee (see page 139). If a student has been withdrawn for longer than four years, has not been in a degree program, or wishes to change to a program other than the one of his or her previous enrollment, he or she should send a new application form and fee to the Director of Admissions.

In addition, if the student had been enrolled in the Th.M., Ph.D., or D.Min. program, a re-entry fee (see page 139) will apply at the first registration after reinstatement unless the student had been out of the program such a short time that only the current semester’s or year’s continuation fee is owed.

A student readmitted will be subject to all program requirements, as well as all financial and academic policies current at the time of return, and will pay the same tuition as new students entering that program at the same time.

Students’ Rights of Privacy and Access to Records

Westminster accords to all students all the rights under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) as amended. The policy is available in the Registrar’s Office, and is summarized below. In addition, announcements concerning this are distributed to students at each registration.

General information, which the Seminary may give out at its discretion, includes the student’s name, spouse’s name, address, telephone number, program and year of study, dates of attendance, degree(s) awarded, most recent school attended, citizenship, and church affiliation. If a student wishes any of this information withheld, he or she may write to the Registrar within two weeks after the first day of classes for the fall or spring semester and the request will be honored during the academic year in which the letter was received. A student may authorize release of certain additional information by writing to the Registrar.

Other information from the student’s educational record is confidential and available only for appropriate use by faculty, administrative officers, and personnel in the offices of the Registrar, Director of Admissions, and Dean of Students, as well as by persons from accrediting agencies, persons with a judicial order, and persons requesting information in an emergency to protect the health or safety of students or others. Under FERPA, these persons are permitted access to particular information as needed.

By writing a request to the Registrar, a student may review his or her record to the extent provided by FERPA. Westminster is not required to permit students to inspect confidential letters and recommendations received prior to January 1, 1975. If a student has signed a waiver, information from a recommendation is not available to him or her. Application materials, once submitted, become the property of Westminster. Under no circumstances will a student be permitted to copy or have returned to him or her any recommendation.

Transcripts received from other schools will not be returned to a student.

Special Students

A student not seeking to earn a degree from Westminster may register for courses as a Special Student. Students from other seminaries or graduate schools may also take courses as special students for transfer back to their institutions. To be classified as a Special Student, the following items must be forwarded to the Office of Admissions:

1. A completed Special Student application form
2. Application fee (see page 139)
3. A completed Church Reference form
4. Evidence of having earned a baccalaureate degree (copy of transcript or diploma)
5. Students whose native language is not English need to meet the same TOEFL and TWE requirements listed on pages 38-39.

Deadlines and late fees for Special Student applications are the same as for applications to regular programs. Applicants will be notified promptly as to their admission by letter from the Director of Admissions.

Special Student status permits the student to register for courses during one academic year. To continue studies beyond this period, admission to a regular degree program of the Seminary is required.

Financial Aid is not available to Special Students, and in most cases international students cannot be granted visas as Special Student.

Knowledge of the English Bible

A thorough knowledge of the English Bible is expected of all recipients of the M.Div., M.A.R., and M.A. degrees at Westminster. Every student entering the Seminary should do so with as comprehensive a knowledge of the English Bible as possible. Each student is required to pass either an English Bible examination or the course PT 013P
English Bible Survey. The English Bible examination must be passed no later than the end of the winter term examination period of the year in which a student expects to graduate. If a student finishes coursework during the fall semester or winter term, the exam must be passed by the September of his or her last fall semester.

At the beginning of each semester and at two other times during each academic year (see the academic calendar for exact dates), an examination will be administered to test the student’s knowledge of the English Bible. The maximum number of times a student may take this examination is three. If the examination is failed three times, the student will be required to take the course PT 013P. This course is offered annually during the second semester and meets for two hours each week. The tuition charge for the course is one-half the normal hourly tuition rate. No auditing of the course is permitted.

Theological Writing Standards
The ability to produce quality written work in English is expected of all Westminster degree recipients. Mid-career students and students from a non-liberal arts background find it helpful to review English rhetoric and grammar, and strengthen their research and citation skills. International students with extensive English language training, as well as those with advanced degrees in other professional fields, find it advantageous to learn the expectations of American academic writing; to study the special features of theological genres; and to receive feedback on their linguistic accuracy. Westminster is committed to helping students improve their writing through the Advanced Theological Writing course (PT 031P/033P) and through individual tutorials at the Westminster Center for Theological Writing.

All non-native English speakers must take Advanced Theological Writing (PT 031P/033P), unless their TOEFL and TWE score is higher than 630 (267 computer, 111iBT) and 5.5 respectively. Faculty members may also require a student to enroll in Advanced Theological Writing (PT 031P/033P). The Registrar will be notified by the faculty member if a student is required to take the course. See the course description on pages 120-121 for further requirements.

Short-term tutorials and editing services are available through the Westminster Center for Theological Writing. Faculty members may direct students whom they identify as needing help on their writing to receive tutoring at the Writing Center. See page 14 for more information.
Transfer of Credit

An official determination of transfer credit will be considered after the student has been accepted into a degree program at Westminster. After a student registers, requests for transfer credit should be reviewed with the Registrar’s Office. Approval for transfers must be secured from faculty department heads.

The transfer credit granted will reduce accordingly the number of hours required at Westminster. If the student has not received a Master’s degree from another institution, to obtain an M.Div. degree the student must take at least 40 credit hours of study at Westminster. The Greek, Hebrew, English Bible Survey, and Advanced Theological Writing courses may not be included in these 40 credit hours.

Ordinarily, the Seminary may accept up to one-half of credits earned for a first theological degree awarded by another institution toward a degree at Westminster, not to exceed one-half of the credits required for the degree at Westminster. In the case of the M.Div. program, at least 46 credit hours of study at Westminster will be required and at least 28 credit hours for the M.A.R. or M.A. program. In all the cases cited above, the credits required at Westminster will normally include the final 24 hours of study.

Only courses in which a grade of C- or above was received will be considered for transfer credit to an M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. degree program. Only courses in which a grade of B or above was received will be considered for transfer credit to a Th.M. or Ph.D. degree program.

Upon approval by the Registrar, credit earned for course work completed at The Christian Counseling & Educational Foundation is transferable to the M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. programs. Normally, up to two courses may be transferred without tuition payment. Students may request approval for two additional courses to be transferred. Full Westminster tuition is required for these additional courses. No more than four courses will be taken as transfer credit. For any coursework to be considered for transfer from CCEF, the courses must be completed (including having been graded) prior to beginning any coursework at Westminster.

Auditing

A limited number of auditors are permitted in most courses. Persons desiring to audit are required to secure the permission of the Registrar, complete the necessary registration, and pay a non-refundable fee for each course audited (see page 140). Class attendance is subject to the approval of the instructor.

Persons desiring to audit an unlimited number of classes for a week are required to secure the permission of the Registrar, complete the necessary registration, and pay a non-refundable fee (see page 140). This special fee does not apply to modular, short-term (less than one-month) courses. No auditing of D.Min. modules is permitted.

Full-time students and their spouses, full-time members of the faculty and staff and their spouses and children, and part-time employees may audit courses without charge. All others pay one-half the tuition rate they would be charged to take a course for credit. Students who have previously earned a Westminster degree pay one-fourth the tuition they would be charged to take a course for credit. If the course is at or below the level of the degree they received from Westminster, there is no charge to audit. For this purpose, the Ph.D. and Th.M. degrees are considered as on an equal level. An M.A. degree is considered as a lower degree than the M.Div. and M.A.R. degrees. A Certificate is not considered a degree program.

The spouses of full-time students are permitted to audit only up to the number of credit hours for which the spouse is currently enrolled. Persons desiring to audit should complete the necessary registration forms with the Registrar’s Office.

Auditing privileges include regular class attendance, copies of all printed material distributed to the class, the opportunity to ask occasional questions in class, and full library privileges. Normally, auditors will not be permitted to participate in classroom exercises or recitations or to make seminar presentations, nor will assignments or examinations be reviewed or graded by the instructor.

Occasional visitors must seek permission of the instructor for each class they wish to attend and will not have the privilege of participation in class discussion.

The Church Leader Audit offers an opportunity for people in positions of church leadership to audit courses. Westminster offers one free course audit per semester for those in official ministry positions in the church. This is available for four people per church per semester. An Application Form from the auditor and a Letter of Recommendation from the sending church is required. Eligible courses are from the M.A., M.A.R. and M.Div. degree programs of study only. All language classes are excluded for audit. Please be sure to apply as early as possible so classes may be planned for space availability; some courses may be closed due to high enrollment. See the Westminster website (www.wts.edu) or contact the Admissions Office for further information and application forms.

Independent Study Courses
Qualified students may make arrangements with available faculty to do research courses on subjects of interest and value. These courses will be conducted by means of assigned reading, a thesis, conferences with the professor, and, at the option of the professor, an examination. Such courses may be pursued only by students who are also registered for class work, unless they have previously attained in this institution a general academic standing of 2.80 or better. No more than 25 percent of credit hours for any of the M.Div. (23 hours), M.A.R. (14 hours), or M.A. (14 hours) programs may be taken by independent study courses. Distance Learning courses offered through the Institute of Theological Studies (see pages 49-50) are included in the independent study courses.

Taking independent study courses for required courses in the curriculum is discouraged, and may only be taken with the approval of the faculty member who normally teaches the course and of the Committee of Three.

If it is necessary to drop an independent study course, the normal tuition refund schedule will apply.

Certificate in Christian Studies Program
A Certificate in Christian Studies program is offered for men and women who desire graduate-level courses from Westminster but do not desire to enter a degree program.

Admission to the certificate program requires the same qualifications as admission for the M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. program. Registration, tuition charges, and all academic procedures and prerequisites are also the same.

The Certificate will be earned after the completion of 25 semester hours. All courses in the Certificate program must be taken under the auspices of Westminster Theological Seminary. Included must be AP 101 Introduction to Apologetics, ST 131 Survey of Reformed Theology, and ten hours of core urban courses as follows: PTM 151 Mission to the City, PTM 143 Contextual Theology, PTM 171 Mission Anthropology, PTM 373 Mission and Mercy Ministries, PTM 671/673 Urban Mission Seminar (two semesters). Greek and Hebrew are not approved for credit toward the Certificate program. As with other degree programs, these languages do not count toward required credit hours. Language work was not the intention of the Certificate program.

Students who earn a Certificate in Christian Studies from Westminster and desire to apply this work toward an M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. degree must surrender the Certificate prior to graduation. Before choosing to enter a program beyond the Certificate, students should consult with the Registrar’s Office in regard to which courses will transfer to the M.Div., M.A.R. or M.A. program.

Financial aid is not available to participants in this program, and in most cases international students cannot be granted visas for participating in this program.

Certificate in Biblical and Urban Studies
A Certificate in Biblical and Urban Studies program is offered for men and women currently ministering or desirous of ministering in urban areas surrounding Philadelphia who would like to take graduate-level courses from Westminster but do not desire to enter a degree program.

Admission to the certificate program requires the same qualifications as admission for the M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. program. Registration, tuition charges, and all academic procedures and prerequisites are also the same.

The Certificate will be earned after the completion of 25 semester hours. All courses in the Certificate program must be taken under the auspices of Westminster Theological Seminary. Included must be AP 101 Introduction to Apologetics, ST 101 Introduction to Systematic Theology. Greek and Hebrew are not approved for credit toward the Certificate program. As with other degree programs, these languages do not count toward required credit hours. Language work was not the intention of the Certificate program.

Students who earn a Certificate in Biblical and Urban Studies from Westminster and then desire to apply this work toward the M.A. - Urban Mission must surrender the Certificate prior to graduation. Students should be aware that not all courses will transfer to the M.Div. or M.A.R. program.
Financial aid is not available to participants in this program, and in most cases international students cannot be granted visas for participating in this program.

Holy Land Studies
The Seminary is associated with the Jerusalem University College (www.juc.edu). Students who participate in this program may receive academic credit upon approval by the Registrar, in consultation with the relevant department coordinator, and scholarship aid may be granted to help defray the costs of such participation. Information concerning Holy Land studies may be secured from the Director of the Program for Holy Land Studies.

Students in the programs indicated below may complete part of their program at the Jerusalem University College (JUC) as indicated:

1. Elective course work for the M.Div. or the M.A.R. program(s) may be selected from among approved Master’s-level courses at JUC. A student may request transfer of up to 18 elective hours based on the student’s program.

2. Up to one-third (two courses) of the course work for either the Th.M. in Old Testament or the Th.M. in New Testament may be selected from among approved Master’s-level courses at JUC.

3. Up to one-third (five courses) of the course work for the Ph.D. in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation may be selected from approved Master’s-level courses at JUC. Normally, students will need to complete additional work in each of the Master’s courses taken at JUC in order for those courses to count in Westminster’s Ph.D. program. Arrangements for this additional work should be made in advance through the coordinator of the Ph.D. Field Committee at Westminster and in consultation with the appropriate faculty member at JUC.

4. Any academic work completed by a Westminster student at JUC will be regarded as transfer work when it is applied to the student’s program at Westminster.

5. Westminster students who, under provisions (1), (2), and (3) above, take any work at JUC ordinarily will be expected to participate in an approved Reformed ministry in Israel.

Distance Learning and the Institute of Theological Studies
Westminster offers a limited number of courses by Distance Learning using audio recordings and the Internet. Courses may be applied towards the degree programs offered on the Philadelphia and Texas campuses or towards the Certificate in Christian Studies. As with independent study courses, students who are applying earned credits towards a degree program may complete up to 25 percent of the required semester hours by Distance Learning.

The Distance Learning program includes courses developed by Westminster and by the Institute of Theological Studies (ITS), a consortium of 23 other seminaries, all of which are committed to the inerrancy of Scripture. The approved audio-programmed independent study courses, created under the auspices of either Westminster or ITS, are available at the Master’s level. Beside each course title is listed the individual who teaches the audio course, the amount of credit involved in the course, the department at Westminster which offers the course, and the charge for the program materials for the current academic year (prices are subject to change and do not include the textbooks). Those courses, which are marked with an asterisk (*), may also be available at the doctoral level upon petition to the appropriate Field Committee.

In order to receive credit for one of these courses, a student who has been admitted to Westminster should first discuss his or her plan with the Registrar’s Office. The Registrar’s Office will then assist the student in securing written permission from an available faculty member who will supervise the course. This written permission, along with payment for tuition and program materials, must then be presented to the Registrar during one of the normal registration periods. These courses are registered under the initials of the Westminster professor and shown as Res.: (WTS or ITS #) (title) (hrs.). All course work must be completed by the end of the semester for which registration was made. Distance courses may not be taken over the winter term.

Students taking courses at the Philadelphia or Texas campuses should not take required courses on tape without the permission of the Faculty Committee of Three.

Distance Education courses administered through The Christian Counseling & Educational Foundation are not eligible for Westminster credit while a student is taking courses at Westminster. CCEF’s Distance Education courses may be permitted for transfer to Westminster (see Transfer of Credit for the policy on transferring courses from CCEF). Coursework must be completed (including having been graded) prior to matriculation to Westminster to be considered for transfer.
Degree Programs

General Requirements – M.Div. and M.A.R.

ITS materials must be ordered through the Registrar’s Office. Students living at a distance from the Seminary may register by mail or email; the registration materials and payment for tuition and program materials must reach the Registrar’s Office at least three weeks prior to the registration date for the term during which the student wishes to take the course. There will be an additional fee charged for shipping materials to students.

Course materials should be ordered through the Registrar’s Office. Materials will be ordered approximately three weeks prior to the semester that course is taken. The last day to register for a distance learning course is three weeks before the start of the semester. If it is necessary to drop the course, the normal tuition refund schedule will apply.

Most of these courses will be counted as program electives. A few, with the written permission of the Registrar and the Faculty Committee of Three, may be counted as program requirements; in these cases, the required course for which the ITS course may be counted is indicated below. Prices for course materials are subject to change.

Requirements for the M.Div. and M.A.R. Degrees

Beginning the Program

Students entering the program are strongly advised to begin their work with the summer term Greek or Hebrew course unless they previously have completed the equivalent of the work in one of these languages. Students not needing to take one of these languages should begin in the first semester in order to finish their program in the designated time. Students will be permitted to begin their program in winter term or in second semester; however, by starting mid-year, students will usually need to extend the length of time for completion of the degree requirements.

Program Requirements

The following academic requirements apply to both M.Div. and M.A.R. programs:

1. Twelve credit hours during a semester, or three credit hours during the winter term, is the minimum program for a full-time student. No student may take more than 20 credit hours during a semester without the permission of the faculty. Not more than five credit hours may be taken during the winter term.

2. M.A.R. and M.Div. students who have obtained credit for 24 hours of the curriculum or give evidence of possessing exceptional qualifications, may elect advanced level courses (Th.M. and Ph.D.). These courses carry three hours of elective credit. Such students shall have maintained a general average of 3.20 or its equivalent for the preceding academic year, whether in this institution or elsewhere. Additional prerequisites for admission to particular courses may be required by the professor in charge. There will be an additional tuition charge for these courses.

3. No student will be granted a degree who lacks the equivalent of the courses in the original languages of Scripture, or whose cumulative academic average at the completion of the program is lower than 1.80. The degree shall be granted only to persons enrolled at Westminster at the time of the completion of their program of study. A student who has completed requirements by the end of the winter term of the year of graduation may receive the degree in absentia.

4. The policies pertaining to all non-native English speakers are the same for all degree programs. See pages 38-39.

5. International students must be full-time each semester; see page 39 for the number of semesters allowed to complete the degree program. International students should always allow three years to complete an M.A.R. and four years to complete an M.Div., due to Greek and Hebrew requirements.

6. See academic requirements regarding Registration and Attendance, Withdrawal/Reinstatement, and Academic Standing on pages 41-44.

7. Students who already possess a Westminster M.A.R. degree may receive an M.Div. by completing the following:
   a. all of the course requirements for the M.Div. (many of which will have been met in the M.A.R. program);
   b. the M.Div. Mentored Ministry requirements;
   c. a total of at least 120 semester hours of academic work at the M.A.R./M.Div. level, not including Hebrew and Greek, or a total of at least 140 semester hours of academic work at the M.A.R./M.Div. level, including Hebrew and Greek.

Placement in Greek and Hebrew

Instruction in the Bible presupposes a knowledge of Greek and Hebrew, and students are strongly advised to acquire such knowledge during their college course. However, a student is not required to have previous training in Greek or Hebrew to begin the program. Those who have had Greek or Hebrew before entrance should take the Greek or Hebrew placement exam. See the Academic Calendar for dates of the exams. Note: in order to avoid complications due to a lack of prerequisites, these should be taken upon initial matriculation to the Seminary and may only be taken once. A total of at least 92 credit hours plus certified competency in Hebrew and Greek courses is required for the M.Div. degree.

Any matriculating student who wishes to place in a Greek class other than in one of the elementary classes (Greek “a” or “aa”) must take the regular placement test at the start of his or her program.

The student should follow a single track from the beginning, unless the student is granted advanced placement based on the results of the Greek or Hebrew placement exam. The language curriculum and schedule are designed for the student to follow standard schedules on pages 55-60 or 64-66. Any deviation from a suggested schedule may result in a course conflict which may delay the student’s progress in a degree program. The available language courses are as follows:

Master of Divinity

A student who holds a baccalaureate degree from an approved institution receives the degree of Master of Divinity (M.Div.) on the completion of the prescribed program of study. The purpose of this program is twofold: (1) to prepare men for the pastoral ministry and to equip them to meet ecclesiastical requirements for ordination (Pastoral Ministry Track); (2) to train men and women for gospel ministries of a more specialized sort (General Ministries Track). Such ministries might include counseling, Christian education, youth work, college and university student ministries, and urban service.

Students planning to seek ordination for pastoral ministry should be aware that completion of the M.Div. degree in a General Ministries Track may not satisfy the requirements for ordination of certain denominations. This is particularly the case if the sequence of courses in preaching is not included. One should check with the appropriate denominational judicatory.

The program of study prescribed for the M.Div. degree provides two tracks for training, in keeping with the twofold purpose of the program: (1) a Pastoral Ministry Track and (2) a General Ministries Track which has three emphases: General Studies, Counseling, and Urban Mission. The degree requirements for the two tracks are the same except for certain Practical Theology courses. Successful completion of a program of Mentored Ministry is required in both tracks. Students should contact the Mentored Ministry Office at the beginning of the second semester of their first year in order to arrange for completing their required four units of ministry.

Courses in both tracks are arranged to provide for orderly progress within the work of each department and for coherence within each semester of study. All of the programs require at least three years of full-time study (16-17 hours per semester, plus winter term) for completion. Note that in order to complete the program in the minimum time, the student must begin with the summer term and complete the courses in sequence as noted on pages 55-60. (Students who cannot carry a full course load as indicated, because of employment or other reasons, usually must extend the length of their seminary program.)

In the Pastoral Ministry Track, a three-year and a four-year program are listed on pages 55-57. Students interested in taking the General Ministries Track in four years may secure a suggested outline from the Registrar or online at www.wts.edu.

The Registrar and Dean of Students are available for counsel concerning individual student needs.

Admission to the Program

Admission requirements can be found on pages 37-40. Students should also note the transfer of credit policy on page 47.

Mentored Ministry

A biblical understanding of wisdom prevents us from separating knowing and doing, learning and practice. Wisdom unites the facets of knowledge, character, and skill. It results from academic learning and practical experience when accompanied by supervision and self-examination. Candidates for the M.Div. degree are therefore required to participate in mentored field experience in ministry. All arrangements for Mentored Ministry requirements are handled through the Mentored Ministry Office.

Requirements
The M.Div. academic curriculum (except the M.Div. - Counseling) includes the required two-hour course, PT 111 Orientation to Ministry. This course introduces Mentored Ministry and is a prerequisite for any approved field experience.

The M.Div. candidate must complete four units of Mentored Ministry to qualify for the degree. The four units must be completed before the end of December in the academic year the student expects to graduate. Several formats are available. The units may be taken concurrently with the academic year or during summer or year-long internships. For students in the M.Div. - Counseling program, the Mentored Ministry will ordinarily occur in a counseling setting, primarily in a local church. It is strongly recommended that at least one unit be completed in a cultural setting different from the student's own.

The M.Div. student must participate in at least two integration seminars. These are semester-long weekly sessions of one hour each in which no more than 12 students meet with faculty to analyze and discuss the actual ministry experience of the participants. The seminars are offered each semester and are not assigned academic credit. However, each student must participate in two seminars to complete the requirements of Mentored Ministry.

M.Div. - Counseling students should be aware that although they will receive priority consideration for CCEF internships, CCEF cannot guarantee counseling internships to each M.Div. - Counseling student.

Each student must participate in a final evaluation/interview held during the final year. Fieldwork appraisals are a part of the final year evaluation. The purpose of the evaluation is to assess the student’s gifts, strengths, and weaknesses, as well as overall readiness for ministry. The resulting assessment in no way can jeopardize the granting of the M.Div. degree if the student completes all Mentored Ministry units and academic requirements.

Credit
One unit of Mentored Ministry credit is received for 100-120 hours of mentored field experience under an approved mentor. Units of Mentored Ministry are not assigned credit hours and no grades are given. Approval for any unit may be withheld by the Director of Mentored Ministry if ministry proposals are not fulfilled or if evaluations and other requirements are not completed by prescribed dates.

No credit may be given for ministry experience prior to matriculation at Westminster. Transfer credit for up to two units of Mentored Ministry may be given to students who transfer from other seminaries with approved programs of mentored field experience.

M.Div. candidates are strongly encouraged to take Evangelism Explosion training for one unit of credit in the Mentored Ministry program. One unit of credit in the program also can be given for successful completion of the Sonship course available through World Harvest Mission. Also, one credit unit can be received by serving on campus as a Mentored Ministry Partner to incoming international students. At completion the student must submit a statement reflecting on the implications of this program for ministry in the church and in the world. The Mentored Ministry Office will seek to make such training accessible.

Time Limit
The M.Div. degree is designed as either a three-year or a four-year program. Three years is the minimum amount of time (without transfer credit) it will take to complete the degree. Frequently, students take four years to complete the degree, in order that they may take Greek and Hebrew in different years.

Students who are taking courses on a part-time basis should adjust their course work plans and time limits according to their individual needs.

Sample Schedules
Suggested schedules for the M.Div. programs are provided on the following pages. Alternative schedules are available on the Seminary website (www.wts.edu) or from the Registrar's Office.

Master of Arts in Religion

A student who holds a baccalaureate degree from an approved institution receives the degree of Master of Arts in Religion (M.A.R.) on the completion of the prescribed program of study. The program requires at least two years of full-time study (16-18 hours per semester plus winter term) for completion. Note that in order to complete the program in two years, the student must begin with the summer term Greek or Hebrew course and complete the courses in sequence as listed in the sample schedules shown on subsequent pages, and also complete the Summative Evaluation Experience. (Students who cannot carry a full course load as indicated, because of employment or other reasons, usually must extend the length of their seminary program.)

This program is designed for men and women who desire a theological background and training for various callings other than the gospel ministry or for advanced study in religion or other disciplines.

The M.A.R. is an academic program which may serve either as a terminal degree or as a degree leading to further academic work. In the former case, it is especially appropriate for Christian professionals (such as physicians, attorneys, teachers, administrators, writers, and other laypeople) who desire simply to provide for themselves a solid biblical foundation for the work in which they are or will be engaged.

When the M.A.R. is conceived of as a terminal degree, the choice of emphasis will depend upon the individual’s aptitudes, interests, and career direction. Individuals who desire thorough and extensive familiarity with the biblical materials themselves should choose the Biblical Studies emphasis. Those whose interests and concerns involve overall theological or historical perspectives would probably be better served with a Theological Studies emphasis. If future work seems likely to involve service in an inner-city context, the Urban Mission emphasis will be particularly appropriate. A General Studies emphasis allows a student to individualize the program even more and thereby make it directly relevant to his or her own situation.

All of those for whom the M.A.R. is a terminal degree receive thorough grounding in the Scriptures, Reformed theology, church history, and apologetics. All graduates of the program, therefore, possess tools with which to bring the Lordship of Christ to bear directly upon that part of God’s world in which they are called to serve. This satisfies one of the purposes of the program.

Another purpose of the M.A.R. is as a stepping stone for further academic work. An individual taking the M.A.R. in Biblical Studies is particularly well prepared for doctoral work in that field (either at Westminster or elsewhere) and the same would be true for an individual taking the M.A.R. in Theological Studies (see pages 86-92). Those who complete the M.A.R. with an Urban Mission emphasis will have a good foundation for further academic work in sociology, anthropology, and related disciplines and, with additional seminary-level course work, will be eligible to enter Westminster’s D.Min. - Urban Mission program (see pages 83-85) program.

Admission to the Program

Admission requirements can be found on pages 37-40. Students should also note the transfer of credit policy on page 47.

Requirements for the Degree

See the following sections: Beginning the Program, Program Requirements, and Placement in Greek and Hebrew (pages 51-52).

The student chooses one of the following emphases: Biblical Studies, Theological Studies, Urban Mission, or General Studies. A student desiring to proceed to the Ph.D. in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation should choose the M.A.R. - Biblical Studies, and a student desiring to proceed to the Ph.D. in Historical and Theological Studies should choose the M.A.R. - Theological Studies.

A total of at least 55 credit hours, including the Summative Evaluation Experience, plus required Hebrew (OT 011-2-3) and Greek (NT 010-1-3) courses is required for the M.A.R. degree. Courses are to be selected from the three categories below. Additional requirements are noted in the section, “Major Courses, Electives, or Other Requirements.”
Master of Arts in Religion

Core Courses - Total of 23 credit hours plus Elements of Hebrew and Greek.

All students must take the same core courses. These are:

- OT 211 Old Testament History and Theology I 3 hrs
- NT 111 New Testament Introduction 3 hrs
- NT 123 Hermeneutics 4 hrs
- CH 321 The Modern Age 4 hrs
- ST 101 Introduction to Systematic Theology 2 hrs
- ST 313 Doctrine of Salvation II 4 hrs
- AP 101 Introduction to Apologetics 3 hrs

(Hebrew track, see page 52)

Courses shown in parentheses represent language requirements of 19 hours. These are needed by students without knowledge of Hebrew or Greek and are not counted in the required hours for graduation but are counted in the grade point average. Those who have had Hebrew or Greek before entrance will need to take a placement test for advanced standing or exemption.

Departmental Courses

Total credit for courses needed from the below will vary, depending on the hours in the courses chosen; however, these choices are governed by the choice of a major.

All students must take one course in each department from the following:

- Old Testament
  - OT 113 Old Testament Introduction 3 hrs
  - OT 223 Old Testament History and Theology II 3 hrs
  - OT 311 Prophetic Books 3 hrs
  - OT 323 Poetry and Wisdom 2 hrs

- New Testament
  - NT 211 The Gospels 4 hrs
  - NT 223 Acts and the Pauline Epistles 4 hrs

- Church History
  - CH 211 The Ancient Church 2 hrs
  - CH 223 The Medieval Church 2 hrs
  - CH 311 The Reformation 3 hrs

- Systematic Theology and Apologetics
  - ST 113 Doctrine of God 2 hrs
  - ST 211 Doctrine of Man 2 hrs
  - ST 223 Doctrine of Salvation I 3 hrs
  - ST 323 Christian Ethics 4 hrs
  - AP 213 Principles in Christian Apologetics 3 hrs

  PT 211 Doctrine of the Church (required for M.A.R. - Urban Mission emphasis) 2 hrs

Major Courses, Electives, or Other Requirements

M.A.R. students take the remainder of their required hours in major courses or electives, and fulfill additional requirements, as follows:

1. A student choosing the Biblical Studies emphasis needs all M.Div. OT and NT courses as listed in the sample schedules on the following pages.

2. A student choosing the Theological Studies emphasis needs all M.Div. CH, ST, and AP courses as listed in the sample schedules on the following pages.

3. A student choosing the Urban Mission emphasis needs a total of 22 hours in Practical Theology courses (see page 120).

4. A student choosing the General Studies emphasis may complete the remaining hours of the program by choosing any courses offered in the M.A.R. or M.Div. programs, except where limitations are noted in the course descriptions. Under an arrangement with the Jerusalem University College (JUC), students choosing the General Studies emphasis may complete some of their program requirements at JUC. See page 49 for further details.

The M.A.R. Summative Evaluation Experience

To provide students in the various M.A.R. programs with an opportunity to review and draw into a comprehensive unity the material of the different courses in the curriculum, there will be a concluding examination that allows for a summative evaluation of the students’ total program. For all programs, this will involve an “open book” take-home examination to be completed within 24 hours in the spring semester of a student’s final year. Students finishing their course work by the end of December or January, prior to May graduation, will take the exam in the fall semester.

The examination will involve three questions. For the M.A.R. - Biblical Studies student, there will be one in Old Testament, one in New Testament, and one in hermeneutics. For the M.A.R. - Theological Studies student, there will be one in systematic theology, one in apologetics, and one in church history. For the M.A.R. - General Studies student, there will be a choice of any three from the six topics above. For the M.A.R. - Urban Mission student, there will be one from gospel communication, one from contextualization and urban anthropology, and one from mission to the city. The examination must be typed (double-spaced) and each question answered separately in two to four pages. The examinations will be distributed on the Thursday of the sixth full week of the spring semester and are to be returned by the end of the next day (4:30 p.m. on Friday of the sixth full week of classes).

This summative examination will count for one semester hour of credit (taking the place of one hour of elective credit in the current curriculum). It will be graded on a Pass/Fail basis. If a student should fail, a petition for a retake examination within a three-week period may be considered. The questions of the summative examination aim at giving students the opportunity to demonstrate that they can apply the knowledge acquired in the M.A.R. programs. Research will not be necessary for answering these questions. Rather, the questions will be designed to allow the student to draw upon the course work here. Given that it is an “open book” examination, students may make use of any research materials that they see fit. The examination is administered through the Academic Affairs Office.

Time Limit

The M.A.R. degree is designed as a two-year program. This is the minimum time (without transfer credit) that it will take to complete the degree. Frequently, students take three years to complete the degree in order that they may take Greek and Hebrew in different years.

Students who are taking courses on a part-time basis should adjust their course work plans and time limits according to their individual needs.

Sample Schedules

The following sample schedules place the courses in proper order, according to the term offered and the prerequisites needed. Students should consult with the Registrar before altering these sample schedules.

Due to the large number of elective credit choices available to the M.A.R. - General Studies student, no sample schedule is provided. Students may consult the schedules for Theological Studies and Biblical Studies for timing regarding taking core courses.

*It is suggested that a student select courses so as to have approximately 16 hours in each of the four semesters, 3 hours in each of the two winter terms, and 4 or more hours in the summer term, including the total sequence of languages. Students are advised to note semesters in which courses are offered and the prerequisites for each course in order to properly plan their course of study. Or students may take PTM 173.
Master of Arts

A student who holds a baccalaureate degree from an approved institution receives the degree of Master of Arts (M.A.) on the completion of the prescribed program of study. The program requires at least two years of full-time study for completion.

The Master of Arts is a professional degree program designed to train men and women preparing to serve Christ in occupations other than the ordained Gospel ministry.

This program, with its emphases in Urban Mission (including a specialized program for ministry in New York) and Biblical Counseling, builds on basic biblical, theological, and historical foundations. These are integrated and sharpened through active involvement in the area of concentration throughout the entire course of study.

Admission to the Program

Admission requirements can be found on pages 37-40. Students should also note the transfer of credit policy on page 47.

Requirements for the Degree

Twelve credit hours during a semester, or three credit hours during the winter term, is the minimum program for a full-time student. No student may take more than 20 credit hours during a semester without the permission of the faculty. Not more than five credit hours may be taken during the winter term.

No student will be granted a degree whose cumulative academic average at the completion of the program is lower than 1.80. The degree shall be granted only to persons enrolled at Westminster at the time of the completion of their program of study. A student who has completed requirements by the end of the winter term of the year of graduation may receive the degree in absentia.

The policies pertaining to all non-native English speakers are the same for all degree programs. See page 38.

International students must be full-time each semester; see page 40 for the number of semesters allowed to complete the degree program.

Students should be aware that many of the M.A. courses are offered in the evening hours.

Core Courses

All students must take the following core courses regardless of concentration:

- OT 131 Biblical Theology I 3 hrs
- OT 143 Old Testament for Ministry 3 hrs
- NT 133 Biblical Theology II 3 hrs
- NT 141 New Testament for Ministry 3 hrs
- AP 101 Introduction to Apologetics 3 hrs
- ST 131 Survey of Reformed Theology 3 hrs
- CH 131 Survey of Church History 3 hrs
- PT 173 Biblical Interpretation 3 hrs
- PTC 261 Human Personality 3 hrs

Biblical Counseling Emphasis

The M.A. in Biblical Counseling is designed to sharpen and train gifted laypeople, elders, missionaries, campus workers, crisis pregnancy workers, pastors who want a Westminster continuing education program, Sunday school teachers, and those who want to serve in non-ordained, church staff positions (e.g., children’s ministries, small groups coordinator, men’s ministries, women’s ministries, family ministries).

Time Limit

Fifty-six credit hours of course work are required for completion of the program. The course work is designed to be completed in two years of full-time study. Part-time students should expect to spend a minimum of three years. There is no final project required of this program.
The M.A. Degree and State Licensure

Students desiring to use the M.A. - Biblical Counseling degree as a step towards state licensure as a Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) should be aware of further requirements in addition to the M.A. degree. The prerequisites for licensure vary from state to state, and interested students should consult his or her state’s website for specific requirements. Most states require at least twelve additional credits above the M.A., 100 hours of practicum experience, and a 600-hour supervised internship. Each course within the M.A. Mentored Ministry Practicum cluster satisfies 25 hours toward the practicum requirement for licensure. Students interested in licensure should take all three Mentored Ministry Practicum cluster courses, in addition to the required Counseling Observation course, to gain a total of 100 practicum hours. Students seeking licensure have the option of completing 600 hours, instead of 100 hours of supervised internship during their Mentored Ministry, in preparation for licensure. Contact the Admission Office for materials on the Pennsylvania Licensure regulations and how the M.A. program contributes to the necessary prerequisites.

Mentored Ministry

Every course within the M.A. - Biblical Counseling program emphasizes practical application. There is no pure theory course because we are persuaded that all theology must be applied theology. But there are aspects of the curriculum, such as the Mentored Ministry program, that are intended to maximize the counseling experience.

All arrangements for Mentored Ministry requirements are handled through the Mentored Ministry Office.

Requirements

Students are required to take at least one observation course. This course gives students the opportunity to be part of the counseling process.

Courses

Students are required to take two courses in the Mentored Ministry Practicum cluster. Each course within that cluster is intended to either provide oversight of the student’s own counseling cases or provide the student with practical counseling experiences. Students may choose from among the following courses to complete the Mentored Ministry Practicum cluster:

- PTC 432 Essential Qualities of a Biblical Counselor
- PTC 673 Case Study Seminar
- PTC 371P/3P Counseling Observation (a second one)

Mentored Ministry Experience

Students are required to complete a Mentored Ministry experience in the area of biblical counseling. Students are expected to be involved in at least 100 face-to-face ministry hours over the course of their program (approximately two hours per week over four semesters). As early in their program as possible, they will draw up a formal Mentored Ministry proposal with a ministry mentor. The mentor can be a pastor, elder, or leader in the area in which they want to emphasize in their own ministry (for example, campus ministry, social work, missions, women’s ministry, etc.). They will meet with this person at least monthly. Along with meeting with their mentors, the students will submit ministry goals at the beginning of each semester to the Mentored Ministry Office. At the end of each semester the student will submit a two-to-three page report reviewing progress toward those goals. The goals and the progress made toward reaching them will be reviewed by a faculty member with the student each semester.

Students desiring to work toward licensure are expected to complete the 600-hour requirement under the supervision of a licensed counseling professional. The student is responsible to initiate the establishment of such a supervisory setting and relationship. Students should contact the Mentored Ministry Office by the end of his or her first semester in the M.A. program to declare their intent to complete 600 hours and to begin documentation of hours. Westminster will only record and document the completion of either 100 hours or 600 hours toward Mentored Ministry work. All hours must be completed prior to graduation.

Urban Mission Emphasis

The M.A. in Urban Mission is designed to prepare the student for ministry in the Philadelphia area, in other North American cities, and in cities around the world. Using the resources of Philadelphia’s urban complex, a program of study has been developed which seeks to integrate traditional features of Westminster’s academic curriculum with involvement in, and reflection on, urban community and church life.

Requirements

The M.A. - Urban Mission program is composed of 52 credit hours of course work and a summative project worth 4 hours of credit.

The summative project is intended to aid the student to implement in ministry the insights gained in the course phase. PTM 353 is a one-hour seminar in urban research which should be taken during the same semester as undertaking the project. This seminar is designed to present urban research methods and to assist students in fulfilling the requirements of their approved project.

Projects should be approximately 30-50 pages in length. An excellent project will demonstrate both experiential knowledge in the chosen field of urban ministry and an awareness of the scholarship relevant to the project topic. A current bibliography is essential to the well-written project. Projects will require research in the field. The course requirements are shown on the chart on the following page.

* The four elective hours must be chosen from courses in the Practical Theology department within the following limitations:
  1. Any PTM elective course may be chosen.
  2. Other elective courses in the Practical Theology department may be chosen, but these must have the approval of the Director of the Urban Mission Program.
(A few courses are limited to other degree programs; this is noted in the course description.)
Urban Mission Emphasis–For Ministry in New York

In conjunction with City Seminary of New York, Westminster offers a specialized M.A. in Urban Mission designed to prepare the student for Christian ministry primarily in the New York City area. The program will have 50 percent of its classes taught in New York City, with the remaining 50 percent taken at Westminster’s Philadelphia campus, primarily through intensive summer courses. Following the regular M.A. - Urban Mission, this program of study has been developed seeking to integrate traditional features of Westminster’s academic curriculum with involvement in, and reflection on, urban community, church life, and the effects of globalization on United States cities and ministries. Generally speaking, new students will enter in the fall semester and join a cohort, with whom they will remain throughout their program.

Requirements

The M.A. - Urban Mission - for Ministry in New York is composed of 50 credit hours, comprising of course work and a four-hour summative project. The summative project is intended to aid the student in implementing the insights gained in the course phase in ministry. An excellent project will demonstrate both experiential knowledge in the chosen field of urban ministry and an awareness of the scholarship relevant to the project topic. A current bibliography is essential to the well-written project.
Master of Theology

A student who holds a baccalaureate degree and the M.Div. degree, or first graduate theological degree providing equivalent theological background, or its educational equivalent (see 4 under Credentials below) from approved institutions, receives the degree of Master of Theology (Th.M.) on the completion of the prescribed program of study.

To satisfy the biblical language requirement for the Th.M. program, the applicant must have the equivalent of what is required for Westminster’s M.Div. or M.A.R. programs.

The purpose of the Th.M. is to increase the student’s knowledge of a major field of theological learning, particularly through training and practice in the use of the methods and tools of theological research, and thus to further his preparation for a pastoral ministry, or for his or her teaching ministry, or for more advanced graduate study. The following majors are offered: Old Testament, New Testament, Church History, Systematic Theology, and Apologetics.

The Th.M. program is designed to be completed in one academic year of full-time study. It is not unusual for a student to require an additional year to complete the thesis and comprehensive examination.

Each candidate must indicate continuation in the program by registering at the beginning of each semester. In each semester in which no new course work is taken, candidacy is maintained by payment of a continuation fee. This fee is due September 1 for the fall semester and February 1 for the spring semester.

Admission to the Program

Credentials

An applicant not previously registered at Westminster (Philadelphia or Texas) must present the following credentials to the Office of Admissions by January 15:

1. An application on a form provided by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) including personal statements and a spouse statement, if applicable.

2. A non-refundable application fee. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)

3. In place of a personal statement as described on the application form, the application will provide a statement (1) giving a brief history of the applicant’s academic and theological preparation, (2) indicating reasons for wishing to pursue a program of advanced theological study, and (3) indicating the major desired or the objective the applicant is seeking to attain.

4. A full official transcript of all college work, including an attestation of the attainment of a baccalaureate degree, and a full transcript of the applicant’s theological program, including an attestation of the attainment of the M.Div. degree or first graduate theological degree providing equivalent theological background, or its educational equivalent. The educational equivalent must include at least the standard requirements for Westminster’s M.A.R. degree in the same emphasis (Biblical Studies or Theological Studies) that is to be pursued in the student’s major field in the Th.M. program (Old Testament, New Testament or Church History, Systematic Theology, Apologetics), including evidence of knowledge of the original languages of Scripture.

6. A church reference on a Westminster form from the minister or session of the church of which the applicant is a member, or other satisfactory source, stating the estimate of the writer concerning the applicant’s moral character and general ability.

An applicant who has received the M.Div./M.A.R. degree at Westminster must submit the following to the Office of Admissions by January 15:

1. An application on a form provided by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) including personal statements and spouse statement, if applicable.

2. A non-refundable application fee. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)

3. The letters of recommendation described in numbers 5 and 6 under Credentials.
4. An applicant previously registered at Westminster may use the transcripts provided in his or her previous application, as long as the applicant graduated within the last five years.

5. An applicant previously registered at Westminster must submit new church and academic references. The church reference must be from the minister or session of the church in which the applicant is a member.

   Unless otherwise requested, applications uncompleted by the date stated by the applicant as the date of enrollment in the Seminary will not be retained.

Non-Native English Speakers
The policies pertaining to all non-native English speakers are the same for all degree programs. See page 38.

International Students
The policies pertaining to International students are the same for all degree programs. See page 39.

Notification of Admission
After reviewing the credentials submitted, the Seminary will notify the applicant of the decision about admission.

Advance Deposit
The requirements pertaining to advance deposits are the same as for the Ph.D. program. See page 139.

Registration
Registration is contingent upon receipt of a transcript showing completion of any prerequisite degree. Registration dates are stated in the academic calendar. No student is permitted to register after the first ten days of the semester.

   Students entering the Th.M. program in Old Testament are required to take the Hebrew placement exam when they first register. Likewise, students entering the Th.M. program in New Testament are required to take the Greek placement exam. Students who show deficiencies in the language will be required to remedy the deficiency through further study, as specified by the examiner.

Requirements for the Degree

Fields of Specialization
The Th.M. degree is offered in two fields: Biblical Studies and Theological Studies. Each candidate must select a major area of concentration within his or her chosen field. The following majors are offered: Biblical Studies: Old Testament, New Testament; Theological Studies: Church History, Systematic Theology, Apologetics.

   In each field a faculty committee has supervision of the work of the candidates. This Field Committee will assign each candidate an academic adviser.

Courses
Six courses are required for the Th.M. degree. Each course will meet ordinarily for two consecutive hours on one day of the week. At least three of these courses must be in the candidate’s major area of concentration. The candidate may choose the remaining studies from any of the advanced level courses (Th.M. and Ph.D.), or from approved graduate courses of study in other institutions of higher learning. Normally, the candidate may transfer a maximum of two graduate courses from other institutions of higher learning, only one of which may count towards the three required courses in the candidate’s major area of concentration. A candidate who has completed the M.Div. degree at Westminster may petition the Th.M. Field Committee for permission to transfer a third graduate course from another institution of higher learning. However, each student will be required to take at least two courses in his or her chosen field at Westminster. The candidate’s courses must be approved by his or her adviser as he or she registers for them.

   For any courses at another school, the student should consult his or her adviser, make arrangements for enrollment at the other school, and report to the Westminster Registrar in writing before the beginning of the semester when he or she will enroll at the other school. Failure to conform to these stipulations may result in removal of the student from the program and in the refusal of Westminster to count these courses toward degree requirements. If no Westminster course is taken the semester a student is enrolled elsewhere, the student will not pay a fee to Westminster.
The policies pertaining to Advanced Theological Writing are the same for all degree programs. See page 46.

Each candidate must complete PT 421P Theological Bibliography and Research Methodology. Candidates for advanced degrees (Th.M. and Ph.D.) take this course on a pass/fail basis and without tuition charge.

Credit for work pursued before the completion of requirements for the M.Div. degree shall be limited to two courses (see page 51). No courses credited toward the M.Div. or other degree may be a part of the program for the Th.M. degree.

Under an arrangement with the Jerusalem University College, students, selecting either Old Testament or New Testament as a major, may complete some of their program requirements at JUC. See page 49 for further details.

The candidate is required to maintain a general academic average of 3.00 after the completion of three courses in the Th.M. program. If an average of 3.00 is not maintained, the student will be withdrawn from the Seminary. The average recognizes the thesis as the equivalent of four courses.

Languages
While knowledge of the original languages of Scripture is required of all Th.M. students, special aptitude in Hebrew is requisite for specialization in Old Testament, and in Greek for specialization in New Testament. Moreover, the candidate must demonstrate a working knowledge of French, German, Dutch, or ecclesiastical Latin. If another language is of particular value for the candidate’s studies, the Field Committee, upon request, may approve its substitution. An examination in the language chosen must be sustained prior to the submission of the thesis. If the examination has not been sustained, the candidate cannot submit the thesis to the Registrar.

Thesis
A master’s thesis on an approved subject within the candidate’s major area of concentration is required. Approval of the thesis subject by the academic adviser and/or the Field Committee should be sought as soon as possible in the fall semester. Upon approval of the thesis subject, the Field Committee will appoint a faculty member to share with the academic adviser the responsibility of reading and approving the thesis. While not expected to be a small edition of a doctor’s dissertation, the master’s thesis must reflect a high standard of scholarly research and writing.

The thesis must conform to the format and bibliographic style requirements in “Westminster Thesis and Dissertation Format Guidelines,” available from the Librarian. Two copies of the thesis, with the appropriate fee, must be submitted to the Registrar by April 1 for the following May graduation. (See below for quality of paper required for final corrected copy.)

The faculty committee must approve the thesis by May 1. If approved, some minor corrections may be required. The student must submit the thesis in final form to the Registrar by May 15. The original must be on 20-weight 50 percent or 100 percent cotton content paper, and the copy must be a clear photocopy. No holes should be punched in the pages, and the thesis should be submitted flat in a box that is well protected so that the pages do not bend.

Comprehensive Oral Examination
(Biblical Studies Only)
A comprehensive oral examination shall thoroughly cover the candidate’s major area of concentration. It shall be conducted by faculty members who meet as a committee for that purpose, under the direction of the coordinator of the department in which the student is majoring. All faculty members present shall have the opportunity of taking part. To be sustained, this examination must be approved by a majority of the faculty members present. The oral examination must be sustained at least two weeks before the commencement at which the degree is expected to be conferred.

Time Limit
All work for the degree of Th.M. must be completed within ten semesters from the date of matriculation. Students are responsible to report to the Registrar when actions have been taken to meet deadlines in their program. International students must be full-time each semester; see page 40 for the number of semesters allowed to complete the degree program.

The Th.M. degree shall be granted only to persons enrolled at Westminster at the time of the completion of their program of study. The degree may be received in absentia only with the permission of the faculty.
London program

The general regulations governing the Th.M. degree program apply to the London-based program, and this section should be read in association with the other relevant sections of the catalog.

Six courses are required for the Th.M. - Historical Theology degree. These courses are offered at the John Owen Centre for Theological Study (JOCTS) in Finchley, London, U.K., at London Theological Seminary. Five courses are normally offered in each calendar year. The courses normally meet for four or five consecutive days in January, March/April, June/July, August, and September. These courses deal with a range of topics and themes in Reformation and post-Reformation history and theology and are published in advance on the Seminary’s website (www.wts.edu). Details are also available from the Director of JOCTS.

In addition to six courses, students must complete a course equivalent to PT 421P Theological Bibliography and Research Methodology, which is offered at JOCTS each year.

Applicants must submit their completed application form and supporting documents to the Director of JOCTS in London by October 31 for January entrance, January 15 for March or June entrance, and April 30 for August or September entrance. It is anticipated that candidates will complete all the requirements for the degree within five years of being admitted to the program. Requests for extension should be submitted to the chairman of the Field Committee before the fifth anniversary of the candidate joining the program.

Each course normally requires readings to be completed prior to the beginning of the course. The details of these pre-course requirements are available from the Director of JOCTS. Assignments for the course should be submitted to the Director’s office within six weeks of the end of the course.

Candidates are required to maintain a general academic average of 3.00 after the completion of three courses. Each candidate will be informed of his or her GPA after the completion of the third course and advised about his or her continuation in the program. If the candidate’s GPA is below 3.00 after the completion of six modules, the candidate will be withdrawn from the program. All inquiries about a candidate’s academic standing should be addressed to the Registrar at the Philadelphia campus.

For candidates who have completed all the required courses, a continuation fee will be due for each semester following the first year in which no new course work will be taken, until a student has been fully approved to graduate. The fee is due on February 1 or September 1.

Accommodation, if required, will be available (single study bedrooms) during the teaching weeks.

In addition to the normal requirements for submission of the master’s thesis, candidates in the London program should note that members of the Philadelphia faculty will be available in person in London twice each year to consult about the thesis subject and the candidate’s progress towards completion of the thesis. This time generally coincides with the time the Philadelphia faculty member teaches a module.

Theses written double-spaced on good quality A4 paper, with the appropriate margins, are acceptable. Two copies of the thesis should be submitted to the Director’s office by April 1 of the year in which the candidate hopes to graduate, along with the thesis fee.

A graduation service will be arranged in London in September for those graduating from this degree program, although U.S.-based students may choose to graduate at the Philadelphia service in May.
Doctor of Ministry

The Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.) is an advanced, professional degree program designed for those engaged in the full-time practice of ministry. It is the highest professional degree offered by Westminster. It differs from a Ph.D. degree in that its focus is on competence in the practice of ministry rather than on advanced academic research. In this sense, it is better compared to other professional doctorates, such as those awarded in medicine (M.D.) or law (J.D.). This is not intended to compromise the quality or depth of the work required, but rather to communicate the emphasis of the degree program.

Therefore, the purpose of the D.Min. program is to develop reflective practitioners in ministry who will grow not only in ministry comprehension and competence, but also in character. Because it is a doctoral degree program, the student is expected to pursue a high standard of expertise in ministry reflection and practice.

While the D.Min. is built upon the biblical, theological, and professional foundations of the M.Div. degree, the student benefits from the integration of the rich practical experiences gained from years of subsequent ministry.

There are three tracks of study in the D.Min. program: Pastoral Ministry, Pastoral Counseling, and Urban Mission. Within the Counseling Track there is also a specialized emphasis on Korean Studies.

Applicants for the D.Min. in Pastoral Counseling or Urban Mission emphases who lack the M.Div. degree may meet the admission requirement if they meet the criteria stated in 4c. under Credentials below.

In the Pastoral Ministry program, a prerequisite for admission is at least three years in full-time pastoral ministry, after receiving an M.Div. or its equivalent. Specific application of theory and methodology must be demonstrated in an extended period of ministry subsequent to entry into the program.

In the Pastoral Counseling program, a prerequisite for admission is at least three years of full-time ministry in which counseling skills are utilized. This program emphasizes skill and conceptualizing enhancement for those persons who view counseling as a significant part of their ministry. Pastoral counseling, as a distinct counseling discipline, is a helping ministry to troubled persons, and it recognizes troubles as arising in the context of concerns about ultimate meaning and value. This ministry is directed toward the restoring, sustaining, guiding, and reconciling of such persons by making full use of the resources of the Christian faith. Although pastoral counseling is frequently done by ordained persons, it is not necessarily restricted to pastors; even when conducted by laypersons, counseling characterized by the above definition is pastoral.

In the Urban Mission program, a prerequisite for admission is at least three years of full-time ministry in an urban, pastoral, or missions context. In addition, the candidate at the time of application must be serving full-time in a gospel ministry or service and planning to continue that service during his or her D.Min. studies. All entering students will be required to attend a two-week orientation to the program in June.

Provisional Admission to the Program

Credentials

An applicant must ordinarily present the following credentials to the Office of Admissions (see “General Requirements for Admission to Programs” on pages 37-40):

1. An application on a form provided by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) including personal statements and a spouse statement, if applicable, according to the following deadline:
   - June entrance for the Urban Mission Program: March 31
   - August entrance for the Pastoral Ministry and the Pastoral Counseling Programs: March 31

Applicants for the Pastoral Ministry emphasis who begin their study at times other than those specified above must have their application materials in the Admissions Office at least two full months prior to their beginning date.

2. A non-refundable application fee. Late application may be approved by special action of the appropriate department chairperson if there are extenuating circumstances. A late fee is added for applications received after the deadlines indicated above. Applicants are encouraged to note that the entrance examinations may cause delay. See page 139 for fee information. International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.

3. A brief resume of the applicant’s experience in ministry, including service as a student and/or as an ordained minister.

4. The following transcripts:
   a. A full official transcript of all college work, including an attestation of the attainment of a baccalaureate degree. The college transcript should indicate that the college program was devoted largely to studies in the liberal arts.
   b. For applicants who have earned the M.Div. degree, a full official transcript of the applicant’s theological program, including an attestation of the attainment of the M.Div. degree and evidence of knowledge of the original languages of Scripture. Applicants lacking evidence of knowledge of Greek and/or Hebrew may be admitted, but in order to graduate, these candidates must satisfy one of the following alternatives for each language in which they are deficient:
      (1) Receive a waiver for study of the language(s) in which the candidate is deficient. This waiver would be:
         (a) Based on genuine hardship (such as ministry in a remote area of the world) and significant promise of excellence in D.Min. work (as evidenced by a record of ministry achievement and academic excellence), and
         (b) Approved by the Doctor of Ministry Field Committee.
      (2) Sustain an additional qualifying exam in the necessary language(s). This exam will be devised by the coordinator of each department.
         (a) The Hebrew test will be based on the Joseph narrative (Genesis 37, 39-47). Students will be asked to translate and parse verb forms in selected verses, as well as to answer other general questions about syntax. Students will find it convenient to prepare for the exam by working through a study guide/syllabus by Rabbi Isaac Jerusalmi, The Joseph Story (Cincinnati: Hebrew Union College, 1973), which goes verse by verse through the chapters, giving vocabulary, parsing, and grammatical help.
         (b) The Greek exam and texts for preparation will be determined by the New Testament department coordinator.
      (3) Complete at a seminary or university a number of credit hours of language study in the language(s) in which the candidate is deficient. The institution and the number of hours must be approved by the coordinator of the Doctor of Ministry Field Committee.
   c. For applicants to the D.Min. in Pastoral Counseling or Urban Mission emphases who lack the M.Div. degree, a full transcript of their theological program, including an attestation of:
      (1) the attainment of a Westminster M.A.R. degree with a Counseling emphasis or Urban Mission emphasis, respectively, or its academic equivalent, and
      (2) the successful completion of sufficient, additional seminary-level study to give them a total of 92 semester hours approved by the director of the D.Min. area in which the applicant plans to major.
   The M.A.R. degree, or its academic equivalent, and the additional semester hours must include at least the following:
   (1) A total of 92 semester hours of seminary-level work distributed among biblical studies (minimum of 28 hours), historical and theological studies (minimum of 18 hours), and practical studies (minimum of 12 hours).
   (2) Evidence of knowledge in the original languages of Scripture. (Applicants who lack evidence of the knowledge of Greek and/or Hebrew should see 4b. above.)

5. An academic reference on a Westminster form from a former teacher in the field of practical theology. Applicants seeking admission for the Pastoral Counseling emphasis must obtain this letter from a teacher in the field of pastoral counseling.

6. A church reference on a Westminster form from the applicant’s supervisor or from the moderator (presiding officer) or clerk (secretary) of the official board under which the applicant is serving or has most recently served. This letter should attest to the applicant’s Christian character and commitment to Christian ministry. In the case of those applying for work in pastoral counseling, the letter should come from the applicant’s supervisor during the three-year period of full-time ministry required for admission. The letter must also attest to the applicant’s skills as a counselor. In the case of those applying for work in Urban Mission, the letter should come from the board under which the applicant expects to serve.

7. Additional reference forms may be required. Candidates for the Urban Mission program will also submit two letters of recommendation from two lay leaders or associates connected with the applicant’s present church or ministry.

8. In addition to Personal Statements A and B as described on the application form, the applicant will provide a statement of his or her understanding of ministry and call to the pastoral ministry or to a ministry in pastoral counseling or urban mission.

9. The Seminary may require the applicant to have a personal meeting with a representative of the Seminary. This interview will follow evaluation of the entrance examination.

Unless otherwise requested, applications uncompleted by the date stated by the applicant as the date of enrollment in the Seminary will not be retained.

Non-Native English Speakers
The policies pertaining to all non-native English speakers are the same for all degree programs. See page 38. International students whose schedules do not permit them to be on campus for an entire semester must arrange with the Vice President for Academic Affairs alternate means of satisfying the English writing requirement.

International Students
The policies pertaining to international students are the same for all degree programs. Note particularly that international students must be full-time each semester. See page 40.

Registration
Registration is contingent upon receipt of a transcript showing completion of any prerequisite degree. Registration dates are stated in the academic calendar. No student in the D.Min. - Pastoral Ministry or the D.Min. - Pastoral Counseling is permitted to register after the first two days of that module.

Full Admission to the Program
Applicants granted provisional approval on the basis of the above credentials will be required to submit additional materials, including a paper presenting their personal conceptions of ministry, an exegetical paper, and a sermon. These materials must be approved before final admission to the program is granted.

An advance deposit fee must accompany these documents (see page 139). This fee is non-refundable, unless a student is denied full admission. It is applicable to tuition only within one year from the date of admission. International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.

Pastoral Ministry Emphasis
The purpose of the Pastoral Ministry track is twofold. First, it aims to build on the shepherding skills and competencies gained through previous M.Div. studies, while integrating subsequent ministry experience for the purpose of sharpening and deepening those skills. Foundational areas such as pastoral nurture, preaching, leadership, and evangelism will be studied. Students will be encouraged to examine personal strengths and weaknesses, as well as to improve competencies in each of these areas. The challenges presented by the contemporary cultural context of ministry will also be considered. Careful attention will be given to the relationship of biblical theology to ministry practice.

Second, the program strives to enable the student to make a significant contribution to the field of pastoral ministry through the Applied Research Project. The program culminates in the completion of the Applied Research Project through which the student is expected to demonstrate mastery in a particular area of practical theology. Ideally, this work is accomplished in the student’s current ministry context. Identifying a problem, challenge, or question; proposing and applying a ministry model; and evaluating that model are essential ingredients of the project. This work must be set upon a biblical foundation, taking into account both historical precedents and contemporary influences on the area in view.
Degree Programs

Doctor of Ministry

Requirements and Time Limits
To be awarded a D.Min. degree, a student must complete six week-long modules of course work, successfully sustain two examinations, and complete the Applied Research Project.

The total program for the D.Min. degree requires no fewer than three years to complete and can commence in either January or August. The six modules should be completed in the first two years with the examinations completed by the end of the third year. The research project should be submitted no later than December 15 of the fifth year of the program.

NOTE: Students whose programs go into a fourth year will be charged a continuation fee for that year and any additional approved years.

By June 1 of each year, the Doctor of Ministry Office shall inform the Registrar’s Office, the Business Office, and students of the progress and program status of each student.

Course Work
The D.Min. modules are designed to accommodate the schedules of those who are active practitioners in ministry. Therefore, the modules will require no more than six weeks of residence.

Each module normally contains 36 hours of classroom instruction, including the following elements: theoretical issues, skills, and practicum. Students will be required to complete an assignment before attending the module, as well as a post-modular assignment. Post-modular work must be returned to the Doctor of Ministry Office according to the following schedule:

November 15 following August modules
April 15 following January modules

No credit will be given until all assignments are completed successfully. All work will be graded by the course instructor. Students may not enroll in new modules until work in the previous course has been completed. A minimum grade-point average of 3.00 must be maintained for the student to graduate.

Required Modules:
PM 1: Nurture PM 2: Gospel Communication (Preaching)
PM 3: Missions and Evangelism
PM 4: Leadership

Required modules are offered in consecutive weeks at the end of August each year. Modules PM 1 and PM 2 are offered in odd-numbered years (2009, 2011, etc.) and Modules PM 3 and PM 4 are offered in even-numbered years (2008, 2010, etc.). Notification of upcoming modules will be provided well in advance, including course descriptions and pre-module assignments.

Elective modules may be offered during other summer weeks or in January. The schedule of upcoming electives will be distributed well in advance. One elective may be taken through the D.Min. program at another approved institution. This must be endorsed by the student’s adviser and by the Director of the D.Min. Program.

Registration Procedure
Students must pre-register for modules they intend to attend according to the deadlines prescribed on course description sheets. There will be a late fee for all registrations received after the registration deadline.

Course Offerings
The modules offered for the D.Min. program are listed in the Practical Theology course description section, beginning on page 120.

Examinations
Two examinations must be sustained to complete the Pastoral Ministry program:

1. The Reformed Theology Exam is designed to determine the student’s knowledge of the theological position at Westminster and not necessarily his personal commitment to that position.
2. The Pastoral Theology Exam is designed to be a comprehensive evaluation of the student’s knowledge in the field of Pastoral Theology.

These examinations should be sustained any time after the completion of two modules, but before the submission of the Applied Research Project.

The Pastoral Track Manual contains instructions to guide students in preparing for these examinations. The exams must be secured from the Doctor of Ministry Office and completed in accordance with the directives in the Pastoral Track Manual.
Applied Research Project
The Applied Research Project is the culmination of the D.Min. program. It enables the student to dig deeply and develop expertise in a specific area of interest. It is designed to focus on a particular problem within the discipline of Practical Theology and to make a contribution to the student’s understanding in that area. During modules PM 1 and PM 3, the student will be introduced to project design.

The Project Proposal describes the project’s proposed research, ministry model, and timetable. The proposal is developed in consultation with the student’s faculty adviser. Ordinarily, the proposal should be approved within six months after the completion of the final module. More detailed guidelines and elements of the project proposal can be found in the Pastoral Track Manual.

The Applied Research Project must conform to the format and bibliographic style requirements found in the Pastoral Track Manual and the “Westminster Thesis and Dissertation Format Guidelines.” The latter is available from the Librarian. Further guidelines can be secured from the student’s adviser or from the Doctor of Ministry Office.

Three copies of the project, along with the external reader fee, must be submitted to the Registrar no later than December 15 for the following May graduation. The project will be reviewed by the student’s academic adviser, a second reader from within the Westminster faculty, and by an individual unaffiliated with Westminster who is actively engaged in ministry related to that covered by the research project. A project “defense” will be scheduled on campus before March 15. The Practical Theology Department, taking into consideration the recommendation of all readers, will make the final determination on the project and the degree program as a whole. This will be communicated to the student by April 1. If approved, some minor changes may be required. The student must submit three final copies of the project to the Registrar by May 1. NOTE: The project will not be accepted for review unless all examinations have been sustained.

The original manuscript must be on 20-weight 50 percent or 100 percent cotton content paper, and two duplicates must be clear photocopies. No holes should be punched in the pages, and the three copies must be submitted flat in a box that is well protected so that the pages do not bend.

Pastoral Counseling Emphasis
The purpose of this degree program is twofold. First, it aims to equip candidates for a high degree of competence in skill areas associated with pastoral counseling. Competence includes effective functioning not only in the professional areas of relating, assessment, and problem-solving skills, but also in conceptual abilities related to personality, learning, integration, and other theoretical constructs. Underlying these performances must be the foundational abilities to do self-analysis, to discern and relate cultural patterns to ministry, and to bring all practice under the judgment of a biblical-theological philosophy of ministry.

Second, this program aims to enable the candidate to make a contribution to the field of pastoral counseling through a D.Min. project. The project is the student’s actual counseling done in an unexplored, skill-enhancing, or problematic area of counseling ministry. The project must rest upon a biblical base, take into account any previous work done in the particular area of research, define in repeatable steps the course of the project, and evaluate its conformity to biblical principles and effectiveness in reaching its goals.

Requirements and Time Limits
To be awarded the D.Min. degree, a candidate must complete four week-long modules of course work, sustain two qualifying examinations, and complete a D.Min. project. Students are responsible to report to the Registrar when actions have been taken to meet deadlines in their program.

The total program for the D.Min. degree requires no fewer than three calendar years of work and begins in August. The four modules (two are offered each August) and the qualifying examinations should be completed ordinarily in the first two years of the student’s program and the project may be completed in the subsequent year. The project must be submitted no later than December 15 of the fifth year (64 months) after the first module taken by the student.
Since the program is designed for men and women currently engaged in counseling ministries, it is scheduled to permit part-time participation, with residence required only for the four weeks of course work. Part-time participation is most practical when a student’s project design is directly related to his or her current ministry. Individual program designs may include units of work to be completed at other institutions and may require the student to obtain a temporary leave of absence from present job responsibilities.

While enrolled in the program, the student must be engaged actively in a ministry in which counseling skills are utilized. Case studies, growing out of the student’s counseling ministry, will be submitted during the practicum segment of the modules.

Course Work
The format of the course work consists of four modules of five days each. The modules are conducted in consecutive weeks at the end of August each year, modules PC 1 and PC 2 being offered in odd-numbered years (2009, 2011, etc.) and modules PC 3 and PC 4 being offered in even-numbered years (2008, 2010, etc.). Students may begin the program with either set of modules. The first of the two modules (PC 1 and PC 3) will be offered during the week which begins with the next-to-the-last Monday in August, and the second of the two modules (PC 2 and PC 4) will be offered during the week which begins with the last Monday in August. (See the Academic Calendar for exact dates of modules and registration.) Ordinarily a student should complete all the modules in two years. Each of the four modules must be taken as a whole.

NOTE: Students whose programs go into a fourth year will be charged a continuation fee for that year and any additional approved years.

Each module contains 36 hours of classroom instruction roughly divided into three segments: a theoretical issues segment (9 hours); a skills segment (15 hours); and a practicum (12 hours). Prior to the classroom time, students must complete a reading assignment. After leaving campus, they must complete an assignment to receive credit for the module.

Since only four modules are required, and each module must be taken as a whole, no work may be transferred into the program.

No credit will be given until all assignments are completed successfully. All work will be graded by the course instructor. Students may not enroll in new modules until work in the previous course has been completed. A minimum grade-point average of 3.00 must be maintained for the student to graduate.

Any student receiving a failing grade in a D.Min. - Counseling module may discuss the possibility of make-up work with the teacher involved. If this is not permitted, the module must be repeated. If two or more failing grades are received and make-up work is not permitted or is not successfully completed, the student will be withdrawn administratively from the Seminary.

Registration Restriction
No student in the D.Min. - Counseling program is permitted to register for a specific D.Min. module after the first two days of that module.

Qualifying Examinations
Any time after the completion of two modules, but before the submission of the Applied Research Project, the student must make arrangements with the Director of the D.Min. Program to take the qualifying examination in Reformed Theology. This examination is designed to determine a student’s knowledge of the theological position of Westminster and not necessarily his or her personal commitment to that position.

The qualifying examination in Counseling may be scheduled at any time following the completion of all four modules, but must be sustained before the student submits the project.

Applied Research Project
The project will develop some aspect of pastoral counseling ministry which both enhances personal skill and contributes to the church’s understanding in a field of ministry.

During modules PC 1 and PC 3, the student will be introduced to project design and will be expected to develop a project proposal in consultation with his or her academic adviser. The project proposal must be approved within three months after completion of the student’s last module.

The project proposal describes the project the student will complete during the latter portions of the program. Although it will

Involves research and writing, it is not a book written on a subject, but rather a project completed with people. The project is a vital part of the D.Min. program, and the student is advised to be in close contact with his or her academic adviser during the time of its formation, perhaps planning to be on campus for brief periods of time. Approval of the project proposal requires the signatures of the student’s academic adviser, the Director of the D.Min. Program, and the student. Copies of the proposal are retained by the Registrar, the academic adviser, and the student.

Whether students reside near Philadelphia or outside the area, they are encouraged to submit their projects by chapters or sections so that changes can be made before the final copy deadline. Students residing overseas should take into account delays in mail service and should at all times keep a copy of their work.

The project must conform to the format and bibliographic style requirements in “Westminster Thesis and Dissertation Format Guidelines,” available from the Librarian. Three copies of the project, along with the external reader fee, must be submitted to the Registrar no later than December 15 for the following May graduation. See the above section regarding time limits. Further guidelines for the project are available from the student’s adviser and from the Registrar’s Office.

The project will be submitted for review to an individual who is unaffiliated with Westminster but is actively engaged in a ministry related to that covered by the project. Taking into account the evaluation provided by this individual, the Practical Theology department will make a final decision regarding acceptance of the project by April 1 for the May graduation. If approved, some minor corrections may be required.

The student must submit the final project to the Registrar by May 1. The original manuscript must be on 20-weight 50 percent or 100 percent cotton content paper, and the two duplicates must be clear photocopies. No holes should be punched in the pages, and the three copies of the project should be submitted flat in a box which is well protected so that the pages do not bend.

The project will not be accepted for review unless both qualifying examinations have been sustained. The student must be present on campus for a defense of the project before the department of Practical Theology. Successful completion of the program will be determined by the Practical Theology department and will be announced to the student by April 15, but degrees will not be awarded until commencement. The degree may be received in absentia only with the permission of the faculty.

Urban Mission Emphasis

This degree program seeks to develop skills for leadership and disciplined self-analysis in ministry in urban settings in North America and overseas. The student will learn to interact theologically with insights drawn from the behavioral and social sciences for a better understanding of urban cultures and urban ministries. A constant effort will be made to coordinate all the phases of the program with the concrete particular needs arising out of each student’s particular place of ministry.

The total program for the D.Min. - Urban Mission requires no fewer than three years of work, carried out in five phases. Students are responsible to report to the Registrar when actions have been taken to meet deadlines in their program. Work in the program can begin immediately after the admission process and the June orientation are completed. The official beginning date of the program is the date the Registrar receives the student’s first tuition payment. All work must be completed within five years of the beginning date of the student’s program.

NOTE: Students whose programs go into a fourth year will be charged a continuation fee for that year and any additional approved years.

Orientation Phase

It is mandatory that each student be in residence for one week in June during the Orientation Phase. At that time he or she will prepare a personal learning proposal and attend seminars on those subjects related to the particular needs and areas of urban ministry. Once approved, the learning proposal becomes the working basis for all subsequent phases. Periods of personal consultation and fellowship between the student and the missions professors will be scheduled and each student’s personal program will be evaluated and discussed. A student may want to choose up to a year of residency for study and research if such an extended residency best fits the student’s need. No additional charge will be made for such studies.
Field Research Tutorial Phase
Each student must complete the Field Research Tutorial before taking any modules or pursuing the competency exams. The tutorial is a self-study program consisting of guided readings and assignments to assist the student in professional research skills. It will be given to the student during the June residency so students can discuss any questions they have during the orientation time. All sections of the tutorial are to be submitted to the student’s academic adviser at the same time (a time decided upon by the student in consultation with the student’s academic adviser), and the tutorial will be graded. A student must receive a grade of B+ or higher to begin the next phase.

Core Module and Competency Exam Phase
In this phase students must complete four required core modules and four elective competency exams. All modules and competency exams will be graded. In no case will a student be allowed to submit an applied research project report for review before fulfilling the requirements of each of the modules and competency areas with a grade point average of 3.00 or above.

Required Modules:
- PU 1 Mission Strategies/Globalization
- PU 2 Contextual Theology
- PU 3 Community Analysis/Demographics
- PU 4 Mission Anthropology

Required modules are offered in consecutive weeks at the beginning of June each year. Modules PU 1 and PU 3 are offered in even-numbered years (2008, 2010, etc.) and Modules PU 2 and PU 4 are offered in odd-numbered years (2009, 2011, etc.). Notification of upcoming modules will be provided by March 31 each year, including course descriptions and pre-module assignments.

Each module normally contains 36 hours of classroom instruction including the following elements: theoretical issues, skills, practicum, and seminar. Students will be required to complete an assignment before attending the module, as well as a post-modular assignment. Post-modular work must be returned to the Director of the Urban Mission Program by August 31.

Elective Competency Exams
The student must demonstrate competency by successfully passing four competency exams. These exams should be chosen from the following list of seven. The selection of exams must be approved by the D.Min. Urban faculty during the Orientation Phase.
- Theology of Community Development
- Church Growth/Church Planting
- Church and Ministry Leadership Development
- Encountering World Religions/Elenctics
- Theological Education in a Global Setting
- Theology of Urban Mission
- Ecclesiology and Culture

Competency exams will be completed while the student is in the field. The Seminary will distribute materials in the designated areas of study during the Orientation Phase in order to provide students the opportunity to discuss questions.

Requirements for completion of each competency exam will be established as part of the student’s learning proposal and will, insofar as possible, be related to the student’s applied research project.

The Director of the Urban Mission Program will provide to the Registrar the student’s study plan for completion of all degree requirements, including the time frame for completion of the various phases (not to exceed five years from the beginning date).

Project Writing Phase
The Applied Research Project phase is done in the field. It is the actual carrying out of the agreed upon project and the writing up of that project, including all sections covered in the areas of competency. The project must conform to the format and bibliographic style requirements in “Westminster Thesis and Dissertation Format Guidelines,” available from the Librarian and included in the Doctor of Ministry in Urban Mission Program Handbook. Three copies of the project, along with the external reader fee, must be submitted to the Registrar no later than December 15 for the following May graduation. Further guidelines for the project are available from the student’s adviser and from the Registrar’s Office.
A fourth copy of the project should be submitted for evaluation to an external reader who is an individual approved by the student’s academic adviser and unaffiliated with Westminster, but is actively engaged in a ministry related to that covered by the project. The project should be submitted to this person no later than December 15 for the following May graduation. The external reader should submit an evaluation of the project to the Registrar no later than January 15. Guidelines for this evaluation are available from the Registrar.

Project Defense Phase

An oral defense of the project report will be scheduled with the student for January or February of the expected year of graduation. At this time the Practical Theology department will ask questions, make recommendations, and make a final decision regarding acceptance of the project. The external reader’s evaluation will also be taken into consideration at this defense. The defense may be done either in person on campus or, because of distance from campus, by conference call (at the student’s expense). The student and the Registrar will be notified at the time of defense whether or not the project is acceptable. Changes may be made and the project reassessed up to April 1 for May graduation.

The student must submit final copies with all recommended changes included to the Registrar by May 1. The original manuscript must be on 20-weight 50 percent or 100 percent cotton content paper, and the two duplicates must be clear photocopies. No holes should be punched in the pages, and the three copies of the project report should be submitted flat in a box that is well protected so that the pages do not bend.

Degrees will be awarded at the Seminary commencement in the spring. The degree may be received in absentia only with the permission of the faculty.

Time Limit

After five years in the program, the student should have completed all requirements. Ordinarily study extensions are not granted beyond the five-year limit.
Degree Programs

Doctor of Philosophy

A student who holds a baccalaureate degree and a first theological degree from approved institutions receives the degree of Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) on the completion of the prescribed program of study. A minimum of two years of full-time residence study and a dissertation are required.

To satisfy the biblical language requirement for the Ph.D. programs, the applicant must have the equivalent of the Greek and Hebrew requirements for the M.Div. or M.A.R. programs at Westminster.

The purpose of the program is to develop in a limited number of advanced students of high intellectual ability the capacity for independent inquiry and criticism required for doing original research in a particular area of theological study, teaching in a theological seminary or a college, or providing specialized leadership in the church.

The degree of Ph.D. is offered in two areas: (1) Historical and Theological Studies and (2) Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation. Faculty Field Committees bear general responsibility for the direction of the program, admitting students, supervising the curriculum, setting area examinations, and recommending candidates for the degree.

Admission to the Program

Applicants not previously registered at Westminster must present the following credentials to the Office of Admissions by January 15:

1. An application on a form provided by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) including personal statements and a spouse statement, if applicable.
2. A non-refundable application fee. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)
3. In place of Personal Statement B as described on the application form, the applicant will provide a statement (1) giving a brief history of the applicant’s academic and theological preparation, (2) indicating reasons for wishing to pursue a program of advanced theological study at Westminster, and (3) indicating the area of interest and vocational objective.
4. A full official transcript of all college work, including an attestation of the attainment of a baccalaureate degree, and a full transcript of the applicant’s theological program, including an attestation of the attainment of a first theological degree. A two-year degree (such as the M.A.R. or the Th.M.) is acceptable, but a three-year degree (such as the M.Div.) is preferred. Applicants with a two-year degree should be aware that the Ph.D. preliminary examinations are designed to test whether one has the equivalent of a Westminster M.Div. degree, and therefore they may need to take certain M.Div. courses at Westminster.

Transcripts of advanced programs in the arts or sciences and in theology should also be submitted. The transcript of the theological program shall contain evidence of knowledge of the original languages of Scripture and of sufficient background in the area chosen by the applicant for specialization to do advanced study in that area. Preferably, the college transcript should indicate that the college program was devoted largely to studies in the liberal arts. Only applicants who have maintained an overall academic average of at least B plus (or equivalent) in their college and seminary work will be considered for admission as potential candidates for the degree Doctor of Philosophy.

An applicant previously registered at Westminster may use the transcripts provided in his or her previous application, as long as the applicant graduated within the last five years.

5. The results of the Aptitude Test of the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). This examination is given six times a year at various centers throughout the world by the Educational Testing Service. Applications to take the examination should be sent to The Graduate Record Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey 08540, or (for far western states) Box 27896, Los Angeles, California 90027. The Educational Testing Service will transmit the examination results directly to Westminster. (Westminster’s code number is 2976; this should be noted on materials sent to Educational Testing Service.)

6. Two academic references on Westminster forms from former teachers in subjects closely related to the area chosen by the applicant for specialization. An applicant who has previously received a degree from Westminster need submit only one such reference.
7. A church reference on a Westminster form from the minister or session of the church of which the applicant is a member, or from another source approved by the Director of Admissions, stating the estimate of the writer concerning the applicant’s ability and moral character.

8a. Applicants for the Ph.D. in Systematic Theology, Church History, or Apologetics should submit a paper from their Master’s program in the area of interest in which they plan to study.

8b. Applicants for the Ph.D. in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation should submit a copy of a major exegetical research paper that they have written that shows their skill in biblical interpretation.

An applicant who has received his or her first theological degree at Westminster must submit the following to the Office of Admissions by January 15:

1. An application on a form provided by the Office of Admissions (available online at www.wts.edu) including personal and spouse statements, if applicable.

2. A non-refundable application fee. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)

3. An applicant previously registered at Westminster may use the transcripts provided in his or her previous application, as long as the applicant graduated within the last five years.

4. The GRE, as described in paragraph 5 above.

5. One academic reference as described in paragraph 6 above.

6. A new church reference must be submitted. The church reference must be from the minister or session of the church in which the applicant is currently a member.

7. A paper from the applicant’s Master’s program, as described in paragraphs 8a and 8b above.

Only applicants who have maintained an overall academic average of at least B plus (or equivalent) in their college and seminary work will be considered for admission as potential candidates for the Doctor of Philosophy degree.

Unless otherwise requested, applications uncompleted by the date stated by the applicant as the date of enrollment in the Seminary will not be retained. No application materials will be returned.

Notification of Admission
After reviewing the credentials submitted, the Director of Admissions will notify the applicant of the admission decision by letter on or before March 15. In order to confirm their intention to enroll in the Seminary, applicants who have been notified of their admission are required to submit an advance deposit by April 15 (see page 139). If the applicant is admitted after this date, the deposit is due immediately upon receipt of the admission letter. This deposit is applicable to tuition when the student registers for classes. It is not refundable if the student does not enroll. (International students should see page 39 regarding requirements pertaining to checks.)

Non-Native English Speakers
The policies pertaining to non-native English speakers are the same for all degree programs. See page 38.

International Students
The policies pertaining to international students are the same for all degree programs. See page 39.

Registration
Registration is contingent upon receipt of a transcript showing completion of any prerequisite degree. Registration dates are stated in the Academic Calendar. No student is permitted to register after the first ten days of the semester.

On registration day for doctoral students, the student will be assigned an academic adviser by the Field Committee, who will advise the student regarding the program of study throughout the period of residence. The entire program must achieve an appropriate balance between specialization and breadth, and the student must receive the academic adviser’s approval for courses taken each semester. While at Westminster, Historical and Theological Studies students are required to take two courses at another accredited institution. These courses must be specifically approved by their academic adviser. For Th.M. courses completed at Westminster, credit may be given for up to six courses of the residence requirement, depending on the nature and quality of the work; however, individuals who have actually obtained the Th.M. degree from Westminster may be given credit for up to five courses of the residence requirements. Only courses in which a grade of B or above was received will normally be considered for transfer credit.

For any required external courses at another school, the student should consult his or her academic adviser, make arrangements for enrollment at the other school, and report to the Westminster Registrar in writing before enrolling at the other school. Failure to conform to these stipulations may result in removal of the student from the program and in the refusal of Westminster to count these courses toward degree requirements. If no Westminster course is taken the semester a student is enrolled elsewhere, the student will not pay a continuation fee to Westminster.

Degree Requirements

1. Preliminary examinations in Old Testament (including Biblical Hebrew), New Testament (including New Testament Greek), Church History, Systematic Theology (and Ethics), and Apologetics are set by the particular departments. In each case, the examinations may be oral or written or both, as determined by the department coordinator. These examinations must be sustained within one year after initial registration in the Ph.D. program. (International students on F-1 or J-1 visas should consult the regulations concerning full-time status for international students (page 39) and preparation for preliminary examinations.)

   Sustaining these examinations admits the student to the status of prospective candidacy.

2. The student must demonstrate a reading knowledge of two languages designated by the Field Committee in consultation with the student. (International students on F-1 or J-1 visas should consult the regulations concerning full-time status for international students (page 40) and preparation for language examinations.)

   All Ph.D. students will be urged strongly to enter the program with reading proficiency in one modern language, normally either German or French (with exceptions for another language made if deemed appropriate by the doctoral Field Committee). An examination will be administered in late September each year.

   The first modern language examination must be sustained no later than September of the second academic year. The second modern language examination must be sustained by the following September (the beginning of the third academic year).

   Those who fail, or decline to take, their first examination in September of their second academic year will have until November 15 of that same year to notify the Coordinator of the Field Committee that they have begun learning a language. They will write a letter to the Coordinator informing him specifically of what steps they are taking. A second examination for that language will be administered in May of that same academic year. If the examination is still not sustained, they will be placed on probationary status and given one final attempt at passing the examination by the end of September of the following year.

   If the examination is not sustained by then, the student will be removed from the program.

3. In addition to the course work work indicated for either emphasis, each candidate must complete PT 421P Theological Bibliography and Research Methodology in the first year after the student enrolls. Candidates for advanced degrees (Th.M. and Ph.D.) take this course on a pass-fail basis and without tuition charge.

4. Comprehensive examinations are set by the particular Field Committee and are to be sustained within five years after initial registration in the Ph.D. program for the Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation program, four years for the Historical and Theological Studies program. An oral examination of two hours on the basis of earlier written examinations shall complete the series of comprehensive examinations. The comprehensive exams may only be taken after all other residency requirements are fulfilled. (International students on F-1 or J-1 visas should consult the regulations concerning full-time status for international students (page 40) and the deadline for comprehensive examinations.)

5. The academic adviser shall encourage the student to give thought to the choice of a dissertation topic from the very beginning of his or her residency. Approval of the dissertation proposal can only be granted when the student has successfully completed both written and oral comprehensive examinations. The dissertation proposal must be approved within a year of sustaining comprehensive exams in the Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation program, within a semester of sustaining comprehensive exams in the Historical and Theological Studies program. Sustaining these examinations and approval of the dissertation proposal admits the student to the status of full candidacy. (International students on F-1 or J-1 visas should consult the regulations concerning full-time status for international students (page 40) and the deadline for submitting a dissertation proposal.)

6. The student must submit a dissertation. After approval of the dissertation proposal, the student has three years to write the dissertation. The dissertation is to be submitted by the January 15 deadline that follows this three year period. Upon admission to full candidacy, the Field Committee will appoint a dissertation adviser and one additional member of the Dissertation Committee. In making their plans, students should be aware that faculty will not ordinarily supervise dissertations while on professional advancement leaves. A schedule of faculty leaves can be obtained from the Registrar’s Office. At least one member of a graduate school faculty other than Westminster will be added later as an external reader upon the recommendation of the Dissertation Committee. (International students on F-1 or J-1 visas should consult the regulations concerning full-time status for international students (page 40) and the deadline for submitting dissertations.)

The dissertation must be a contribution to the knowledge of the subject worthy of publication and must show the candidate’s ability to conduct independent research, to deal constructively with theological problems, and to communicate clearly and effectively in written English.

The dissertation must conform to the format and bibliographic style requirements in the “Westminster Thesis and Dissertation Format Guidelines,” available from the Librarian. Three copies of the dissertation, two copies of an abstract of 350 words or less, and the external reader fee must be submitted to the Registrar by January 15 for the following May graduation. (See below for quality of paper required for final corrected copy.)

The dissertation will be submitted for review to an individual who is unaffiliated with Westminster but who is an expert in the field addressed in the dissertation and, in most circumstances, presently teaches in a Ph.D. program. Taking into account the evaluation provided by this individual, the appropriate Field Committee will make a final decision regarding the acceptance of the dissertation by April 1 for May graduation. If approved, some minor corrections may be required.

The student must submit the final dissertation, including the abstract, to the Registrar by May 1. The original must be on 20-weight 50 percent or 100 percent cotton content paper, and the copies must be clear photocopies. No holes are to be punched in the pages, and the dissertation should be submitted flat in a box that is well protected so that the pages do not bend.

The dissertation adviser notifies the Registrar that the copies are complete, correct, and in satisfactory form for microfilming of the dissertation by University Microfilms, Ann Arbor, Michigan, and for publication of the abstract in Dissertation Abstracts International. The publication requirement will not be satisfied by any other form of publication, although microfilming does not preclude later publication by other methods, such as the mandatory publication of the abstract in the Westminster Theological Journal. Forms for University Microfilms and National Science Foundation, previously distributed by the Registrar, must be returned to the Registrar at least ten days before commencement.

Upon approving the dissertation, the Dissertation Committee will set the time for a final examination both on the dissertation and on areas of knowledge cognate with it. This examination shall be conducted by faculty members meeting as a committee for the purpose, and the external reader may be invited to participate. To be sustained, this examination must be approved by a majority of the faculty members present.

Time Limit
Each candidate must indicate continuation in the program by registering at the beginning of each semester. In each semester in which no new course work is taken, candidacy is maintained by payment of a continuation fee. This fee is due September 1 for the fall semester and February 1 for the spring semester. Failure to pay in a given semester will automatically remove the student from the program.

Students wishing to be reinstated to the program must appeal to the Field Committee for reinstatement.

Students are responsible to report to the Registrar when actions have been taken to meet deadlines in their program.
All work for the Ph.D. must be completed within three years after admission to full candidacy. International students must be full-time each semester. (12 semesters are allowed for the completion of the PhD. See page 40.)

The Ph.D. degree shall be granted only to persons enrolled at Westminster at the time of the completion of their program of study. The degree may be received in absentia only with the permission of the faculty.

Regulations Concerning Full-time Status for International Students

For international students to maintain full-time status and complete their work in 12 semesters, the following deadlines are in effect:

Full-time status means a student must be enrolled in three courses per semester. (Note that preparation for preliminary examinations and language examinations are not calculated for the purposes of full-time status.)

Deadlines for various requirements of the program are as follows:

- For requirements regarding the first and second language examinations, see “Degree Requirements,” section 2 (page 88).
- Preliminary exams must be sustained within 3 months of the end of coursework (no later than three months after the end of the first semester of the third year).
- Course work must be completed two and a half years after matriculation.
- Comprehensive exams must be sustained by the end of the second semester following completion of coursework (no later than the end of the fall of the fourth year after matriculation).
- The dissertation proposal must be submitted by end of the semester following comps (no later than the spring of the fourth year after matriculation).
- The dissertation should be completed within two years of sustaining the comprehensive exams (submission of the dissertation by January 15 of the sixth year after matriculation).

Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation

Upon initial registration in September, students entering the Ph.D. program in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation are required to sustain examinations upon initial registration demonstrating competence in Biblical Hebrew and New Testament Greek. Failure to demonstrate competence on either of these examinations will result in remedial language study and evaluation, supervised by the examiner, to be completed during the first semester of enrollment. These language assignments must be completed in the semester in which they are assigned. Should the student not fulfill the requirement, the faculty maintains the right to place the student on academic probation, pending completion of the language requirement.

Students in the area of Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation must also demonstrate competence in Biblical Aramaic, either by taking an examination or by passing OT 761 with a grade of B- or better.

Course Work

A total of fifteen graduate-level courses is required (in addition to PT 421P). This includes the following:

1. The course PT 421P Theological Bibliography and Research Methodology. This course is required (on a pass/fail basis) of all students during the first year after the student enrolls.

2. Five area seminars: NT 941 Hermeneutics in the New Testament Period; NT 981 History of Interpretation; NT 993 Hermeneutical Foundations; OT 903 Critical Methodologies, and OT 783 Biblical Interpretation During Second Temple Period

   NT 941 and NT 981 are offered in the fall semester in alternating years. NT 993 and OT 903 are offered in the spring semester in alternating years. OT 783 is offered in the same semester as NT 993. A full-time student should plan to take each of these five courses the first time it is offered during the student’s time of residence.

3. Two directed reading courses: OT 981, 983 Readings in Old Testament Introduction and Theology, and NT 921, 923 Readings in New Testament Introduction and Theology. At least one of these reading courses must be completed by the end of the second semester of full-time residence. The second must be completed by the end of the third semester of full-time residence.

4. Eight elective courses to be chosen in consultation with the student’s academic adviser. With the permission of the adviser, a student already matriculated at Westminster may take courses at other graduate institutions for elective credit, including courses at Jerusalem University College. Ordinarily students will not be granted transfer credit for courses completed at other institutions prior to enrollment. Study at Westminster more than five years prior to enrollment will also not be counted for credit.

The student is required to maintain a general academic average of 3.00 during the program of residency study, and, in addition, a 3.00 average in the five area seminars. If an average of 3.00 is not maintained, the student will be withdrawn from the Seminary.

Comprehensive Examinations
The written comprehensive examinations in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation will be administered three times a year: the last full week in September, February, and April. The Coordinator of the Field Committee should be notified in writing one month in advance of the student’s intention to take the comprehensive examinations (neither earlier nor later). There may be no more than one day between the two written examinations. The first written examination covers the area seminars; the second written examination covers the student’s area of concentration in the canon. Each written examination will be five hours long.

All students in the Ph.D. - Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation program will be tested, on both the written and oral comprehensive examinations, on the original language of that corpus of material which they have declared as their area of concentration. Students will be expected to translate and parse passages selected at random. It is strongly suggested that students decide early in their course work what their area of specialization will be and begin serious work on mastering that corpus in the original language.

An oral examination of approximately two hours normally will be given two weeks after the written examinations.

Historical and Theological Studies
This is a single degree program, within which are offered the following three specific foci: 1) Church History, 2) Systematic Theology, and 3) Apologetics.

Each person should choose one of these foci at the time of application.

Course Work
For students in all of these foci, twelve doctoral-level courses are required. Normally, ten of these courses must be taken at Westminster and two must be taken at the doctoral level at another accredited university or seminary. Of the ten courses to be taken at Westminster, five must be in the student’s primary focus (the focus within which the dissertation will be written), one must be in each of the other two foci, and three may be electives from either the Ph.D. - Historical and Theological Studies program or the Ph.D. - Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation program. It is expected that students will maintain a balance between classroom/seminar courses and independent/directed reading courses. Up to five of the twelve courses may be directed reading. All courses must be approved by the student’s academic adviser.

The courses that count toward each of the foci are listed below (because of their interdisciplinary nature, many courses count toward more than one focus):

Church History - AP 721, AP 903, CH 723, CH 783, CH 891, CH 963, CH 943, ST 741, ST 773, ST 803, ST 811, ST 821, ST 881, ST 901, ST 911, ST 932, ST 961, ST 972

Apologetics - AP 713, AP 721, AP 733, AP 743, AP 753, AP 763, AP 861, AP 891, AP 903, AP 931, AP 963, NT 931, ST 701, ST 763, ST 773, ST 803, ST 791, ST 901

Systematic Theology - AP 713, AP 743, AP 753, AP 763, AP 861, AP 931, AP 981, CH 883, CH 953, NT 851, NT 883, NT 931, NT 951, NT 961, NT 993, OT 871, ST 701, ST 741, ST 751, ST 763, ST 773, ST 781, ST 791, ST 803, ST 821, ST 851, ST 881, ST 901, ST 911, ST 932, ST 961, ST 972, ST 991

Students who have attained the first theological degree at Westminster may, upon petition to the Ph.D. Committee for Historical and Theological Studies, be granted permission to take up to four of their twelve courses at another accredited, doctoral-level institution. A student who is granted such permission must still take five doctoral courses at Westminster in the chosen primary focus area, one doctoral course in each of the other two areas, and one elective as a directed reading course, or elective course from among the doctoral course offerings in either the Historical and Theological Studies program or the Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation program. While at Westminster, students are required to take two courses at another accredited institution. These courses must be specifically approved by their adviser. External courses will be noted as transfer credit on the student’s records. Only courses in which a grade of B or above was received will normally be considered for transfer credit to the Th.M. or Ph.D. degree program.

All course work must be completed within three years of the student’s initial registration in the Ph.D. program. The residency requirement of two years is an absolute minimum length of time that the student should expect to study on campus in course work. Only students who already have reading knowledge of French and German, who are able to waive the preliminary exams, and who are able to devote full time to their studies actually will be able to complete all the necessary requirements within a two-year period. If students need to complete preliminary studies or work to finance their education, they should plan to spend a longer period of time in residence.

Students who have taken advanced work beyond a first theological degree may be given credit by the Field Committee for up to four courses of the residence requirement, depending on the nature and quality of the work; however, individuals who have actually obtained the Th.M. degree from Westminster may be given credit for up to five courses of the residence requirements. Credit for work pursued before the completion of requirements for the first theological degree shall be limited to two courses. No courses credited toward the first theological or other degree (with the exception of work toward the Th.M. as noted above in this paragraph) may be a part of the program for the Ph.D. degree.

Study completed more than five years prior to registration for the Ph.D. program cannot be credited to the student’s work in this program.

The student is required to maintain a general academic average of 3.0 during the program of residence study. If an average of 3.00 is not maintained, the student will be withdrawn from the Seminary.

Comprehensive Examinations
The written comprehensive examinations test the student’s knowledge of each of the three foci within the program. In the student’s major focus, extensive and in-depth knowledge is expected. The student will be required both to analyze and to evaluate the central documents and ideas within that field, and an ability to contribute creatively to discussion of the fundamental problems in the field must be demonstrated. In each of the other two foci, the student is expected to show a general familiarity with basic issues and trends and to be aware of the contributions of specific individuals. In all three of the foci, the student must reflect on the Seminary’s own heritage and perspective, although no student is ever required to agree with the Seminary’s position on any issue. Detailed descriptions of the requirements for all of the examinations, including recommended reading lists for the examinations, are available to matriculated students from the Historical and Theological Faculty Support Office.

The written comprehensive examinations in Historical and Theological Studies will be administered only three times a year: the last full week of October, the second full week of February, and the first full week of April. A written request should be sent to the Coordinator of the Field Committee one month in advance of the student’s intention to take the comprehensive examinations. (This means that the requests to schedule an examination may come only in the last week of September, the second week of January, and the first week of March.) Once the examinations are scheduled, the student may not change the date or time. The written examinations are on two days, eight hours for the major focus on the first day and six hours for the two minor focus examinations (three hours each) on the second day. There may not be more than one day between the two written examinations. The oral portion of the comprehensive examination will be scheduled as soon as possible after the written comprehensive examinations have been accepted.
Old Testament

It must be apparent to anyone who reads the Gospels carefully that Jesus Christ, in the days of his flesh, looked upon that body of writings which is known as the Old Testament as constituting an organic whole. To him the Scriptures were a harmonious unit which bore a unique message and witness.

– E. J. Young

Nothing is more foundational to Christian ministry than a full-orbed knowledge and embrace of the gospel. The Old Testament department is committed to teaching the first thirty-nine books of the Bible, with all the aspects entailed, as the anticipation of the glorious climactic fulfillment of redemption in Jesus Christ.

To this end, the Old Testament curriculum enables students:

- To acquire a reading knowledge of biblical Hebrew
- To acquire a knowledge of the content of the Old Testament
- To grapple with the challenges of biblical interpretation
- To evaluate the ways in which the Old Testament has been interpreted in the past
- To perceive the unity of the Old and New Testaments and the hermeneutical significance of their unity
- To understand and value the historical context in which God gave his redemptive revelation, how it began in the Old Testament period and then culminated in the glorious and extraordinary climax to that history in Christ and his work in Christ as interpreted in the New Testament
- To identify the major biblical-theological themes of the Old Testament and to recognize their importance for understanding the gospel
- To develop skill in understanding and applying each of the books of the Old Testament
- To learn to communicate the gospel through the Old Testament
- To be encouraged to embrace the gospel in continuing and vital ways through the glory of God’s self-disclosure and to fear the Lord and love him with the whole heart

Course Descriptions

Old Testament

Master’s level

OT 011, 012, 013  Elements of Hebrew a
Purpose:
• To teach students elements of the Hebrew language
• To expose the student to a significant amount of biblical Hebrew through extensive translation of portions of the Hebrew Bible
• To prepare the student for further exegetical work in Old Testament courses
Topics covered include orthography, phonemics, morphology, and syntax. The third semester is devoted to extensive reading and translation of narrative and poetic materials from the Hebrew Bible.
   Fall semester, winter term, spring semester, three hours. The winter term is an intensive course comparable to a full-time academic load. Students must begin course with the fall semester (see “Placement in Greek and Hebrew” on page 52). Auditing not permitted. Staff.

OT 030A, 030B, 031C  Elements of Hebrew aa
This course is identical in content with OT 011, 012, 013 except that the first two terms are offered during the summer and the final is offered during the fall semester. Students should note that the summer terms are intensive and require a full-time commitment (40-60 hours per week). Students with part-time jobs, unusually heavy ministry commitments, or who speak and read English as a second language should confer with the instructor before registration.
   Each term, three hours. Auditing not permitted. Staff.

OT 113  Old Testament Introduction
Purpose:
• To introduce students to the complex hermeneutical, theological, and doctrinal issues surrounding Old Testament interpretation
Topics covered include the history of the Hebrew text; the use of the Old Testament in the Pseudepigrapha, Apocrypha, and New Testament; the major critical methods and postmodern interpretation; and Biblical Theology. Prerequisite, OT 011, or equivalent, completed or in progress.
   Spring semester, three hours. Mr. Enns.

OT 131  Biblical Theology I
Purpose:
• To show how responsible interpretation and application of any biblical text does not begin with the question “How do I apply this passage to my life?” but with “How does this passage connect to the great narrative of redemption which climaxes in the gospel, the story of Christ, and his people?”
Topics covered include the nature of the Bible and its coherence; continuities and discontinuities in various major themes, such as the kingdom of God, definitions of the people of God, the Spirit and the New Covenant; the centrality of the gospel in application. Not available to M.Div. or M.A.R. students.
   Fall semester, three hours. Mr. Green.

OT 141  Old Testament for Ministry
Purpose:
• To expose the student to specific interpretive issues in Old Testament historical and prophetic books
• To demonstrate how Old Testament historical and prophetic books are to be interpreted and applied in light of the gospel
• To engage in close reading and apply to specific books (Joshua and Jeremiah) the principles of biblical-theological interpretation learned in Biblical Theology I and Biblical Theology II
Topics covered include redemptive-historical interpretation and the question of application; critique of various popular methods of application of historical and prophetic literature; the nature of biblical history-writing; the office, function, and theology of the prophet in the Old Testament; the specific theologies and redemptive-historical trajectories of the books of Joshua and Jeremiah; and the use of Old Testament historical and prophetic literature in ministry. Prerequisites, OT 131, and NT 133. Not available to M.Div. or M.A.R. students.
   Fall semester, three hours. Mr. Kelly.

OT 211  Old Testament History and Theology I
Purpose:
• To provide an introduction to the theology of the Pentateuch
Course Descriptions

Old Testament

OT 311  Prophetic Books
Purpose:
• To provide knowledge of the content of this portion of the canon
• To study the role of the Hebrew prophets in Israelite society and the nature of Israelite prophecy
• To give a biblical-theological framework to understand the prophetic books in life and ministry

Topics covered include the structure, content, and theology of the prophetic books and Daniel; the ancient Near Eastern setting of prophecy; the history of interpretation of the prophetic literature; and the role of the prophets in redemptive history. A portion of the course involves seminar discussions with the professor. Prerequisites, OT 013, and NT 123.

Fall semester, three hours. Mr. Kelly.

OT 323  Poetry and Wisdom
Purpose:
• To gain a strong familiarity with the nature of Hebrew poetry
• To explore the theological context of the wisdom books (Job, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes), Psalms, and Song of Songs
• To discuss the theology of OT wisdom vis-à-vis the gospel

Topics covered include the nature and diversity of OT wisdom books; characteristics of Hebrew poetry; exegetical studies of various psalms, Job, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Song of Songs; and wisdom and the NT. Prerequisites, OT 013, and NT 123.

Spring semester, two hours. Mr. Enns.

OT 431  The Book of Psalms
See OT 731 below. Prerequisites, OT 013, or equivalent, and NT 123.

OT 461  Biblical Aramaic
Purpose:
• To gain a competence in reading biblical Aramaic texts

Topics covered include a survey of biblical Aramaic grammar, with an emphasis upon syntax and reading comprehension of the Aramaic portions of the Hebrew Bible. Since exegesis begins with syntax, students will learn how to analyze biblical Aramaic syntax and how to apply that understanding to a correct reading of the text. Prerequisite, OT 013, or equivalent.

Fall semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Lowery.

OT 473  Explorations in Biblical Hebrew Poetry
See OT 773 below. Prerequisites, OT 013, or equivalent, and NT 123.

Spring semester, two hours. Mr. Kelly.

OT 544  The Book of Jeremiah
See OT 844 below. Prerequisites, OT 013.

Winter term, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Longman.
Th.M. and Ph.D. level

OT 703  The Minor Prophets

Purpose:
- To investigate the unique content, form, and theology of each of the twelve Minor Prophets
- To review recent contributions regarding the unity of the Minor Prophets
- To engage in original research on unifying motifs and themes through the Minor Prophets
Topics covered include the contribution of the Minor Prophets to the canon and to redemptive historical hermeneutics, the history of scholarship on the unity of the Minor Prophets, and evaluation of purported redactional activity in the Minor Prophets.

Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Kelly.

OT 731  The Book of Psalms

Purpose:
- To read the Psalms with attention to poetic language, literary forms, and in the context of the thought world of the ancient Near East
- To read the Psalter in the context of Israel’s covenantal relationship with God
- To reflect on the Psalter’s function as Scripture
- To develop a Christian interpretation of the Psalms
Topics covered include the history of interpretation of the Psalms including recent research on the shape and shaping of the Psalter; theological themes in the Psalms; the Psalms and redemptive history; kingship and the psalms; messianic interpretation.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Green.

OT 743  Hebrew Text-Linguistic Seminar

Purpose:
- To introduce Hebrew syntax and macro-linguistic structuring of the Hebrew texts of the Bible (that is, structuring beyond the level of the clause)

Topics covered include the study of the relationship between formal and functional linguistic approaches. While extensive use of computerized databases and electronic tools will be part of the course, only general familiarity with the computer is needful. Prior experience with the databases and programs is not required. The necessary computing facilities are available on campus. This seminar is sponsored in cooperation with the J. Alan Groves Center for Advanced Biblical Research.

Fall and spring semesters; the fall semester is a prerequisite for the spring semester. Staff.

OT 751, 753  Introduction to Ugaritic

Purpose:
- To obtain basic reading competence in Ugaritic
  - To compare Ugaritic to Hebrew and other Semitic languages to better understand Hebrew as a West Semitic language
  - To enter the thought world of an ancient Near Eastern culture
  - To show how the study of Ugaritic enriches Old Testament interpretation
Topics covered include the place of Ugaritic among Semitic languages; introduction to Ugaritic grammar and syntax; translation of selections from Ugaritic mythological texts. Prerequisite, OT 013, or equivalent.

Fall and spring semesters; the fall semester is a prerequisite for the spring semester. Staff.

OT 761  Biblical and Targumic Aramaic

Purpose:
- To gain a competence in reading biblical Aramaic texts
- To be able to use the Targums as an exegetical tool for the Hebrew Bible
Two hours will be devoted to biblical Aramaic grammar, with an emphasis upon syntax, and reading comprehension of the Aramaic portions of the Hebrew Bible. The third hour will introduce the student to the Targums, which represent the exegetical and theological context of first-century Judaism, and stand closer in language, culture, and time to the original biblical text. Prerequisite, OT 013, or equivalent.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Lowery.
OT 773  Explorations in Biblical Hebrew Poetry

Purpose:
- To review recent theories on parallelism and prosody in biblical Hebrew
- To investigate recent advances in biblical Hebrew text-linguistics, and apply text-linguistic theory to biblical Hebrew poetic texts
- To engage in original text-linguistic research in the book of Jeremiah

Topics covered will include the nature of the grammar of Hebrew poetry, formalist and functional text-linguistic theories and their application to narrative and non-narrative genres in the Hebrew Bible, and text-linguistic structure of the book of Jeremiah. A portion of the course will involve seminar discussions led by students.

Spring semester. Mr. Kelly.

OT 783  Biblical Interpretation During the Second Temple Period

Purpose:
- To explore the nature of biblical interpretation in Second Temple texts

Special attention is given to the hermeneutical, theological, and doctrinal implications of the Second Temple data. Student presentations and discussion are integral to the course. This seminar is intended to complement NT 941. Limited enrollment.

Spring semester. Mr. Enns.

OT 812  Post-Exilic History and Literature

Purpose:
- To study the literature used to reconstruct Israel’s history after the exile

Topics covered include Chronicles, Ezra-Nehemiah, Ezra, and the post-exilic prophets. Special attention will be given to the recent challenges presented by the minimalist school of historiography.

OT 821  Genesis 1 – 3

Purpose:
- To engage in a grammatical-historical interpretation of Genesis 1-3 (with particular attention to the ancient Near Eastern background to these chapters and to their literary function as an introduction to the Pentateuch)
- To reflect on the history of Jewish and Christian interpretation of these chapters, from early Jewish to post-reformational

Topics covered include creation in the ancient Near East; Genesis 1-3 as an introduction to the Pentateuch; the image of God; royal imagery in Genesis 1-3; Genesis 3: fall or maturation?; and Adam in early Jewish and Christian interpretation.

Fall semester. Mr. Green.

OT 844  The Book of Jeremiah

Purpose:
- To explore the literary, historical, and biblical-theological shape of the book of Jeremiah

Winter term. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Longman.

OT 852  The Bible in Its Ancient Near Eastern Context

Purpose:
- To explore the Near Eastern background to the Old Testament

Though the approach will be primarily literary, a historical framework will be provided.

Topics covered include: Mesopotamian, Northwest Semitic, and Egyptian literature in translation and its relationship to biblical literature. Extensive discussion will be given to comparative method with the intention of avoiding superficial connections.

Winter term. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Longman.
Course Descriptions

Old Testament

OT 871  Old Testament Theology
Purpose:
- To introduce Old Testament theology and the challenges related to studying the subject
- To apply understanding of Old Testament theology in connecting the Old Testament to teaching and ministry
Topics covered include a study of the history of the discipline of Old Testament theology, an examination of the problems with discussing Old Testament theology, and the current state of the debate. The course will especially explore the topic of biblical theology and consider how an understanding of Old Testament theology ultimately connects to and enriches the understanding of the gospel.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Enns.

OT 883  The Book of Exodus
Purpose:
- To encourage close reading of the Hebrew text of Exodus and interaction with the book’s overall message and theological content
Exegetical studies of selected passages will be the means by which the course approaches the various issues. Student presentations and discussion are integral to the course.

Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Enns.

OT 903  Critical Methodologies
Purpose:
- To explore various methods and approaches of biblical criticism and study
- To learn to be critical about the nature of one’s assumptions concerning the nature of the Bible, its coherence, and its study
Topics covered include the traditional critical methods (source, form, redaction) as well as the more contemporary approaches (e.g., literary, canonical, reader-response, ideological, etc.)

Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Green and Mr. Kelly.

OT 971  The Book of Ecclesiastes
Purpose:
- To encourage close reading of the Hebrew text of Ecclesiastes and interaction with the book’s overall message and theological content
Exegetical studies of selected passages will be the means by which the course approaches the various issues. Special attention will be given to the theology of the book as a whole vis-à-vis Qohelet, and the place of the theology of Ecclesiastes in the Christian canon. Student presentations and discussion are integral to the course.

Fall semester. Mr. Enns.

OT 981, 983  Readings in Old Testament Introduction and Theology
Purpose:
- To introduce the broad spectrum of Old Testament introduction and theology
Topics covered include general introduction (canon, text, historical background, and language); special introduction (background to the individual books); critical methodologies; and Old Testament theology. Required of all Ph.D. candidates in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation and limited to Ph.D. candidates only.

Fall and spring semesters. Students may take only one semester for credit. Staff.

Holy Land Studies
Students may elect to take a course for credit during the Winter Term at the Jerusalem University College in Jerusalem. See page 49 additional information. Course offerings are available in the Registrar’s Office.

(Not given in 2008-2009.)
To accept the New Testament as canonical is, in a word, to acknowledge the twenty-seven writings in the second part of the Holy Bible as possessing divine authority and as constituting, accordingly, an integral part of the divine rule for faith and life... There is implicit in the claim of canonicity, therefore, the judgment that divine inspiration has constituted these writings with a quality that sets them apart from all merely human writings. Those who accept this high view of the New Testament, accordingly, do not shrink from identifying it as the Word of God, the infallible and inerrant rule of faith and life.

– Ned B. Stonehouse

The New Testament is the account of the presence of the kingdom of heaven, and centers in the person of Jesus Christ. This is the cornerstone for all Christian ministry. The New Testament department is committed to teaching the New Testament, with all of the aspects entailed, as the full revelation of the covenant of God’s grace in Jesus Christ.

To this end, the New Testament curriculum enables students:

- To acquire a reading knowledge of New Testament Greek
- To understand and value the historical context in which God accomplished his work in Christ, and through which he gave us the New Testament
- To perceive the unity of the Old and New Testaments and the hermeneutical significance thereof
- To grapple with the challenges of biblical interpretation
- To recognize major biblical-theological themes of the New Testament and their importance for understanding the biblical message
- To evaluate the ways in which the New Testament has been interpreted in the past
- To develop skill in understanding and applying each of the books of the New Testament

New Testament faculty: Professor McCartney, Coordinator; Professor Poythress; Associate Professor Smith; Assistant Professor Greene.

Master’s level

NT 010, 011, 013  New Testament Greek a

Purpose:
- To prepare students for further work in the New Testament by giving them a reading knowledge of Koiné Greek

The course is designed for beginners; no prior knowledge of Greek is assumed. The students will cover the basics of grammar and acquire a core vocabulary. During the last semester students will do recitations from the Greek New Testament and be introduced to the issues of syntax.

The instructional sequence is as follows: summer term, four hours; fall and spring semesters, three hours. Students must begin course with the summer term, (see “Placement in Greek and Hebrew” on page 52). Auditing not permitted. Staff.
New Testament

NT 021, 022, 023  New Testament Greek a
This course is identical in content with NT 010, 011, 013.

The instructional sequence is as follows: fall semester, four hours; winter term, two hours; spring semester, four hours. Students must begin course with the fall semester (see “Placement in Greek and Hebrew” on page 52). Auditing not permitted. Staff.

NT 031, 033  New Testament Greek b
For purpose and content see NT 010, 011, 012, but note that, because previous formal study of at least six semester hours is presupposed, the material will be covered at an accelerated pace.

Fall and spring semesters, three hours each. Students must begin course with the fall semester (see “Placement in Greek and Hebrew” on page 52). Auditing not permitted. Staff.

NT 041  New Testament Greek c
Purpose:

- To ensure that students with a good foundation in Greek are fully prepared for further work in the New Testament

The course emphasizes reading, vocabulary work, and syntactical analysis. It is prescribed for entering students who pass the placement exam (see “Placement in Greek and Hebrew” on page 52) but show by their results in the test that they have need of additional instruction.

Fall semester, two hours. Auditing not permitted. Staff.

NT 111  General Introduction to the New Testament
Purpose:

- To provide students with the historical and literary framework requisite for responsible New Testament interpretation

Topics covered include introductory matters that apply to the New Testament as a whole: historical and linguistic background, inscripturation and canon formation, textual transmission and criticism. The general approach to these issues is historical, but with an underlying concern for the theological dimensions of each.

Prerequisite, NT 010 or equivalent completed or in progress.

Fall semester, three hours. Staff.

NT 123  Biblical Hermeneutics: Old and New Testaments
Purpose:

- To grow in skill in understanding, interpreting, and applying the Bible

Topics covered include prolegomena to biblical interpretation, principles and practice of biblical interpretation, and the question of hermeneutics in the historical-critical tradition. Prerequisites, OT 013 completed or in progress, NT 013 or equivalent completed or in progress, and NT 111.

Spring semester, four hours. Mr. Poythress.

NT 133  Biblical Theology II
For course description, see OT 131 on page 94. Not available to M.Div. or M.A.R. students.

Spring semester, three hours. Staff.

NT 143  New Testament for Ministry
Purpose:

- To examine some of the ways that New Testament writers applied the story of Jesus Christ to various problems confronting the first-century church
- To develop responsible ways of applying the story of Jesus Christ to problems we face today

Topics covered include how the centrality of Jesus in the NT functions in relation to redemptive history, how that history applies to believers today, some major theological themes of the NT Gospels and Epistles, and the task of bridging the historical and cultural gap between the ancient and modern worlds. Not available to M.Div. or M.A.R. students.

Spring semester, three hours. Staff.
NT 211  New Testament Interpretation:
The Gospels
Purpose:
- To develop a framework of understanding for interpreting and applying the canonical Gospels
- To familiarize students with the Gospels’ description of the earthly ministry and teaching of Jesus Christ, and to enable them to understand and apply the theology of the Gospels in ministry
Topics covered include a selective survey and critique of historical-critical investigation of the Gospels, questions of special introduction, an overview of the content and theology of Jesus’ actions and teaching, and an examination of the character and special emphases of each canonical Gospel. Prerequisites, NT 013 or equivalent, OT 013 or equivalent, NT 111 and NT 123.
Fall semester, four hours. Mr. McCartney.

NT 223  New Testament Interpretation:
Acts and the Pauline Epistles
Purpose:
- To deepen understanding of Acts and the letters of Paul
Topics covered include questions of special introduction, and basic themes in the theology of Acts and the letters of Paul. Prerequisites, NT 013 or equivalent, OT 013 or equivalent, NT 111 and NT 123.
Spring semester, four hours. Mr. Gaffin.

General Epistles and Revelation
Purpose:
- To introduce the particular character of Revelation and the General Epistles
- To enable students to understand these books so that they can apply their teaching to their own lives and in their ministry
This course will deal with questions of special introduction, and will include the exegesis of selected passages in order to establish the structure and distinctive themes of these books. Prerequisites, NT 013 or equivalent, NT 111 and NT 123.
Fall semester, two hours. Mr. Poythress and Mr. McCartney.

NT 421  Parables and Miracles of Christ
See NT 721 below. Fall semester, two hours. Mr. Poythress.

NT 433  The Book of Revelation
See NT 733 below. Prerequisite, NT 013, completed or in progress. Spring semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

NT 543  The Epistle of James
See NT 843 below. Prerequisite, NT 123. Spring semester, two hours. Mr. McCartney.

NT 551  Miracles and Miraculous Gifts
See NT 851 below. Prerequisite, NT 223, completed or in progress. Fall semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. McCartney.

NT 563  The First Epistle of Peter
See NT 863 below. Prerequisite, NT 123. Spring semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. McCartney.

Th.M. and Ph.D. level

NT 713  The Olivet Discourse
Purpose:
- To study closely Jesus’ eschatological discourse in relation to the resurrection and ascension, Pentecost, the destruction of Jerusalem, and the consummation
In this course special note will be taken of the different concerns of the Gospel writers evident in the way they present the material.
Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. McCartney.
Course Descriptions

New Testament

NT 721 Parables and Miracles of Christ
Purpose:
- To develop skill in interpreting the parables and miracles within their context in the Gospels
Topics covered include genre, the nature of metaphor, the relations to the crucifixion and resurrection of Christ, and preaching from the Gospels.

NT 733 The Book of Revelation
Purpose:
- To interpret Revelation
Topics covered include historical background of its imagery and the contemporary bearing of its message.
  Spring semester. Mr. Poythress.

NT 843 The Epistle of James
Purpose:
- To examine the exegetical and theological problems in the letter of James
- To enable students to understand the relation between faith and works, suffering, and the believer’s relation to material wealth so that they can address these issues in their personal lives and in their ministry to others
This course will include an exegetical study of the Greek text of the book of James.
  Spring semester. Mr. McCartney.

NT 851 Miracles and Miraculous Gifts
Purpose:
- To understand biblical teaching on miracle and prophecy, in order to evaluate the modern charismatic movement
Topics covered include the theology of miracle and word revelation in the New Testament, with special attention to redemptive-historical interpretation of the book of Acts, and the evaluation of contemporary charismatic phenomena in the light of Scripture.
  Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

NT 863 The First Epistle of Peter
Purpose:
- To examine the exegetical and theological issues in First Peter
Topics covered include an exegetical study of the Greek text of First Peter, its understanding of Christian suffering, and some of that epistle’s other theological and christological features.
  Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. McCartney.

NT 891 Greek Discourse Analysis
Purpose:
- Linguistic analysis of New Testament Greek discourse in order to improve exegesis
Topics covered include the introduction to various linguistic theories of sentence and discourse, elements of tagmemic theory, the relation of grammar to reference and meaning, paragraph and discourse, regularities and stylistic deviations, exegesis of selected New Testament texts. Prerequisite, NT 123.
  Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

NT 921, 923 Readings in New Testament Introduction and Theology
Purpose:
- To instill a general knowledge of the entire field of New Testament study
This is a reading course required of Ph.D. students in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation. Readings cover general introduction (canon, text, history of criticism), special introduction, and biblical theology.
  Fall and spring semesters. Students may only take one semester for credit. Mr. McCartney.

NT 931 Theology of Language and Interpretation
Purpose:
- To build a theology of language in order to draw implications for biblical interpretation
Topics covered include major biblical teachings about God, the Word of God, verbal communication, and human language, with implications for the process of biblical interpretation, interpretive goals, and the appropriate qualifications of interpreters.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

NT 941 Hermeneutics in the New Testament Period

Purpose:
- To examine the apostolic use of the Old Testament in its first century hermeneutical context
- To enable students to discern whether, and in what respects, this apostolic usage may be regarded as determinative for exegesis today

This course will begin by examining the methods of interpreting Scripture used by various Jewish communities during the second temple period, as evidenced in Philo, the Greek versions, pseudepigraphic and apocryphal documents, the Dead Sea Scrolls, and rabbinic literature. The latter part of the course will be a seminar comparing and contrasting these methods with apostolic exegesis. Limited enrollment.

Fall semester. Mr. McCartney and Mr. Enns.

NT 951 Theological Models and Exegesis

Purpose:
- To understand the role of interpretive frameworks, in order to deepen interpretation

Topics covered include the interrelations of systematic theology and exegesis, with special attention to the covenant concept, theological concept formation, and key metaphors of theology; and the bearing of philosophy of science on theological method.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

NT 961 The Structure of Pauline Theology

Purpose:
- To understand relations among major themes in Paul

Topics covered include the organic unity of justification, sanctification, union with Christ, covenant, and eschatology in Pauline theology.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

NT 981 History of Interpretation

Purpose:
- To enable students to learn the history of biblical interpretation through the study of primary documents from the Patristic period to modern times

The course will focus on those biblical interpreters whose work provoked significant developments in hermeneutical theory or practice in the church. The impact of modern New Testament criticism on hermeneutics will be a special interest.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. McCartney.

NT 993 Hermeneutical Foundations

Purpose:
- To evaluate and reform views on foundational issues in hermeneutics

Topics covered include the role of hermeneutics; the nature of meaning; divine authorship; grammatical-historical method; the problem of historical relativity; problems of circularity, incompleteness, probability; and the work of the Holy Spirit in hermeneutics. Area seminar for Ph.D. students specializing in Hermeneutics and Biblical Interpretation; others admitted only by special permission of the instructor.

Spring semester. Mr. Poythress.

Courses listed for other majors which may be counted as major courses for the Th.M. degree in New Testament: OT 761, OT 783, ST 781.
Church History

It has been well said that people make history, but they do not make the history that they choose. All human beings act in particular times, in particular places, and for a variety of different reasons. The aim of the Church History department is to teach students to understand the way in which human action is shaped by historical, social, economic, cultural, and theological concerns; and by so doing to allow the students to understand better their own positions as those who act in context. Though we live in an anti-historical age, the Church History department is committed to helping students realize the liberating importance of having a solid grasp of those historical trajectories which shape, often in hidden ways, the life of the church in the present.

To that end, the Church History curriculum enables students:

- To recognize the ambiguities and complexities of human history
- To examine themselves in the light of the past
- To engage with an epistemologically self-conscious historical methodology
- To see how the church’s testimony to Christ has been preserved and articulated through the ages
- To recognize turning points in the history of the church
- To identify major types and paradigms of Christian vision in societies past and present
- To be well acquainted with the Reformed heritage
- To recognize global patterns in the spread of the gospel through missions
- To cultivate a modesty with regard to their own times and cultures by setting these within the perspective of the great sweep of church history
- To be inspired by what they learn to proclaim God’s grace to today’s world

Church History faculty: Associate Professor Jue, Coordinator; Professors Trueman and Lillback; Mr. Hannah, Mr. McGowan, Mr. Nichols, Mr. Oliver, Mr. Park, Mr. Troxel, Mr. Van Dixhoorn, and Mr. Williams.

Systematic Theology

The task of systematic theology is to set forth in orderly and coherent manner the truth respecting God and his relations to men and the world. This truth is derived from the data of revelation, and revelation comprises all those media by which God makes himself and his will known to us men. All other departments of theological discipline contribute their findings to systematic theology and it brings all the wealth of knowledge derived from these disciplines to bear upon the more inclusive systematization which it undertakes. – John Murray

Systematic theology seeks rightly to divide the Word of truth, particularly the holy Scriptures. It aims at formulations which correctly understand the Scriptures, through proper exegesis, and applies those formulations to the needs of the church and the issues of the day.

To that end, the Systematic Theology curriculum enables students:

- To understand and be able to articulate “the whole counsel of God” in the form of the system of doctrine taught in Scripture
- To grasp the way this system of doctrine derives from sound interpretation that does justice to the unity of Scripture in its historical and authorial diversity
- To understand the history of doctrine, primarily the theological heritage of the Reformed Churches and their confessional documents, especially the Westminster Standards
- To recognize within the theological heritage of the Reformed Churches what is perennial and undoubted and what is not yet settled
- To value the Westminster Standards as a summary of the system of doctrine taught in Scripture and, where appropriate, be prepared ex animo to subscribe to them as such
- To embrace the system of doctrine taught in Scripture in a way that enhances devotion to God and service to the church and the world, and so, in all, “to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge”

Systematic Theology faculty: Professor Oliphint, Coordinator; Professor Gaffin; Associate Professor Tipton; Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Letham, and Mr. Troxel.

Master’s level

ST 101  Introduction to Systematic Theology

Purpose:
- To provide foundations for the study of theology, particularly for deepening understanding of the teaching of Scripture as a whole and in its unity
Topics covered include nature, method, and sources of theology; revelation and the inspiration of Scripture.

Fall semester, two hours. Staff.

ST 113  Doctrine of God

Purpose:
- To grasp that we can know nothing of God except he first revealed himself to us
- To recognize that the doctrine of God (theology proper) seeks to unpack the teaching of Scripture and not directly the problems set by philosophy
- To value those ecumenical creeds of the church which give classic expression to vital elements of the doctrine of God, and whose doctrine is evident in the Westminster Standards
- To embrace the doctrine of God not as a bare set of propositions but as the very personal knowledge of God so essential to worship and service and so characteristic of a Reformed world and life view

Topics covered include revelation, names and attributes of God, and God as Trinity.

Spring semester, two hours. Mr. Oliphint.

ST 131  Survey of Reformed Theology

Purpose:
- To learn the basic doctrines upheld in mainstream Reformed theology
- To grasp the coherency of the system
- To understand the biblical basis for Reformed doctrine
- To appreciate the distinctiveness of Reformed theology
Topics covered include the inspiration and authority of Scripture, covenant theology, creation of man in the image of God, the person and work of Christ, and the application of redemption in Christ. Not available to M.Div. or M.A.R. students.

Fall semester, three hours. Mr. Tipton.

ST 211  Doctrine of Man

Purpose:
- To deepen understanding of biblical anthropology in its redemptive-historical and Reformed context

Topics covered include the theology of creation days; the nature of man, particularly as a psycho-somatic unity created in the image of God; the covenant of creation; the epistemological implications of Reformed anthropology; the fall and its implications; the imputation of Adam’s sin; the intermediate state; the nature of free moral agency; and total depravity and inability. Special attention will be given from an exegetical perspective to the redemptive-historical character and systematic theological implications of Reformed anthropology. Prerequisites, OT 011 completed or in progress, and NT 013, or equivalent.

Fall semester, two hours. Mr. Tipton.

ST 223  Doctrine of Salvation I

Purpose:
- To deepen understanding of the salvation accomplished by the triune God in Christ in both its central focus and comprehensive scope

Topics covered include plan of salvation, covenant of grace, and person and work of Christ. Prerequisites, OT 012, or equivalent, and NT 013, or equivalent.

Spring semester, three hours. Mr. Tipton.

ST 313  Doctrine of Salvation II

Purpose:
- To deepen understanding of the application of the salvation applied by the triune God in Christ in both its central focus and comprehensive scope

Topics covered include the relationship between eschatology and soteriology; the meaning of, and relationship between, historia salutis and ordo salutis; the function of union with Christ in Reformed soteriology; the distinct-yet-inseparable benefits of union with Christ (e.g., justification, sanctification, and adoption); a survey of biblical eschatology; and theology of the sacraments. Special attention will be given from an exegetical perspective to the redemptive-historical character and systematic theological implications of Reformed soteriology and eschatology. Prerequisites, OT 013, or equivalent, and NT 013, or equivalent, completed or in progress.

Spring semester, four hours. Mr. Tipton.

ST 323  Christian Ethics

Purpose:
- To study and reflect on our obligations toward God’s revealed will in the setting of the covenant
- To arrive at certain convictions about key moral issues facing the church today
- To grow in wisdom, the ability to discern good and evil in every situation

Topics covered include the biblical foundation for ethics, an introduction to different types of ethical systems, hermeneutical questions, Christians and the public square, sanctification, the clash of obligations, calling, stewardship, sexual ethics, bioethical issues, race matters, ethics in cyberspace, just war theory, and ecology. Prerequisite, OT 013, or equivalent, and NT 013, or equivalent.

Spring semester, four hours. Mr. Edgar.

ST 463  Topics in the Doctrine of Man

See ST 763 below. Prerequisite, ST 211, completed or in progress. Spring semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

ST 503  The Theology of Karl Barth

See ST 803 below. Spring semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Oliphint and Mr. Tipton.
Course Descriptions

• To provide opportunity for reading and seminar reflection on important theologians prior to the Reformation
Topics covered include representative writings of Irenaeus, Athanasius, Hilary of Poitiers, Augustine, John of Damascus, Anselm, Thomas Aquinas, and others. Seminar presentation is required.
Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Ferguson.

ST 763  Topics in the Doctrine of Man
Purpose:
• To deepen understanding of man, and our theological method, through use of biblical theology and linguistics
Topics covered include the relation of classical theological anthropology to biblical-theological method, including theology of sonship in Paul and John; special attention to the image of God; dichotomy and trichotomy; the covenant with Adam; and the nature of sin.

Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Poythress.

ST 773 Studies in Historical Theology II

Purpose:
- To provide opportunity for reading and seminar reflection on important theologians from the Reformation to the early twentieth century

Topics covered include representative writings of Luther, Calvin, Turretin, Schleiermacher, and Barth. Seminar presentation is required.

Spring semester. Mr. Tipton.

ST 791 Issues in Theology Proper

Purpose:
- To introduce students to current discussions in theology proper
- To develop a response to challenges to a Reformed doctrine of God

Students will be expected to analyze and critique both classical and contemporary essays that look at language about God, God and evil, God and morality, as well as God’s necessity, omnipotence, omniscience, eternity, providence, foreknowledge, and simplicity. Seminar discussions in these and related areas.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Oliphint.

ST 803 The Theology of Karl Barth

Purpose:
- To understand the place of Barth in his western European post-Enlightenment context
- To evaluate the foundations of Barth’s theological approach
- To gain exposure to some of Barth’s theological writings
- To reflect on the critique of Barth offered by Cornelius Van Til

Spring semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Oliphint and Mr. Tipton.

ST 811 Covenant Theology

Purpose:
- To provide a thorough understanding of critical issues in the development of Reformed covenant theology

Topics covered include Trinity and covenant, the pactum salutis, the covenant of works, the covenant of grace, covenant theology and justification, and covenant theology and epistemology. Special attention will be given from an exegetical perspective to the development of Reformed covenant theology.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Tipton.

ST 821 The Theology of B. B. Warfield

Purpose:
- To explore how, though he did not write a systematic theology, Warfield’s wide-ranging contributions to biblical, historical, and systematic theology touch most points in the theological system

Topics covered include both the outlines of his thought and his specific contributions in such areas as Scripture, Christology, and sanctification.

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Ferguson.

ST 851 Theology of the Sacraments

Purpose:
- To study carefully the biblical texts and the history of the theology of the sacraments

Fall semester. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Ferguson.

Courses listed for other majors which may be counted as major courses for the Th.M. degree in Systematic Theology: OT 871, CH 863, CH 883, CH 891, CH 901, CH 943, CH 953, CH 963, NT 851, NT 883, NT 931, NT 951, NT 961, NT 993, AP 861, AP 931, AP 963, AP 981.
Apologetics

Every form of intellectual argument rests, in the last analysis, upon one or the other of two basic presuppositions. The non-Christian’s process of reasoning rests upon the presupposition that man is the final or ultimate reference point in human predication. The Christian’s process of reasoning rests upon the presupposition that God, speaking through Christ by his Spirit in the infallible Word, is the final or ultimate reference point in human predication.

– Cornelius Van Til

Apologetics is a theological discipline that seeks to defend and commend the Christian faith. The apologetic tradition of Westminster attempts to apply Reformed theology to the challenges that confront Christianity and the church. Apologetics is an indispensable preparation for gospel ministry and for evangelism.

To that end, the Apologetics curriculum enables students:

- To understand biblical religion as a world-and-life view, rather than a set of isolated truths
- To develop arguments which address the deepest levels of various worldviews
- To articulate biblical principles for the defense and commendation of the gospel of Jesus Christ in evangelism
- To understand the patterns and cultural trends of our times
- To develop answers to some of the most frequent challenges raised against Christian faith
- To know something of the history of thought
- To be familiar with some of the most articulate apologists throughout history
- To articulate the relationship between faith and reason

Apologetics faculty: Professor Edgar, Coordinator; Professor Oliphint; Mr. Park and Mr. Ward.

AP 101  Introduction to Apologetics

Purpose:

- To introduce students to Christian apologetics
- To learn the art of presuppositional argument
- To learn how to lift up Christ and give reasons for the hope that we have (1 Peter 3:15)
- To develop tools in order to understand the surrounding culture

Topics covered include the biblical basis for apologetics, developing a world and life view, the issue of meaning, presuppositionalism, engaging contemporary culture, and highlights in the history of apologetics. We will give special attention to the problem of meaning, the problem of evil, world religions (including Islam), science and faith, reason and revelation, and aesthetics.

Fall semester, three hours. Mr. Edgar.

AP 213  Principles of Christian Apologetics

Purpose:

- To build on the principles established in AP 101
- To establish the Scriptural warrant for the Christian faith
- To understand the place and importance of evidences in apologetics
- To establish biblical principles necessary for a defense of Christianity

Topics covered include the nature and structure of arguments, an in-depth analysis and critique of some of the traditional proofs for the existence of God, and the necessity of a Reformed doctrine of revelation for apologetics. Prerequisites, AP 101, and NT 013, or equivalent, completed or in progress.

Spring semester, three hours. Mr. Oliphint.

AP 433  Christianity and the Arts

See AP 733 below. Spring semester, two hours. Mr. Edgar.

AP 511  Christianity and Film
Purpose:
• To learn how to “read” a film (in general)
• To explore the role of film in contemporary culture (i.e., how film reflects and shapes culture)
• To develop a Christian framework for looking at film
Topics covered include film and culture; the idea of “story” and representation in film. A key question: What do we learn through film of other human beings, of our own hearts, and even of God himself? Students will watch and journal about one film per week. The weekly film will be watched outside of class time.
Fall semester, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Edgar.

AP 522  Music and Worship in the Changing Church
Purpose:
• To acquaint students with several issues surrounding music and worship in today’s church
• To arrive at certain solutions for the challenges involved
• To look at these issues from the point of view of the pastor, worshipers, and musicians
• To understand the balance between preaching, music, and liturgy
Topics covered include Bible study, the history of music in worship, comparative evaluations of church worship styles, field work in several churches, and discussions of hymns and other worship music.
Winter term, two hours. Mr. Ward.

AP 543  Intercultural Apologetics

PTM 373  Missions and Mercy Ministries
Purpose:
- To acquaint students with biblical material in reference to doing community analysis
- To guide students into ways of discovering the will of God for their communities
- To challenge students to uncover personal and systemic issues in society affecting the lives of people living in the city
- To assist students in utilizing demographic information for the purpose of understanding sociological realities as well as theological implications and missiological applications
- To provide students with field experience in assessing needs for urban ministries
Topics covered include demographics as an applied science, theological and missiological reasons for demographics and mercy ministry, definitions, community analysis, case studies, reasons for mercy/compassion ministry and community development, clarification of issues leading towards community development, liberation theology, and community development.

Spring semester, two hours. Mr. Ortiz and Mrs. Baker.

PTM 383  Theology of Mission
Purpose:
- To have a thorough knowledge of the biblical teaching on the mission of the church
- To examine historical and current issues that have shaped the mission enterprise
- To be able to bring that knowledge to bear on one’s own ministry
Topics covered include a biblical theology of missions, contextualization, and current trends in missions.

Spring semester, two hours. Mr. Leonard.
PTM 441  Leadership and Mentoring in the Local Church

Purpose:
- To provide students with theological and missiological information that will be fleshed out in actual, local church case studies
- To review biblical criteria for leadership and evaluate this content with actual urban and non-urban leadership
- To present mentoring skills to enhance leadership training in local church ministries

Topics covered include the missiological dynamic of leadership development, Pauline ministry in Corinth, what we are looking for in emerging leaders, selection process for emerging leaders, the Antioch process, deacons, elders, preparing leadership in a pluralistic society, and the possibility of suburban churches sending urban workers.

Fall semester, two hours. Mr. Ortiz and Mrs. Baker.

PTM 462  Understanding the Islamic Challenge

Purpose:
- To look at the world of Islam, its beginning, its growth, and the doctrines of its major divisions
- To examine the current movements and stresses in the Muslim community with the challenge they pose to the church
- To suggest ways the church can meet today’s Islamic challenge

Topics covered include the development and demographic profile of various American Islamic communities as well as their international connections; Muslim immigrants; the American born descendants of these immigrants; American converts to Islam; and reasons behind the rapid growth of Islam today among Americans without a Muslim background.

Winter semester, two hours. Mr. Ellis.

PTM 572  The History and Theology of the African American Church

Purpose:
- To gain a better understanding of the African American church

Topics covered include the history, theology, and culture of the African American church.

Winter term, two hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Mr. Ellis.

PTM 652, 653  Cross-Cultural Missions Trip

Purpose:
- To give students experience in working with a team cross-culturally
- To help students determine their calling to cross-cultural ministry
- To increase students’ vision for reaching the world

Topics covered include pre-field orientation, cultural overviews of country to visit, and issues related to team ministry.

Semester varies, two hours. Mr. Leonard.

PTM 671, 673  Urban Mission Seminar

Purpose:
- To guide students in the use of critical analysis when evaluating ministries or strategizing for new ministries
- To provide opportunities for students to learn from the life experiences of other students
- To present challenging situations facing those in ministry for students to evaluate in terms of theology, social sciences, and mission

Topics covered will change every semester so students can take the course more than once. These topics will include ministry models, mission case studies, reconciliation issues, and presentation of books for discussion.

PTM 681, 683  Perspectives on the World Christian Movement

Employing numerous speakers and multimedia presentations, this class will seek to educate and enlist the student to the cause of worldwide evangelism. The class is offered in conjunction with the international educational efforts of the U.S. Center for World Mission.

Fall and spring semesters, three hours. (Not given in 2008-2009.) Staff.
D.Min. Modules

Pastoral Track

Module PM 1 Nurture
Topics such as peer counseling and small group theory, a theology of spiritual experience and growth, and models for pastoral nurture and discipleship will be considered.
(Not given in 2008-2009.)

Module PM 2 Communication
This module may include workshops in teaching skills, preaching skills (such as audience adaptation, application, outlining, persuasion), or topics related to gospel communication theory and principles of learning.
(Not given in 2008-2009.)

Module PM 3 Evangelism and Missions
The theoretical issues segment will cover church growth theory, contextualization, evangelism, social concern, and current trends in global mission.

The skills segment will vary from year to year. Numerous models and strategies of evangelism, church growth, and community outreach will be spotlighted and analyzed.

The practicum will provide instruments for diagnosing church health/growth patterns and for building growth strategies.

Module PM 4 Leadership
Purpose:
- To clarify the biblical calling and job description of a pastor in the light of contemporary cultural, church, and kingdom developments
- To glean principles of spiritual leadership from Nehemiah
- To help students lead their homes, gain and impart vision to their churches, establish workable structures for fulfilling the Great Commission in their churches and communities, train and work with their elders as a team, and set priorities and manage their time

This module is designed so that in class discussion, students can apply these principles in very practical ways to their particular situations. Topics include the dynamics of spiritual renewal, cell church model for pastoring, discipling, evangelizing, and individual philosophy of ministry.

Module PM 51 Pastor as Physician of the Soul
Purpose:
- To revisit a neglected aspect of pastoral care which viewed the pastor as the “physician of the soul,” whose work was called “the cure of the souls”
- To understand the dynamics of conversion experiences and how churches can foster an environment in which sincere inquirers are genuinely welcomed
- To understand the dynamics of spiritual growth, with particular focus on the importance of community in genuine growth
- To study the doctrines of salvation from the perspective of how they actually impact the hearts as well as heads of parishioners

Topics covered will constantly press the issue of experiential use of the doctrines of grace. This will include a “case study” approach to Christian experience.
(Not given in 2008-2009.)

Module PM 52 Preaching the Great Truths of the Faith
Purpose:
- To provide students with a fresh look at doctrinal preaching under the tutelage of some of the finest preachers in the world today

Number of students may be limited.
(Not given in 2008-2009.)
Module PM 54  Biblical Conflict Resolution

Purpose:
- To equip students with the knowledge and skills of a biblical systematic theology of conflict resolution that can be immediately employed in a practical manner in the local church or para-church organization

Biblical conflict resolution is a sub-discipline of biblical counseling, and, therefore, students are expected to work with counseling issues and participate in role-play cases in class.

(Not given in 2008-2009.)

Counseling Track

Module PC 1  Biblical Models of People and Change

This module is divided into the following segments:

Dynamics of Biblical Change

Purpose:
- To equip students to teach a biblical model of counseling in their church
- To build a firsthand understanding of the progressive sanctification process
- To enable students to connect biblical truth to the case study realities and details of lives lived

Topics covered include the nature of idolatry and faith; the relationship between motive and action; the way Christ’s past, present, and future grace intersects with and affects how people live their daily lives; and the interplay of situational factors with a person’s actions and reactions.

Human Personality

Purpose:
- To deepen students’ understanding of biblical doctrine as it applies to the person
- To examine what doctrines are especially important to apply in this generation

Module PC 2  Methods of Biblical Change and Interacting with Psychology

This module is divided into the following segments:

Methods of Biblical Change

Purpose:
- To equip students to teach counseling methods in their church
- To help students develop a functional biblical counseling worldview
- To help students understand the importance of heart change as a methodological goal
- To develop an understanding of the role of Scripture in biblical counseling
- To highlight and practice the critical skills of effectiveness in biblical counseling

Topics covered include how to build a counseling relationship, how to gather and interpret data, how to function as an agent of repentance, and how to guide and assist others as they seek to apply change to daily life.

Theology and Secular Psychology

Purpose:
- To teach students how to understand psychologists’ observations, theories, and practices, and how to engage them critically, humbly, and lovingly
- To reinterpret through a redemptive gaze the things that psychologists see most clearly and care about most deeply
Purpose:
Marriage Counseling

- To understand where biblical counseling fits in our cultural context, both within the evangelical church and within the surrounding mental health system
- Topics covered include the skills of reinterpretation and redemptive interaction; historical overview of the biblical counseling and the evangelical psychotherapy movements; the lay of the land in contemporary counseling; assessment of motivation theories and self-esteem theory; and primary source readings from a half dozen representative psychologists, ranging from high culture to self-help.

(Not given in 2008-2009.)

Module PC 3  Family Counseling, Public Ministry of the Word, and Lay Ministry

This module is divided into the following segments:

Marriage Counseling

Purpose:
- To help students develop a rich, biblical theological view of marriage and relationships that challenges popular goals for marriage/relationship counseling and provides powerful hope and direction
- To provide students with conceptual and methodological tools for marriage counseling that are rooted in a biblical worldview of marriage and that recognize the unique challenges of marriage counseling
- To interact with prevailing secular models of marriage counseling within a biblical worldview
- To begin to develop the ability to offer relational skills within a larger context of heart change
- To consider current marriage problem areas impacting the church

Topics covered include a biblical theological review of marriage and relationships; and an introduction to systems theory, gender differences, communication, conflict, divorce counseling, spouse abuse, and step-families. Counseling videos will be used to help the student gain a sense of the counseling process.

Counseling in the Local Church

Purpose:
- To broaden students’ understanding of counseling to include all relationships
- To build a thoroughly biblical understanding of the local church as a ministering community where everyone plays a part
- To help students find their place of ministry within the context of the local church and to help others do the same
- To see the importance of both public and private ministry of the Word and how they interrelate
- To examine present ministry opportunities

Topics covered include a biblical foundation for private ministry of the Word; the role of community and relationships in the process of sanctification; developing a practical ecclesiology; and developing an eye of ministry opportunities such as conflict resolution, evangelism, and church discipline.

Module PC 4  Counseling Problems

Counseling Problems and Procedures

Purpose:
- To identify the essential features of biblical counseling
- To identify current counseling issues that are apparent in the church
- To appreciate Scripture’s depth as it addresses common problems such as suffering, anger, and anxiety
- To prepare students to move toward people with any type of struggle in a way that is helpful and Christ-centered

Topics covered include abuse, guilt and legalism, fear, anger, bipolar, schizophrenia, anorexia and bulimia, and addictions.

Counseling and Physiology

Purpose:
- To equip with a nuanced and practical biblical anthropology that will help distinguish between spiritual and physical issues in the lives of counselees
• To deepen understanding of a select group of acute and chronic problems having physiological manifestations, particularly those that affect intellect and mood
• To develop biblical strategies for pursuing counselees with such problems
• To sharpen abilities to critique the reigning presuppositions of biological psychiatry that serve to undermine Scripture’s authority in the counseling process

Topics covered include biblical anthropology and its counseling implications on neuropsychology, psychopharmacology, dementia, traumatic brain injury, psychiatry, obsessive-compulsive disorder, panic attacks and hallucinations, attention deficit disorder, addiction, homosexuality, and autism.

Urban Mission Track

Module PU 1  Mission Strategies/Globalization
Purpose:
• To learn what globalization is and how it affects virtually all contexts
• To understand the connection between urbanization and globalization as interlocking forces affecting life circumstances
• To be able to strategize as to how best to reach the people in the student’s ministry context with the transforming power of Christ

Module PU 2  Contextual Theology
Purpose:
• To sketch the history and recent developments revolving around contextualization
• To outline issues involved in contextualization and sample current responses to these issues
• To provide the student with opportunities to test his or her theories by sample attempts at the contextualization of theology
• To critique current attempts at contextual theology in order to highlight strengths and weaknesses and determine challenges to the student’s own growth
(Not given in 2008-2009.)

Module PU 3  Community Analysis/Demographics
Purpose:
• To understand the major factors involved in urbanization in the developing countries and ethnicization of North American cities
• To develop an in-depth knowledge of one particular community, including its place in the various political, economic, educational, and health, etc., systems in which it is a part and the nature of the people living there
• To analyze the demographic information from the standpoint of Christian evangelism and the church, and begin to integrate this information into mission strategy
• To become adept in handling surveys, questionnaires, and field research techniques with a view to using them for urban ministry
• To be able and motivated to interpret demographic realities to fellow Christians so that the churches where the students attend and minister may be moved to action

Module PU 4  Mission Anthropology
Purpose:
• To acquaint students with anthropological concepts, particularly culture and worldview
• To expose students to anthropological methodology, particularly participant observation and ethnographic interviewing
• To challenge students in their understanding of themselves and others as culturally-formed beings
• To teach students the proper method of cross-cultural analysis
• To guide students into learning when to use the etic and when to use the emic perspective in studying culture
(Not given in 2008-2009.)
Financial Information

All charges are due and payable on enrollment day for each respective semester or term, normally immediately preceding the first day of classes. A late fee will be charged in the event that a student fails to make payment at the time designated for that purpose. (See page 139.) Students who are not able to pay tuition and fees may be allowed to enroll if satisfactory arrangements for payment have been made with the Business Office.

Students who defer tuition and fees will be required to sign a promissory note and to abide by the terms and conditions of the note or be subject to the penalties contained therein. Any student with a payment to the Seminary outstanding 15 days after the date the payment is due may be withdrawn from his or her program. No student who has unpaid financial obligations to the Seminary, the Mentored Ministry Office, Library, or Westminster Bookstore, shall be permitted to enroll for a subsequent semester, to have grades recorded by the Registrar, or to receive a diploma.

The spouse of any full-time student may, upon admission, enroll in any program at the M.Div. level or lower (excluding Special Students) and apply for a spouse scholarship. For more information, please see page 147.

Rates and fees are subject to change each academic year.

Refunds
During any academic term, students must notify the Registrar in writing of their request for a leave of absence or of their withdrawal from courses or from the Seminary. They may receive a partial refund on tuition for that term. A refund will not be given if the student’s leave of absence is 60 days or less and is the only leave of absence taken in a twelve-month period.

Pro-Rata Refund Schedule
Students who withdraw or drop courses before 60 percent of a semester or term has elapsed will receive a pro-rata refund of tuition, fees, room, and other charges.
   For example, students who withdraw after 10 percent of a semester has elapsed will receive a 90 percent refund, while students who withdraw after 22 percent of a semester has elapsed will receive a 78 percent refund. There will be no refunds after 60 percent of a course has elapsed.
   After the first day of any semester or term a refund of room rent, less the non-refundable deposit, will be on a prorated basis; room rent will be refunded only if the room is re-rented and there is no other vacancy in the dormitories. Refund will be made only for the period during which the room is re-rented.
   If an individual is suspended from the Seminary, no refund will be given.

Appeals
Students who believe that individual circumstances warrant exceptions from the published policies regarding the charges and refunds may appeal to the Vice President of Finance or the Chief Operating Officer.
Financial Information

Financial Aid

Scholarships

Westminster maintains a policy of holding the expense of theological education to a minimum for the student, and of requesting the student to meet this expense from his or her own resources. Charges for tuition and other fees reflect only a portion of the cost (approximately 50 percent) of providing this education. Nevertheless, in order that students might not be prevented from receiving a theological education for financial reasons, the Seminary endeavors to provide some aid for those whose circumstances require it. Grants are made from general resources of the Seminary and from scholarship funds established by friends of Westminster.

Full-time students who expect to pursue any of the regular degree programs of the Seminary may apply for a Westminster tuition scholarship. Scholarship application forms will be forwarded on request and are available through the Financial Aid Office or online (www.wts.edu). Applications are submitted to the Financial Aid Office.

All scholarships are awarded once a year for a one-year period for both new and returning students (except for entering students in the spring semester as noted below). Students who have been awarded scholarships for a given academic year must reapply for scholarships each successive academic year they are enrolled.

The amount of scholarship awarded is related both to the need of the student and his or her academic standing. In determining a student’s need, items that will not be considered allowable as expenses include: maternity costs; support of relatives other than spouse and children of the applicant; school tuition or other school expenses for spouse or other dependents of the applicant.

Awards for the following academic year will be made no earlier than April 30. Recipients of all scholarships will be required to accept the award in writing (by email or letter) by June 15 or by the date indicated on the award letter and, given the sensitive nature of scholarship availability and funding, they will also be required to abide by an agreement of confidentiality. Before any funds are disbursed to them, scholarship recipients will be required to provide evidence that they are matriculated as students in an appropriate program of study.

Outside scholarships will be advertised via the Financial Aid bulletin board, the Brute Facts student newsletter, email as appropriate, the Texas Campus bulletin board, and/or on the website (www.wts.edu). Prospective students may request information on outside scholarships by contacting the Financial Aid Office.

Residents of the United States/Canadian Citizens (or Permanent Residents)

The deadline to submit a scholarship application is March 31 for students enrolling in the fall semester of the following academic year. Students entering in the spring semester and returning students who did not submit an application by the March 31 deadline may submit an application for a “spring semester only” scholarship by September 30. Awarding of a “spring semester only” scholarship is dependent upon availability of remaining funds.

Unless otherwise noted, applications for scholarships will not be considered at other times.

Since, along with other considerations, Westminster uses the services of the United States Department of Education in making its decisions for financial aid, Westminster scholarship applicants must also submit to the Financial Aid Office a federal “Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA),” available on the website (www.wts.edu) or from the Financial Aid Office. The deadline for submitting the FAFSA is the same as the scholarship application deadline. Notification of scholarships awarded will be announced shortly after April 30 for the following academic year, and shortly after October 31 for spring awards. Awards will be applied to Seminary expenses for the following academic year.

In order to be eligible for a scholarship, a student must be registered as and remain a full-time student in a degree program. A cumulative GPA of 2.5 must be maintained for master-level programs.

M.Div. Ministry Scholarship (U.S. and Canadian)

Full-time M.Div. students who are either 1) under care of a NAPARC presbytery (OPC, PCA, KAPC, RPCNA, ARPC, and RCUS), or 2) an American minority, African American, Hispanic American, or Native American student being developed for church leadership, or 3) a current or former Reformed University Fellowship (RUF) intern, are eligible to have up to 40 percent of their tuition paid by a Westminster scholarship. To be considered, a student must attach a letter to the scholarship application from a presbytery or classis official (NAPARC students) or pastor (American minority students) stating that he has come under care or equivalent (or will by the start of the semester, in which case this letter must be submitted by the start of the semester). RUF interns must attach a letter from an RUF minister documenting the internship. This award is based on student need and availability of funds. Awards for the 2007-2008 academic year ranged between $1,776 and $2,664 per semester.

General Scholarship (U.S. and Canadian)
Full-time students in any program of study are eligible to apply for tuition assistance. Financial need is weighted with academic achievement for this award. In 2007-2008, awards ranged between $500 and $600 per semester.

International Students (other than those from Canada)
Each year tuition scholarships are made available to a limited number of full-time international students who are enrolled in the M.Div., M.A.R. and M.A. programs. These scholarships will be applied toward the cost of tuition and certain fees only; any scholarship funds not used for tuition and allowable fees will be forfeited. All students receiving an international scholarship must certify that they are committed to return to their home country within 60 days of completing work at the Seminary. Failure to do so will result in a repayment plan of all scholarship funds received.

Ideally, total financial support for international students should be provided on an equal basis: living expense support by the sending organization/church and tuition scholarship by Westminster. This arrangement allows for maximum accountability to the sending church or organization and efficient stewardship of both the sending church’s resources and those of the Seminary.

The deadline to submit a scholarship application is February 15 for the following academic year. Applicants will be notified by letter whether or not they have been awarded a scholarship. A cumulative grade point average of 2.5 must be maintained.

In 2007-2008, financial aid awards to international students by Westminster ranged from $5,400 to $14,800. These figures are examples of typical annual award amounts and may change from year to year.

Th.M. and Ph.D. Scholarships
Full or partial tuition scholarships for full-time Th.M. and Ph.D. students are based on faculty ranking, with financial need also considered. The deadline to submit an application is March 31 for U.S. and Canadian students and February 15 for international students.

Special Scholarships
Westminster administers several specially funded scholarships. Guidelines for these funds are usually in the form of an award posting. Students who wish to apply for these scholarships must complete Westminster’s Tuition Scholarship application form, with a deadline of March 31 for U.S. and Canadian students and February 15 for international students.

The following special scholarships have been established by friends of Westminster for the award of financial assistance for tuition. Financial assistance is awarded from both the institutional budget and monies provided by donors based on recommendations from the Scholarship Committee.

The James M. Boice Scholarship was established by Tenth Presbyterian Church (PCA), Philadelphia, to provide tuition and a small living expense stipend for an international student from a nation with which the church has established ministry ties. This award is next available starting in the 2009-2010 academic year. Specific criteria will be posted on the website (www.wts.edu).

The Edmund P. Clowney Scholarship (next available starting 2008-2009) has been established by Christ the King Presbyterian Church (PCA), Houston, to provide tuition and a small stipend toward living expenses for a student from China, Mexico, Germany, a Muslim country, or a country in sub-Saharan Africa, preferably entering the
M.Div. program and committed to returning to his or her home country. Recommendations are made by the Scholarship Committee to the church Missions Committee based on the Westminster Tuition Scholarship application. The award, made by the Missions Committee of the sponsoring church, requires one annual visit to the sponsoring church.

The Leadership Development Scholarship Award is a full tuition scholarship established by Westminster, to provide seminary training for promising African-American or Hispanic-American students who have 1) demonstrated leadership in an African-American or Hispanic-American church, 2) are supportive of the Reformed faith, and 3) who intend to pursue full time pastoral ministry. Academic merit will be a weighted aspect of the award. Three awards are made; one is available starting 2008-2009.

The Walter and Helen Lee Memorial Scholarship Fund allows for the annual presentation of one full or two half-tuition scholarships for a full time student(s) of Chinese descent from Southeast Asia or China, regardless of their country of ministry following graduation. Preference is given to students pursuing an M.Div. degree or higher. This award is made by the Scholarship Committee based on information supplied on the Westminster Tuition Scholarship application.

The Mainland China Scholarship (renewed annually) has been established by Holy Trinity Presbyterian Church (PCA), Tampa, to provide tuition funding for students from China in the M.Div. program of study. This award is made by the Scholarship Committee based on information supplied on the Westminster Tuition Scholarship application. If additional information is required, it will be requested of students as identified by the committee.

Income from the Mephibosheth Endowed Scholarship Fund, established by the late Peter DeKorte of Hawthorne, New Jersey, is used to provide scholarships to students who have physical/sensory disabilities. Mr. DeKorte, a successful businessman who had a disability, established this scholarship fund out of gratitude to God for all he had done for him. He felt that he wanted to share some of the blessings he had received from our loving God. He named this the Mephibosheth Endowed Scholarship Fund since “he too had dined at the King’s table” (2 Samuel 9:13). Students interested in this award should notify the Financial Aid Office.

The Psalm 90 Scholarship was established in memory of Buddy Stride, who was killed in a tragic automobile accident while a Ph.D. student at Westminster. This scholarship fund is for tuition for a scholar from France with a clear commitment to the Reformed faith and who lacks sufficient funds to pay tuition. Students interested in this award should notify the Financial Aid Office.

The Joseph F. Ryan Scholarship Fund (next available starting 2008-2009) has been established to benefit students in the M.Div. program who have demonstrated financial need and who intend to go into gospel ministry. It is a full tuition scholarship. An award posting will be made in the spring preceding the next award year.

The SooYoungRo Scholarship is an annual tuition award made by SooYoungRo Church, Seoul, Korea, for entering full-time first year (or returning but entering a new program) Korean or Korean-American students. Several awards will be given (estimated at $5,000 each), but the final amount of each award will be determined by the church. Applicants must fill out the Westminster Tuition Scholarship application, provide a curriculum vitae or resume, and answer the questionnaire provided by the church (in Korean or English), which will be available each spring in PDF on Westminster’s website (www.wts.edu).

The George D. Sinclair Scholarship is to propagate and defend, in its genuineness, simplicity, and fullness, that system of religious belief and practice which is set forth in the Confession of Faith and Catechisms of the Presbyterian Church of America in the form they possessed in 1936 and as stated in the charter granted to Westminster Theological Seminary on March 31, 1930, under an Act of the Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This fund provides tuition scholarships for M.Div. students preparing for service in the OPC or PCA. This award is need-based and will be awarded by the Scholarship Committee for 40 percent of tuition. The student must be full-time from the point when the scholarship begins, have a GPA of at least 3.0, and maintain that GPA throughout the student’s career. Approximately nine awards will be made annually. Receipt of a Sinclair Scholarship will supersede the M.Div. Ministry Scholarship award. To apply: 1) Fill out the Westminster Tuition Scholarship application (available online at www.wts.edu or via the Financial Aid Office) AND indicate the number of anticipated credit hours for each semester; 2) sign a statement of subscription to the...
Westminster Standards, using the same pledge that is required of voting faculty members of the Seminary, and re-subscribe annually as long as the applicant receives this award (copies of the Westminster Standards are available from the Admissions Office. A Statement of Subscription form is available online or from the Financial Aid Office); 3) Provide evidence of under care status in a PCA or OPC presbytery, generally in the form of a letter from the stated clerk of presbytery.

The George D. Sinclair Scholar Award is a competitive non-need based award made to an applicant for the M.Div. program at Westminster who commits to seek ordination in the Presbyterian Church in America or the Orthodox Presbyterian Church. The initial award is for $10,000 for the first year tuition expenses. Upon successfully coming under care of a PCA or OPC presbytery, the recipient of the award will qualify to apply for a George Sinclair Scholarship, or Westminster’s M.Div. Ministry Scholarship. Requirements to qualify for the award are: 1) application to the M.Div program; 2) College GPA of 3.5 or higher; 3) letter of reference from a PCA or OPC ruling or teaching elder; 4) essay on hopes for ministry in the church as a pastor, teacher, missionary, or evangelist in the PCA or OPC (2 pages, double-spaced); 5) signed statement of subscription to the Westminster Standards, using the same pledge that is required of voting faculty members of the Seminary. (Statement of subscription is available online or from the Financial Aid Office.) Deadline to submit scholarship application is March 31.

The First Weir Scholarship, in memory of Robert H. and Stella B. Weir of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, was established by their son, R. Harold Weir, to provide monies sufficient to cover expenses incidental for attendance at the Seminary by one student for an academic year. Once granted, the Scholarship will be for a term sufficiently long to allow the graduation of the recipient. Preference will be given to an international student from Africa. The amount of the award will be $25,000 to cover tuition and fees, with the balance toward school expenses, including room and board costs.

Westminster may award special Texas Scholarships to students enrolled at the Texas Campus. These scholarships are based on financial need. Eligibility is the same as with students enrolled at the Philadelphia Campus.

The following scholarship funds contribute to the general Westminster Tuition Scholarship fund, which is awarded by the Scholarship Committee:

The Edmund Clowney Memorial Fund, established in 2005 by the family and friends of Dr. Clowney.

The Carrie E. Cruikshank Memorial Fund, in memory of Mrs. Frank Cruikshank of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The William Dixon Gray Scholarship, established by Ruth Anna Gray.

The J. William and Gezina Kingma Scholarship Fund.

The Charles Bell McMullen Scholarship, established by Mrs. Catherine Craig and sons, Samuel and Bryce.

The Lillian W. Peace Scholarship Fund, in memory of Lillian W. Peace of Miami, Florida.

The W. D. Reid Memorial Fund, in memory of the Rev. W. D. Reid of Montreal, Canada, providing annually one hundred dollars to assist a needy student, with preference given to Canadians.

The Margaret M. Stuart Memorial Fund, in memory of Margaret M. Stuart of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The Rev. George Leslie Van Alen Memorial Fund, in memory of the Rev. George Leslie Van Alen of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, for the award of a scholarship to a worthy, mentally industrious, Orthodox Presbyterian student for the ministry.
The Robert L. and Lyda H. Wade Memorial Scholarship Fund, in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wade of Tucson, Arizona.

The Fred and Marian Wheeler Scholarship Fund. Primary consideration will be given to students who come to the Seminary as a result of the ministry of Prison Fellowship, Inc.

Fellowships

Applicants seeking Fellowship Awards for advanced study at Westminster (or other institutions as indicated in some awards) must submit a formal admission application for the program they expect to pursue, in accordance with details for application described elsewhere in this catalog. All awards will be made by April 30.

Letters of application for the Jones, Montgomery, Stonehouse, Weersing, and Young Funds and Fellowships should be received by the Vice President for Academic Affairs by March 31 preceding the academic year for which the award is sought. The application letter should include the program of study, current status, and reason for seeking this award. These awards range between $300 and $1000 and are subject to change.

Recipients of these fellowships will be required to provide evidence that they are matriculated as students in an appropriate program of study before funds will be disbursed to them.

The Edwin L. Jones Graduate Fellowship Fund was established to provide opportunities for students from Westminster to pursue advanced study at Westminster or elsewhere in the United States or abroad.

The James H. Montgomery Scholarship Fund was established for the purpose of awarding scholarships to students in the M.Div. program at Westminster or for advanced study at Westminster for applicants who hold the degree of M.Div. from Westminster, or its academic equivalent from other institutions.

The Ned B. Stonehouse Memorial Fund has been established by the Board of Trustees for the purpose of awarding fellowships for advanced study in the field of New Testament. It is open to students and alumni of Westminster.

The Weersing Scholarship Fund was established by the Rev. Jacob J. Weersing of Ripon, California for the purpose of awarding a scholarship for advanced study. Preference will be given to graduates of Calvin Theological Seminary, Grand Rapids, Michigan, who intend to enter the ministry of the Christian Reformed Church of North America.

The Edward J. Young Memorial Fund has been established by the Board of Trustees for the purpose of awarding fellowships for advanced study or research in the field of Old Testament or other biblical studies at Westminster.

Prizes

Awards for papers judged on a competitive basis are announced annually at commencement. Topics for these papers are communicated to students via Brute Facts and posted on campus bulletin boards. To be considered for a prize (except for the Leslie W. Sloat Prize in Greek Exegesis), four (4) copies of the paper are to be submitted to the Academic Affairs Office by April 15. Each copy should be signed with a pseudonym, and the applicant should attach a sealed envelope containing name and the same pseudonym.

The Greene Prize in Apologetics

A prize given in memory of the Reverend Professor William Brenton Greene, Jr., D.D., of Princeton Theological Seminary, is awarded annually in the amount of $900 to a student in the Master of Arts in Religion or Master of Divinity program who has completed at least one year of seminary study. The prize is awarded for a paper on a subject in the area of Apologetics, a different subject being selected annually by the faculty.

The Thomas E. Welmers Memorial Prize in the Biblical Languages and Exegesis

A prize, given in memory of the Reverend Professor Thomas E. Welmers, D.D., former member of the Board of Trustees of Westminster, is awarded annually in the amount of $500 to a student in the Master of Arts in Religion or Master of Divinity program who has completed at least one year of seminary study. The prize is awarded for a paper on a subject of a grammaticoexegetical nature dealing with a Hebrew, Aramaic, or Greek passage from the Scriptures, as selected annually by the faculty.
The Leslie W. Sloat Prize in Greek Exegesis

A prize, given in memory of the Reverend Leslie W. Sloat, is awarded annually in the amount of $200 for the best exegetical paper submitted for the NT 211 Gospels course.

Spouse Scholarships

The spouse of any full-time, M.Div. student who, upon admission, enrolls in any program at the M.Div. level or lower (excluding Special Level 1 Master) may apply for a spouse scholarship for up to the number of credits for which the M.Div. student is registered in a given semester (Fall/Spring) or term (Winter/Summer). The credits awarded must be applied only to classes necessary for the program in which the spouse is enrolled.

Spouses of full-time students in other programs may also apply for this scholarship, but signed approval from both the Academic Dean and the Director of Admissions is required.

The deadline to submit an application is June 1 for the following academic year and October 31 for “spring semester only” scholarships. However, applications from students whose marriages occur after the deadline but before the start of the term will be considered.

GI Bill Benefits

Westminster participates in the GI Bill Benefits program. Students should refer to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs website (www.gibill.va.gov) for eligibility requirements. In order to receive benefit payments, all eligible students must first contact Westminster’s certifying official in the Financial Aid Office.

Title IV Financial Aid Assistance (Government Loans)

The Seminary is approved to participate in the Federal Stafford Student Loan Program (Federal Stafford Subsidized Loans, Federal Stafford Unsubsidized Loans, and Graduate Plus Loan) and the Canada Student Loans Act. These programs provide federally insured loans to students via private banks and are administered by the various states and provinces. Federal Stafford Subsidized Loans are need-based with a maximum award of $8,500. Students may also be eligible for an additional amount, not to exceed $12,000, under the Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan Program; interest on such a loan is paid by the student. Interest on a subsidized loan is paid by the federal government while the student is registered in school; the student must begin to make principal and interest payments six months after completing his or her program of study or upon leaving school. The Graduate Plus Loan, the interest of which is paid by the student, is credit-based. For further information on this loan, please contact the Financial Aid Office.

“The church needs biblically trained women and men, and the Westminster Spouse Scholarship has enabled us to pursue that training together. We are grateful for the benefit which our shared education is to our marriage and for the impact we pray it will have in Christ’s Kingdom.”

To qualify for a Federal Student Loan, a student must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree program and make satisfactory academic progress (see charts on pages 149 and 151). To receive funds, a student must complete the Online Loan Entrance Counseling found at www.aessuccess.org. Upon graduation, a student must complete the Exit Loan Counseling at www.aessuccess.org.

Loan Period Dates
Loan period dates must be the actual term, semester, or academic year dates which most closely correspond to the dates the student has listed on the application form. Semester dates will be based on class starting dates and will include exam periods. The minimum loan period is a single academic term (summer mini-terms are counted as one term). The loan period may not exceed twelve months. If the loan period begins with summer term, the loan period start date will be the first day of the first course for summer, regardless of whether the student attends that particular course; however, only the actual period of attendance will be used for Cost of Attendance calculations. To apply for a student loan, students should request a loan packet from the Financial Aid Office. It is critical that applications (FAFSA, loan, and the Westminster scholarship application form) be completed as early as possible to ensure processing for timely disbursement.

Loan Disbursement Dates
Unless a loan application is certified on a date past the halfway point of the loan period, there must be multiple disbursements. The second disbursement should occur no sooner than after one-half of the loan period has lapsed, unless the student’s second term within the loan period begins earlier. In that situation the second disbursement date may be up to 30 days before the beginning of the student’s second term period (10 days for EFT and master check disbursements). If the loan application is certified beyond the halfway point of the loan period, a single disbursement may be requested.

Westminster will have an academic year (fall and spring semesters only) of 30 weeks, during which period a full-time student is expected to complete a minimum of 24 credits. If for any reason the academic year is less than 30 weeks and the Seminary can show good cause for the reduction, the Seminary must file for a waiver from the Secretary of Education.

In no case will the academic year be less than 26 weeks in duration.

Academic Year Definition for Purposes of Annual Loan Limits:
- 4-12 weeks or 1-3 months for the summer term:
  - 4 weeks or 1 month each = Sections 1, 2, and 3 (Hebrew)
  - 4 weeks or 1 month = 1 section (Greek)
- 15 weeks or 4 months for the fall semester
- 4 weeks or 1 month for the winter term
- 15 weeks or 4 months for the spring semester

Student Eligibility
In order to maintain eligibility for the Federal Stafford Student Loan Program, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress as follows:

1. Students enrolled in the M.Div., M.A.R., or M.A. programs must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 1.75. Students enrolled in the Th.M. and Ph.D. programs must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.00. Students enrolled in the D.Min. program must pass each module.

2. Students must be enrolled at least half-time as defined in the chart opposite this page and must progress at a satisfactory rate as defined in the chart on the following page.
Exit Loan Counseling at www.aessuccess.org. If a student withdraws without notifying the Registrar’s Office, the last date of recorded class attendance will be used as the withdrawal date.

A student receiving Title IV financial aid who is considering taking a leave of absence (LOA), should first contact the Registrar’s Office and Financial Aid Office for guidance. In addition, the student should be aware of what constitutes an approved Title IV LOA:

- The LOA is limited to 180 days in any 12-month period.
- Upon return, the student must be able to complete coursework begun prior to the LOA. This means that the student must be able to return at the exact point in the program where the student interrupted his or her coursework or training.
- If a student fails to return from a LOA, the begin date of the grace period for repayment of loans is the start date of the LOA.

Return of Title IV Funds

The Financial Aid Office will return loan proceeds for all students receiving Federal Title IV assistance who withdraw, drop, are dismissed, or take a leave of absence from all courses prior to completing 61 percent of a semester. More information can be found in the Student Aid Handbook at www.IFAP.gov or in the Common Manual – subsection 9.5A at www.aessuccess.org. The federal regulations are not related to the Seminary’s charge adjustments, but to the adjustments of funds received through Federal Title IV aid program.

If a student drops a class which results in a change in eligibility, his or her loan funds may be reallocated (unsubsidized vs. subsidized) because of the change in his or her total need.

IMPORTANT: When Federal Title IV financial aid is returned, the student may owe a balance to Westminster.

If a student withdraws after the 60 percent point in the semester or term, no adjustments will be made to his or her financial aid. He or she is considered to have earned 100 percent of the financial aid.

Federal regulations require the Seminary to return unearned aid to the lender in the following order:
1. Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan
2. Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan
3. Graduate Plus Loan

If the student does not meet these standards due to the student having undergone undue hardship because of the death of a relative of the student, injury or illness of the student, or other special circumstances as determined by the Director of Financial Aid, Westminster may waive this requirement.

Changes in Student Eligibility

Students who receive Title IV Federal financial aid and wish to withdraw from all or some of their courses should notify the Registrar’s Office and the Financial Aid Office in writing of the change in enrollment status. A student participating in the Federal Stafford Loan Program who withdraws completely, graduates, or ceases to be enrolled at least half-time (see chart above) must complete the

Student Employment

To aid students in supplementing their financial resources, the Seminary provides limited opportunities for employment on campus. International students should note that a Social Security number, as well as permission to work, is a prerequisite for employment. International students should see the Director of International Students for information regarding permission to work.
Satisfactory Academic Progress

Full-Time Students
In general, the maximum amount of time allowed for full-time students to complete a degree program is 150 percent of the published program length. The numbers along the upper border of the table represent the number of semesters a student has been in the stated program. Underneath are listed the semester hour, courses, modules, and other requirements that must have been completed by that point for the student to be considered as having made satisfactory academic progress.

Part-Time Students
For students who enroll for at least one semester at part-time status, the maximum program length becomes dynamic and is extended according to the number of part-time semesters. For each semester that a student enrolls on a part-time basis, that student’s maximum length is increased by one semester.

Directions to Westminster Theological Seminary

Philadelphia Campus

Westminster is located in Glenside, Pennsylvania, a suburb approximately one mile northwest of the Philadelphia city limits, at the corner of Church Road (Route 73) and Willow Grove Avenue.

From the Pennsylvania Turnpike: (Note: this is a toll road):
1. Exit at the Fort Washington Interchange (#339).
2. Exit right onto Rt. 309 South (immediately after passing under the turnpike overpass).
3. Take the first exit - PA 73/Flourtown (about 1.2 miles).
4. Turn left onto Church Road (PA 73 East) and go about 1.7 miles.
5. After passing through the third traffic light (crossing Willow Grove Avenue) the Seminary entrance will be on your right at the top of the hill.

From the South Via I-95: Take Rt. 476 North to the PA Turnpike (about 20 miles) and proceed East. See directions from PA Turnpike (above).

From Center City Philadelphia or Southern NJ (via the Walt Whitman Bridge): Take 76 West, following signs for Valley Forge. Continue on 76 West past the exit for US Rt. 1. Take the Lincoln Drive Exit (#340A), turn right at the bottom of the off-ramp, and immediately get into the center lane. This will put you in the lane to get onto Lincoln Dr. Follow Lincoln Dr. for 3.4 miles. Cross the intersection for Carpenter Road and the next light will be for Emlen Ave. Turn left onto Emlen Ave. (A stone synagogue will be on your extreme left.) Stay on Emlen Avenue, which changes to Cresheim Valley Road, going through a wooded area, crossing over Germantown Avenue through another wooded area until it dead ends at Stenton Ave. Turn left onto Stenton Ave. At the 2nd light turn right onto Willow Grove Ave., going through the small town of Wyndmoor and crossing over Cheltenham Ave and the Rt. 309 overpass. Once over the overpass, slow down and signal right. The Seminary entrance is the first drive to the right (just after the overpass). If you miss the entrance, turn right at the traffic light onto PA-73/Church Road. Travel a short distance and two additional entrances will be on your right.

From the Philadelphia Airport: Get on I-95 South, travel approx. 5 miles to Rt. 476 North, travel approximately 20 miles to the PA Turnpike (proceed East), and then follow the directions from the PA Turnpike.

By train: Take the R1 Express Line from the airport to the Market East Station. From there take either the R1, R5, or R2 Line to the Glenside Station and then a taxi 1.5 miles to Westminster. (Call Montco Suburban Cab at 215-572-6100.)
